MR. WILLIAM BRYANT LILLEY

After Years of Suffering Died Sunday Night--A Highly Respected Citizen of Martin County--Buried With Masonic Honors Tuesday.

The death of William Bryant Lilley at his home near Jamesville, on Sunday night at 11 o'clock, was not unexpected. For three years he had been an invalid and had suffered intensely with a complication of diseases, the immediate cause of his death being organic heart trouble.

In early life he was married to Miss Martha Manning, aunt of W. C. Manning, who died quite a number of years ago. Three children born of this union, are living, among whom is Mrs. Samuel Brown, of Williamston. He afterwards married Miss Lenora Jones, and seven children were given them, all of whom are living.

Mr. Lilley had lived an active, useful life--working faithfully with his hands and had secured a worthy rank among the people of the county. For twenty-one years he worked for the Dennis Simmons Lumber Company, and was regarded as one of its most trusted employees. He was senior member of the firm of Lilley & Martin, at Jamesville. For years he had been a member of the Missionary Baptist Church and a Mason.

Tuesday at 2 o'clock, the funeral services were conducted by the members of Skewarkey Lodge, under the direction of W. C. Manning. A large crowd of friends and acquaintances were present to witness the sad rites and to give expression to the sympathy felt for the bereaved family. Interment was made in the cemetery at the Lilley home.

Death of an Aged Woman

Mrs. Bettie Simpson died at her home near Jamesville on Monday night. She had lived to a goodly age and reared a family of children. Quite a number of years ago she was bereft of her husband.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Asa Manning of the Christian Church, interment in the family cemetery.

Miss Daisy Whitley

The death of Miss Daisy Whitley, eldest daughter of Hon. J. A. Whitley, at St. Vincent's Hospital, Norfolk, Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., was a shock to her large circle of friends and relatives. She had been in the hospital for treatment since September.

The funeral services were conducted at the Whitley home near Everetts to-day (Friday), and the interment was made in the family cemetery. The family whose hearts are torn and bleeding, have the deepest sympathy of the entire county.

Kills Her Foe Of 20 Years

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., "was Dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up, I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again. For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Trouble, Lame Back, Female Complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at All Druggists."

Episcopalians at Windsor

The 158th meeting of the Convocation of Edenton met at Windsor, 27-28. Representatives were present from the center Albemarle section, in all about a hundred representative people. Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, bishop of the Diocese of Eastern Carolina, was present. The officers are: Rev. Claude F. Smith, dean, Elizabeth City; Rev. R. B. Drane, D. D., Edenton, treasurer, and Rev. J. B. Gible, Windsor, N. C., secretary.

Various guilds, societies and auxiliaries were represented and mission work of the Episcopal Church was given added impetus.

The various reports show a wonderful growth along all lines of Christian endeavor. The sermon and addresses were of a very high order.

The woman's missionary meeting on yesterday was highly interesting. It was conducted by Mrs. James G. Staton, of Williamston. A most unique and entertaining address on China was made by Mrs. J. B. Gible.

The old town kept open house and the genuine hospitality of the old days was seen on every hand. Every church in town was active in entertainment, voicing the note of Christian unity that dominated all of the deliberations of the convocation. The delegates, their hosts and friends were tendered a reception at Windsor Castle by Hon. and Mrs. Francis D. Winston.

Much new missionary work was mapped out for the coming year.

The next meeting of the Convocation will be held at Bath on Wednesday and Thursday before the fifth Sunday in January, 1910. The history that clusters around Bath and the old church building there, will make the session a most interesting one.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health--There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by Saunders & Fowden and all dealers.

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in our community, was that of William House on Friday evening. He was only twenty-six years old and was married less than a year ago. Soon after his marriage, he and his young wife began life together on the farm. But several weeks ago, typhoid attacked him and death came as the result. The entire community sympathize with the loved ones in their affliction.

Woman's Missionary Society

The Woman's Missionary Society, Roanoke Association, was held in the Baptist Church at Washington, on Thursday and Friday of last week. Mesdames S. Justus Eveatt and Geo. J. Dowell represented the Society of the Williamston Baptist Church. Addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. Thomas Latham, Mrs. N. T. Plyer and Miss Wiswell, to which Mrs. Dowell graciously responded. Mrs. Everett made a very earnest and impressive address.

Much business of importance was transacted, and the members were very enthusiastic about the work. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Mrs. Everett for president. She has been vice president for the past year. Mrs. Everett is one of the most prominent missionary workers in Eastern Carolina, being fully prepared in heart and mind for the work in which the women of the world are so largely interested.

A Lesson From the Circus

Those who were here Monday saw an immense throng of people gathered from all sections of the county. And why were they here? You'll readily answer, "They came to see the circus." The next question is "How did they hear a circus would be here that day?" The answer can be given in three words: "The circus advertised."

They let the people of this section know that Howe's Great Show would be here on a certain day. They used the newspapers, posters and other means of advertising. Advertising judiciously done pays.

Any merchant or firm who will use brains in advertising his or their business, realizing that publicity, or advertising, is a necessary part of the business, will always reap a good harvest. This is the reason that big firms all over the country pay out so much of their good money for advertising. It pays them. It will pay you.—Smithfield Herald.

Debating Society

The Society met Friday, October the 29th, and found the following programme: Query: Resolved, That the roads should be worked by taxation. Talk by Dowell Burroughs on National Prohibition.

The boys showed great skill in the way they handled this subject. After listening very attentively, the judges gave to the affirmative.

Homer Peel, Sec'y.

Hallowe'en Party

A jolly crowd of young people met at the home of Mrs. A. S. Coffield on Monday night to invite the presence of spooks and goblins galore. Games were played till a late hour, when around a fire blazing in the yard, every one stood, while the oldtime witch told the fortunes of the merry party. Simple refreshments, consisting of apples, ginger snaps and candy, were served amid peals of laughter from hearts happy and free.

Those present were: Misses Irene Smith, Hannah Vic Fowden, Lettie Critcher, Annie Kate Thrower, Louise Fowden, Eva Wolf and Susie Purvis; Jack Biggs, Louis Bennett, Leslie Fowden, John Hassell, Wig Watts, John Thrower, Henry VanNortwick, Grover Godwin and Durward Gurganus.

LETTER FROM CHAPEL HILL

Carolina Wins in Athletics---Contestants for Debate With Pennsylvania---Chapel Services a Strong Feature of the University Life.

(Reported)

Carolina added another feather to her cap Saturday, when she met and defeated Richmond College by the score of 22 to 0. The game though one-sided, was fast and full of spectacular plays. Three touchdowns, two goals, one drop kick, and a safety told the tale. Carolina was penalized several times, thus preventing a larger score. Richmond played a defensive game throughout, while Carolina, with apparent ease, broke through their defence for gain after gain.

The line playing of Meredith for Richmond, and Beldin and Porter for Carolina, also the spectacular runs by Winston, deserve special mention. Time of halves, 20 minutes, attendance 500.

The preliminary contest for the Carolina-Pennsylvania Debate was held this week. Those contesting were J. D. Eason, J. H. Boushall, both of the Senior Class; and E. M. Highsmith and E. E. Barnett, of the Graduate School. Dr. C. L. Raper, Dr. J. G. Hamilton and Prof. M. H. Stacy, the committee, decided in favor of Barnett and Highsmith. The debate will be held in Chapel Hill about the middle of November. Last year the debate was held in Philadelphia and North Carolina won by a unanimous decision. Pennsylvania won in the fall of 1907 at Chapel Hill. The debates this November is the third of a series, and decides the tie.

The Chapel exercises were conducted this week by Rev. W. R. Royall, of the Methodist Church. Talks were made by Dr. Mangum upon "Personal Hygiene and the Care of the Body", and by Dr. McNider upon the "Prevention of Diseases", and by Professor Graham upon thoughtless destruction of property, and President Venable upon missing classes. Next week talks will be made upon the value of exercise and other subjects of vital relation to student life.
