Editor Soweewhat Mixed

A Shookumuche editor, who was full of hard cider, got a sale and a marriage mixed, says an exchange. The description ran as follows: "William Smith, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith, was disposed of at public auction to Lucy Anderson, on my farm one mile east of here, in the presence of 70 guests, including the following to-wit: Two mules, 12 head of cattle. Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot, averaging 1,250 pounds on the hoof. The home of this charming bride was tastefully decorated with sewash clam spade, one sulky rake, one feed grinder, one set of double harness, nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced Mendelssohn's inspiring wedding march was given by one milch cow to be fresh next April, carrying a bunch of flowers in her hand and looking charming in a gown made of light spring wagon, three boxes of apples, three racks of hay, one grindstone, mounslin de soie trimmed with about 100 bushels of spuds.

"The bridegroom is well known and a popular young man, and has always stood well among society circles of 12 Berkshire hogs, while the bride is an accomplished and talented school teacher of a splenid did drove of Poland Chinas—pedigrees if desired.

"Among the beautiful presents were two sets of silver knives and row, go cart and other articles too numerous to mention. The bridal couple left yesterday on an extended trip. Terms: Twelve months' time to responsible parties; otherwise, spot cash. Lunch will be served at the stable. After this, Mr and Mrs. Smith will go to house-keeping in a cozy little home at the corner of Mail and Dr. R. L. Cranby, auctioneer.

The woman of today who has good health, good temper, good sense, bright eyes and a lovely complexion, the result of correct living and digestion, wins the admiration of the world. If your digestion is faulty Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct it. For sale by All Dealers

Noah Attacked

The Wilmington Star invades the realm of forgotten years to shower forth anathemas upon the head of Noah for not killing the two flies he carried with him into the ark.

There are, as the lawyers say, extenuating circumstances which should weigh with the jury in the case. In the first place Noah was 600 years old when he took charge of the Ark, a fact in itself which should excuse him from the ignominious task of slaying insects. Besides, with such a cosmopolitan jumble of tows, fishes and beasts on hand it is but natural that the very multiplicity of detail work should make but natural the slight oversight complained of. Noah, did his duty as commanded, and he was ordered to preserve rather than destroy. If the present generation is equally well there would not be a fly left to tell the story in a fortnight. It is useless to attempt to burden down the shades of the departed responsibility for sins of omission of the present generation.—Charlotte News.
