LENTEN SEASON OF 1909

Observed by a Large Part of the Religious World -- Schedule of Services at the Episcopal Church.

"The season of Lent is now upon the religious world. Its observance is not an arbitrary and useless requirement, preserved as a mere custom; but was introduced into the Church in the earliest times because its need was felt, and has been preserved because found useful. It was designed to commemorate the fast of Jesus Christ in the wilderness, and to prepare His followers by abstinence, fasting, prayer, and spiritual communion to profit by His life, death and resurrection, to which it leads. It is a time of spiritual rest and soul-refreshment. It is a spiritual stock taking, a balancing of accounts to see how one stands in the realm of spirit."

Services at the Church of the Advent will be held as follows:

SUNDAY
Holy Communion (3rd Sunday) 8 o'clock a. m.

There is not any better Salve than DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve. We hereby warn the public that we are not responsible for any injurious effects caused from worthless or poisonous imitations of our DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve, the original. It is good for anything when a salve is needed, but it is especially good for piles. Sold by Chase's Drug Store; Bigg's Drug Store.

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted February 18th, 1909, By The Woman's Auxiliary Williamston, North Carolina.

Be it resolved, That whereas God in His divine wisdom has seen best to take unto himself a beloved member of the Church, and formerly enrolled with us, JENNIE MOORE COWPER, we, the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent, while recognizing the fitness of all His works, "for He doeth all things well," feel deeply the loss of our sister and friend.

That our loving sympathy go out to the sorrowing husband and relatives in their sore affliction, and pray that the everlasting arm of the Father who has promised His mercies, may be beneath them now and evermore.

That these resolutions be recorded on the minutes of the Auxiliary and a copy be sent to the husband, and one to THE ENTERPRISE for publication.

Colds contracted at this season of the year are quickly relieved with Bees Laxatives Cough Syrup. Its laxative quality rids the system of the cold. Pleasant to take. Best for children for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Sold by Chase's Drug Store.

Death of C. E. Hardy

Mr. Charles E. Hardy, who had been living with his family on the farm of Mr. L. B. Wynn near Main St., extension, died early Tuesday of paralysis of the brain. He had been suffering for several weeks, and finally succumbed. A wife and several children survive him.

Five Dollars in Gold

THE ENTERPRISE purposes to issue as early as practicable, a sketch of MARTIN COUNTY, PAST AND PRESENT. To stimulate more interest in local history, it will give to the student in any white school in the County, FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD for the best sketch of any event connected with the history of the county.

The sketch must be three and not more than five pages of letter size paper. CONCISENESS, NEATNESS, TRUE STATEMENT OF FACTS, and ORIGINALITY are required in all papers presented. They must be written only on one side of the paper, and be sent to THE ENTERPRISE office at or before 12 o'clock noon on April 1st, 1909. The article receiving the prize will appear in these columns. No paper must be typewritten, but must be in the hand writing of the contestant. Any variation from the rules, will debar contestants.

This is an opportunity every pupil in the County should seize. County pride should be inherent in the breast of every son and daughter of the County, and whatever is best in it should be known of all men.

Revolts At Cold Steel

"Your only hope," said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich. suffering from severe rectal trouble, lies in an operation, "then I used Dr. King's New Life Pill," she writes, "till wholly cured." They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, Headache, 25c. at All Druggists.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Crawford entertained informally on Wednesday evening, it being the twelfth anniversary of their marriage. There was a small party of invited guests present, and an elegantly prepared supper was served in courses. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have received many congratulations from friends. Among the out-of-town guests, was Mrs. James O. Guthrie, of Raleigh.

Williamston Graded School.

HONOR ROLL.

Week ending Feb. 19, 1909. THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES.
Inez Williams, Louallie Walker, Carrie Delle White, Gladys Balance, James Turner, Robert Peel, Lula Anderson.

ROSINA DOWELL, Teacher.

Teachers' Association

The teachers of Martin County held their regular session on February 19th., with Prof. J. D. Everett in the chair. After devotional services by Supt. Peel, the regular order of business was taken up. In the absence of those appointed on Language Work, Misses Brown and Dowell made impromptu talks that were full of interest and practical suggestions. A paper on "English in the 7th. and 8th. Grades" was read by Miss Mizell, after which reports from the Betterment Association were heard by Mrs. Aug. Johnson, the President. Several of the teachers reported funds raised by box parties for libraries or improvement of school buildings.

Mr. W. C. Manning addressed the Association, asking the co-operation of the teachers in his undertaking to write a historical sketch of Martin County.

The program for March was arranged as follows: "Hyde's English," Miss Roberson and Mrs. C. M. Lanier; "Reading," Prof. Rose; Hamilton's "Recitation," Misses Ballard and Thomas, and Messrs. Peel and House.

Most cough cures are constipating, because they contain opiates, and you should be careful to take something that does not tend to constipate. You should take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It not only allays inflammation and irritation of throat and lungs, but it drives out the cold from the system by a free yet gentle action of the bowels. Children like the pleasant taste that is so nearly like maple sugar. Sold by Chase's Drug Store; Bigg's Drug Store.

An Appreciation

Nancy Elizabeth Lovejoy was born in Raleigh, N. C., on April 9th., 1847. She was the daughter of Jefferson Marshal and Virginia Ann Lovejoy. Her father was for forty years principal of the Raleigh Academy--a remarkable record. She was one of a large family of children, all of whom were from their earliest youth taught to love the Church, for which during her life she gave herself so freely.

After her marriage to Mr. W. Pitt Jones, she came to live at the Jones home, near Palmyra, now the home of Mr. Justus Everett. Later they moved to Hamilton, and for the twenty years since that time, she has been thoroughly identified with the life of her community. The very center and heart of her life was her church. Rain or shine morning, noon or night, whenever the church bell rang; or whenever the call came to serve the Master, she was there. It was one of the things of which she was justly proud, that no matter how bad the weather, there was not a Sunday when she was in Hamilton on which the Sunday School was not open. She and Mrs. Darden went hand in hand, and shoulder to shoulder, nursing the sick, relieving the distressed, visiting strangers, doing the work of the Lord, until Mrs. Darden was taken, then Mrs. Jones went forward to carry the burdens of both. She did not confine her ministrations to the town, or to the people of her own communion, but went cheerfully here and there at the call of sickness and distress. Hers was a work to meet the Master's test: "I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger and ye took me in; naked and ye clothed me." And we have the comforting assurance that these words must have been meant for such as she: "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." Among the last words upon her lips were these which are an index to her life:

"A charge to keep I have,
A God to glorify,
A never dying soul to save
And fit it for the sky."
Hers was "the uplifted eye and the life laid down." May she rest in peace, and may the example of her life be like a guiding star to others to follow in her steps.

Soon after Gen. Kilpatrick's U. S. cavalry entered Raleigh, at its surrender, as his staff was parading up Fayetteville street, Lieutenant Walsh, of the First Texas Cavalry, while on his horse near the head of Fayetteville street, shot at Kilpatrick and staff, who were near the Yarbrough House, riding towards the capitol. Immediately Kilpatrick's cavalry chased Lieutenant Walsh up Hillsboro street, who, when nearing the railroad bridge crossing (if the writer mistakes not) the horse of the Confederate cavalry officer stumbled and Lieutenant Walsh was captured and led to Lovejoy's Grove (Governor's Mansion site) and by order of the federal commander, was made to ride his horse under a limb of an oak, when a rope was placed around the lieutenant's neck and the horse was driven from under the tree and the Confederate was left to strangle to death. He now lies buried in the Confederate cemetery and his grave receives the greatest attention of any dead there memorial day.

It was Mrs. Nannie Lovejoy Jones who pleaded for the life of Lieutenant Walsh.--Raleigh Times.

G. F. C. Alumnae

No accurate record of the Alumnae and students of Greensboro Female College having been kept during the sixty-three past years of its history, the Alumnae Association is now making an effort to gather as much material as possible for a permanent record of each student. In order to accomplish this, the co-operation of every former student and friend of the College is earnestly solicited. We request the readers of this paper who may be in possession of any information which would be of value in making this record to kindly send us such information as early as possible.

We would like for every former student to write us, giving her maiden name and present name and address; also what profession or work she has been or is now engaged in, and any other facts of interest. Why not write at once before you forget it, to Mrs. W. M. Curtis, Recorder Alumnae Association, Greensboro Female College, Greensboro, N. C.

Pleasant Debate

"Resolved, That Woman Suffrage should be added to the Constitution of the United States," was the subject of a very heated debate on Friday last between the girls of the Carolina Literary Society and the boys of the McIver Debating Society. Each side had been earnestly preparing for the contest, and every point was warmly fought, but when left to the judges, Rev. Mr. Gordon, W. C. Manning and Miss Annie Mizell, the decision was unanimously in favor of the girls. The boys accepted their defeat gracefully, and the girls seemed satisfied that they won the right for the women, if they cannot appropriate it.

A Much Needed Machine

The exhibition of the International Feed Grinder on February 19th, was held at the store rooms of J. Paul Simpson, Agent. Owing to the steady down pour of rain, spectators could not come in from the country to see the working of the machine. The grinding of corn on the cob will prove a great saving to the farmer, as it has been demonstrated that much nutrition is wasted when the cobs are thrown on the waste pile. It would be both profitable and helpful to have one machine, at least, in each neighborhood. Labor saving machinery is the hope of the Southern farmer.

BRINGS TO MIND RE- CONSTRUCTION DAYS

Hanging of Lieut. Walsh, of 1st Texas Cavalry, For Shooting at Gen. Kilpatrick and Staff.

A dispatch, dated February 17th, was received here from Hamilton, N. C., which said:

"Mrs. Jones passed away on the night of February 14th, being sick one week. She had been on a decline for about one year. She had a violent case of gastritis. She was noted for her kindness to the sick in all walks of life, her love and fondness for children, her great devotion to her church. She leaves three boys, one sister, Mrs. Hodgins, of Portsmouth, who was at her bedside; two brothers, Jeff and Guy Lovejoy, of Beaumont, Texas, and Birmingham, Ala., who were unable to come."

It is with unfeigned sorrow the old citizens of this city read the above news of the death of Mrs. Nannie Lovejoy Jones. She was the daughter of Mr. Jeff Lovejoy, whose military academy stood on the site where the present executive mansion is now located. Many old citizens of Raleigh now living remember Jeff's familiar words: "I'll jerk that miserable jacket off you," as he was wont to say when he dealt with unruly boys.

Soon after Gen. Kilpatrick's U. S. cavalry entered Raleigh, at its surrender, as his staff was parading up Fayetteville street, Lieutenant Walsh, of the First Texas Cavalry, while on his horse near the head of Fayetteville street, shot at Kilpatrick and staff, who were near the Yarbrough House, riding towards the capitol.
