

THE CALL OF THE SOUTH

The North is Overcrowded and People are Looking to the South--Her Latch String Always Outside-- Present Conditions Presage the Future

The spirit of the age has changed. It is the beginning of the end of an era--the end of an era of centralization and congestion of population. Every economic error tends of itself to correction from within rather than from without. The mad rush for the cities has slackened its pace; "the tumult and the shouting" grows lower in the busy marts of trade. Thousands upon thousands long to be "far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife," and pause to reflect if they would not be better off if they returned to the land from which they hastened a few years back, lured by the high promise of the city.

The North is filled to overflowing. Say what you will, there is no "last West." The pendulum has swung back; the mighty movement has begun. Naturally the question will be asked: "What will be the fairest field for the endeavors of this vast throng in the next decade?"

The logical solution of the problem is the South. And though in other less favored sections the cities will not show as much growth in the future as in the past ten years, we predict that the cities of the South will keep pace with her rural districts and both will enjoy equal prosperity because there is not today an overcrowded metropolis in her whole domain, such as you will find in other parts of the country.

Like the fabled sleeping beauty she had slumbered for many years and the world knew her not. But today she is alive and awake to every change and every activity that spells progress.

Her example is stimulating to the utmost. Present conditions are but a presage of the things to come. Her fields are filled with the greatest cotton crops the world has seen her landscape dotted with innumerable mills, her skies blackened by day and red by night, where steel and iron hold their sway. High Point vies with Grand Rapids in her wood-working plants, Lynchburg with Boston in the shoe trade, and Birmingham is a worthy sister of Pittsburg. So the thrilling story runs through mining, manufacturing, farming, transportation, trade, and commerce.

It is the story of a people favored by climate and a thousand natural advantages, coming into a fuller and broader realization of the magnificent potentialities of their own land. The way has been hard and difficult. But her people are awake. They are pushing to the front. They welcome the rest of their common country to come and share their good fortune with them. And the next few years will witness a growth which will be a revelation to the rest of the world. --Sel.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positive guarantee for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c. at Saunders & Powden.

Book Club Entertained

The distinct social event of the week was the entertainment of the Afternoon Book Club by Mrs. James G. Staton at her residence on West Main Street. The business session of the Club was presided over by Mrs. S. A. Newell, President. The hostess with that fine sense of the appropriateness of things, had arranged for the pleasure of her guests a "Turkey" contest as the Thanksgiving bird enjoys the distinction of being more in the public eye now than even Teddy, the Mighty. Miniature turkeys baked to a crisp brown were given each one and upon investigation these were found to contain a paper with the following questions as to what a turkey contains. The contestants to arrange answers.

- 1 Musical instruments -- Drum Sticks.
- 2 Something we all dread to get -- Bills.
- 3 Something with which to try your fortune -- Wish bone.
- 4 One who is not dead -- Liver.
- 5 A toilet article -- Comb.
- 6 Two established measures -- Feet.
- 7 Something Teddy has plenty of -- Back bone.
- 8 An emblem of St. Valentine -- Heart.
- 9 Two things all the Club members hope to have some day -- Wings.

With what it should be cooked:

- 1 "Man cannot live by bread alone."
- 2 "Under the spreading chestnut tree, The village smithy stands."
- 3 "Ye are the salt of the earth."
- 4 "He stood dumb as an oyster."
- 5 "Thyme and hde wait for no man."

There were quite a number of couplets in which other dishes were named which make "the pig in the poultry yard" so delectable. The contestants found much fun in guessing and the honors were about equal. Mrs. Staton followed her usual custom of failing to give prizes, but this took no zest from the contest.

The dining room had been arranged with simple but beautiful effect, the polished table with exquisite doilies and silver, carnations and cut glass presenting a most attractive picture, as the guests were ushered in and seated in positions designated by turkey place cards. Over it all the soft light of many candles was shed. The guests partook of turkey salad, "Kelwin Grove" ham, pimientoed sand wiches, olives, pickles, crackers, chocolate and coffee, and found it all delicious and refreshing, the favors being pink carnations and ferns.

There were present Mrs. S. A. Newell, Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mrs. F. U. Barnes, Mrs. A. R. Dunning, Mrs. A. S. Coffield, Mrs. J. H. Saunders, Miss Annie Mizell, the Misses Barnes, of Murfreesboro and Miss Katie Ausbon, of Pilmouth.

Miss Elisabeth Gordon Entertains

The Junior Auxiliary and Guild held its regular meeting at the Rectory on Tuesday evening. Every member was present to show her appreciation and love for the leader, Miss Gordon, who so soon is to leave for another field. The order of business was disposed of and Miss Louise Fowden expressed the regrets of the Auxiliary at her departure and Miss Irene Smith interjected similar words in the minutes. To these remarks, Miss Gordon replied in the manner which is always full of grace and beauty and has been such a large factor in gaining for her the love of the Juniors. After the business closed, other friends came in and the remainder of the evening was given to music and conversation. During the hours, refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Misses Louise and Hannah Vic Fowden, Eva Wolfe, Annie K. Thrower, Peggie Biggs, Laurie Ellison, Irene Smith, Essie Peel, Katie Ausbon, of Plymouth, Sue Grier, of Elizabeth City, and Hattie Thrower; Messrs. B. A. Critcher, J. H. Thrower, Walter Burton, H. A. Biggs, Rev. W. J. and Mrs. A. R. Gordon.

Words of Appreciation

As president of the Woman's Auxiliary and Guild of the Church of the Advent, I desire to thank each one who rendered any service during the recent session of the Convocation. The meeting was one of joy and it could not have been without a hearty co-operation on the part of the women of the parish and cordial greeting from the entire town. We were blessed and are thankful for another expression of that spirit of hospitality so inherent in our people.

HATTIE K. THROWER.

Not Sorry for Blunder

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Saunders & Fowden."

A Liberal Offer

We Guarantee to Cure Dyspepsia. If We Fail The Medicine Costs Nothing

To unquestionable prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is prepared by a process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This perfect combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at -- The Rexall Store. The S. R. Biggs Drug Co.

Words of Farewell

Rev. William J. Gordon, who will leave here for Spray on the 30th. of the month, gave his farewell words to his congregation on Sunday morning. The services were very sweet and simple throughout the hour and every heart was impressed. Mr. Gordon chose as his text Phil. 1:3 11, and with deep feeling spoke of his work and the splendid support which had been given him by individuals and every organization in the parish. His words were tender and full of loving thought and drew tears from the eyes of those in the congregation.

Mr. Gordon will hold a short service on the night of the 29th. and will administer the Holy Communion on the morning of the 30th. at ten o'clock, the day being the Feast of St. Andrew. On the afternoon of the same day he will leave for Greensboro to attend the Convocation of Charlotte and will address the same on the Woman's Auxiliary. On the next Sunday he will hold his first service in Leaksville Spray when Bishop Cheshire will make his annual visitation to the parish.

On next Sunday Mr. Gordon with his mother and sister will be in Hamilton, where he will take leave of his people there.

Entertained at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. James Grist Staton entertained at dinner on Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kader Biggs Crawford and their young sons, Kader B. and Asa Henry, who were christened on that day by Rev. Mr. Gordon at the Church of the Advent. The sponsors were: Mr. and Mrs. Staton, Mrs. W. H. Crawford and Mr. F. W. Hoyt. The young children were presented by their parents.

The guests sat down to a beautiful feast served in true Southern style and for an hour and a half enjoyed the excellent dishes prepared for them. Mr. and Mrs. Staton are ever cordial to their friends and dispense hospitality lavishly. Those who sat down to dinner were: the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford, Mrs. C. W. Kellinger, Miss Anna Crawford, Mrs. M. C. Crawford, Mr. F. W. Hoyt and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dunning.

Prohibition a Great Success in North Carolina

The report of the North Carolina corporation commission on banks shows that their finances are in fine shape as compared with former years, despite the fact that North Carolina stands for prohibition. In resources, there has been a gain of $7,730,664, making a grand total at present of $58,352,185. The amount of money deposited by the people in the saving department has also made a decided increase. Twelve months ago, it was $4,670,992; now it is $6,470,568. The on deposit subject to check, has increased from $21,351,258 to $22,828,437. And this shows in spite of the fact some men are sending money into other states for liquor. North Carolina is not so near bankruptcy as from a financial standpoint, prohibition has been a great success in the state. --Sel.

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for cold and croup. For sale by all dealers.

Newspaper Errors

Some people seem to think they prove their own brilliancy by being able to point out errors in a newspaper. After taking leisure to pick flaws in work that had to be done in a hurry they call the newspaper man by telephone or hail him on the street for wrong capitalization or a split infinitive if they can find nothing more serious.

Every one makes mistakes in his profession, but with most people only the boss knows about it. The newspaper man's mistakes are spread out for all the world to see.

The conditions of newspaper making demand that it be done at high pressure. If the editor went at his task with the extreme caution manifested by the lawyer when he writes a will there would not be time to do much writing. And few people realize what infinite pains even under existing conditions are taken to avoid error so far as possible. The bulk of the mistakes are the result of inaccurate information given to reporters. --Beckley (W. Va.) Register.
