

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Convention of Governors in State of Kentucky.

THE PRESIDENT SENDS LETTER.

Kentucky Governor Bars Politics From Meeting—A Harmon Demonstration Killed — Woodrow Wilson There.

Frankfort, Ky.—The third annual conference of Governors, the first to be held outside of Washington, began a 5-days' session here, with twenty-four of the Executives of the States present. Heads of Commonwealths from almost the extremes of the nation were brought together in one body to derive benefit from the experiences of each other.

For several days Governor Wilson of Kentucky has made it plain that he would do all in his power to eliminate politics from the conference. However, at the first session, held in the Hall of Representatives of the State Capitol building, there were two outbursts of political enthusiasm. One was when Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, entered the hall. He was greeted by slight handclapping, which was accorded other Governors. The moment the meeting adjourned a man in the gallery called for cheers for Mr. Harmon.

With a frown Governor Wilson raised his hand and stopped whatever progress the suggestion might have made. He said such a demonstration was entirely out of place and would not be tolerated.

Governor Wilson read a letter from President Taft regarding his absence, in which he said:

"I have great sympathy with the objects of your meeting, which I understand to be for the national welfare by uniformity of State legislation upon subjects having general national interests which are not, by the constitution, entrusted to Congress and the central government. I wish for your meeting the most successful issue in substantial results."

Governor A. J. Pothier of Rhode Island responded to the welcoming address of Governor Wilson and Mayor Polsgrove of Frankfort, after which the visiting party and several prominent Kentuckians were entertained at luncheon. At the later session Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey delivered an address on "the possibilities of the Governors' conference."

Governor and Mrs. Wilson gave a reception at the Governor's mansion.

A special train carried the Governors to Louisville, where sessions will be held until Saturday. Among the Governors present are: Kitchin, North Carolina; Weeks, Connecticut; Mann, Virginia; Pothier, Rhode Island; Fort, New Jersey; Noel, Mississippi; Harmon, Ohio; Brown, Georgia; Draper, Massachusetts; Ansel, South Carolina, and Wilson, Kentucky.

The Governors-elect present are: Wilson, New Jersey; O'Neal, Alabama; Cruce, Oklahoma, and Plaisted of Maine.

New York.—James J. Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor last August in Hudson county, New Jersey, charged with assault with intent to kill on the Mayor and William Edwards, street cleaning commissioner. Another charge placed against Gallagher was that of carrying concealed weapons. Gallagher has been held in jail since his attack on the Mayor, awaiting the result of injuries which he inflicted.

PETER'S DENIAL
Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 4, 1910
Specially Arranged for This Paper

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:31-35, 69-75. Memory verses, 74-75.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."—1 Cor. 10:12.
TIME—The denials were early Friday morning, April 7, A. D. 33.
PLACE—In the court of the Palace of the High Priest Caiaphas, in the southwest part of Jerusalem.

The first thing Jesus did for Peter was to set before him in his first interview the goal and ideal of his life. He was to be changed from the Simon we have just been viewing into Peter the Rock. His incohesive qualities were to be unified into one beautiful whole; the separate and sometimes discordant notes of his character were to be formed into the exquisite harmonies of a Hallelujah chorus. He was like the soft stone in some quarries, easily cut and shaped when first taken from the quarry, but soon hardening into rock. Peter expresses the possibilities Jesus saw in the nature of Simon, an "ideal which God would make divinely real."

For three years Peter was an earnest pupil in Christ's school. He made many mistakes; he fought many battles, on the battlefield of his heart; he had some severe reproofs, but he had a wise, encouraging, patient teacher. After a time he was advanced to the highest grade with James and John. "The first essential for success is a soul," an awakened soul. One of the most interesting studies for a teacher, is to go carefully through the Gospels, and study Christ's method of teaching and training such an unruly but earnest scholar as Peter was.

"Thou shalt deny me thrice, disown me as your Lord and Master," Peter was sure that he would not fall in the hour of temptation. No one knows what he will do in unexpected circumstances. But Jesus did all he could to put Peter on his guard.

An interval of some hours. Gethsemane; Peter, wearied, sleeps on guard. The arrest; Peter and all the apostles desert Jesus. But Peter and John follow afar off. The trial before the Sanhedrin in some room of Caiaphas' palace, opening into a court.

Peter was sitting with the servants and others around a fire and he denied Christ before them all, who were gathered around the fire.

The main charge was prominently made by one, a kinsman of Malchus, who had seen Peter in the garden and was known to St. John from his acquaintance with the high priest's household. For thy speech betrayeth thee, "betrayeth," shows that thou art a Galilean, and therefore one of his disciples, or why else art thou here?

Then began he to curse, call down curses on himself if he did not speak the truth. And to swear, to call God to witness that it was true. It is more than probable that Peter, in his earlier life as a fisherman, before his conversion, had been in the habit of using profane language, and now, in the sudden surprise of temptation, the old habit broke forth anew, as the language of youth, long unused, is almost certain to be employed in times of great excitement. It is a long and hard discipline that entirely conquers the sins of youth.

"I know not the man." And this in the very presence of Jesus. "The ways down which the bad ship wickedness slides to a shoreless ocean must be greased with lies." "A lie is put out to interest, and the interest is compound."

It was now that Peter was "sifted as wheat." Part of what he thought was wheat was really chaff, and this terrible sifting under temptation blow away in the roughest manner most of the chaff,—his inconsistency, his fiery temper, his self-confidence, but preserved all the good in his character, purified and perfected.

We can be good in spite of falls. God can bring good out of evil. That in his glory, and our hope. But he can do far more with our victories than by our failures.

Then Jesus looked upon Peter. The Greek word for "looked" occurs but in one other place in the Gospels. It means that "he looked into him," into his very heart, "with eyes that went like lightning to the quick of his conscience." Peter remembered the warning, and went out and wept the bitterest tears of repentance.

From this time on Peter was a new man. The charcoal had become diamond. He describes the effect in his first Epistle (1:7). "That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that is perished, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ." Peter rejoiced when he could express his love to Jesus by suffering in his cause. He wrote a letter which has been a comfort and a power all down the ages. His victory—his fall—in the great crisis gave him power over men to the end.

"In the pain and the repentance, and in the acquaintance with the aspects of folly and sin," says Ruskin, "you have learned something; how much less than you would have learned in right paths can never be told, but that it is less is certain. Your liberty of choice has simply destroyed you so much of life and strength never regainable. It is true you know the habits of swine, now, and the taste for hawks. Do you think that your Heavenly Father would not have taught you to know better habits and pleasanter tastes if you had stayed in his house."

A Garden of Friends.
One of the prettiest corners of a certain girl's garden is that in which every plant has been the gift of some special friend. The sweet old-fashioned flowers that bloom there have thus a double significance, and their owner persuades herself that while they flourish she may be very sure that she is not forgotten. A fragrant clump of pinks was set in place by her dearest school friend; and now that this friend is living abroad she likes to think that every breath of perfume brings her a kindly thought of her old chum. A garden of friendship is a pretty fancy and one that gives lasting pleasure.

"Beer" in Kansas.
A certain Kansas editor always puts the word "beer," when printed in his paper, in quotation marks.
"Why do you do that?" a subscriber asked him.
"It is for the same reason," he replied, "that we put quotation marks around the word 'ghost.' We don't believe there are any ghosts."—Kansas City Journal.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.
Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, cloth-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Since taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, I have gained 10 pounds, and now I can do all of my own house-work, and washing, and my friends say I look like a different person."
