HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be trouble with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the result we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and made the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Williamston only at our store—The Rexall Store. The S. R. Biggs Drug Co.

No class of plays seem to have a firmer hold on the American public than good rustic plays, and none seem to prosper like those which have a New England background for a foundation on which the story is built. We need look for no better proof than "The Old Homestead" or "The County Fair," and in the same class as these will be presented at the Opera House Monday Feb. 5th, the latest success, "Along the Kennebec," which while using the New England village and its people for plot and story, is entirely different in theme. The play is the story of a wait, the fruit of an ill-favored marriage, a heartless father, a daughter driven away from home and a child's battle with a "sometimes" cruel world. The company carry the scenic production complete, and good bright sparkling comedy is promised in plenty.

A Warning Against Wet Feet

Wet and chilled feet usually affect the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, and a gripe, bronchitis or pneumonia may result. Watch carefully, particularly the children, and for the racking stubborn coughs give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It soothes the inflamed membranes, and heals the cough quickly. Take no substitute Saunders &

Bridge Party

The elegantly appointed rooms in the residence of Mrs. Kader B. Crawford on Smithwick Street, were more attractively arranged on Tuesday afternoon when she entertained at bridge in honor of Mesdames Edward McMasters and Francis Lloyd, who are the guests of Mrs. F. U. Barnes. Handsome candelabras, from which the soft lights fell, together with the artistically arranged tables at which sat the players wearing beautiful evening gowns, made a lovely picture and the pleasure of the guests was marked. An elegant menu was served in the dining room and this made a delightful ending to the afternoon.

Since coming to Williamston, Mesdames McMasters and Lloyd have received many social favors. Mrs. Barnes, whom they are visiting, giving a bridge party as have Mrs. F. W. Hoyt and Mrs. C. B. Hassell. To be the guest of either of these ladies, means an evening full of pleasure.

Almost Lost His Life

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Saunders & Fowden.

Good for Children and Older Ones

Every night there are new pictures at the Daisy Theatre and they are educational too. There you will see true pictures of Western life pictures taken right on the spot; then acts of heroism and merit rewarded. Good lessons in the pictures and things depicted that we have read about. The show is especially interesting to children who can learn and enjoy at the same time. No less is the enjoyment keen to the older ones of the family.

Monday night there will be no picture show as the house will be occupied by the company playing "Along the Kennebec," but on the next evening (Tuesday) four pictures will be exhibited and those attending will have a feast at the same price. Don't fail to go on that night. And tonight will be especially attractive and everybody is going that can get there.

"Along the Kennebec," a New England comedy drama, now in its third successful season, will be produced at the Opera House Monday, Feb. 5th. The play is moulded along the same idea as "The Old Homestead," "Shore Acres" and "York State Folks," and deals entirely with country life. Plays of this nature are deservedly popular, inasmuch as they are clean and wholesome and leave a good taste in the mouth. They usually illustrate some good moral principle without descending to the oftentimes morbid sensationalism of the melodrama or the soul-harrowing incidents of the problem play. "Along the Kennebec" is said to have met with great favor wherever produced, and much interest will be taken in the presentation of the play in this city. All special scenery is carried for the production.

Fertilizer Tests

560 lbs Acids Phosphate	540 lbs cotton
No fertilizer	495 "
560 lbs Muriate of Potash	1,552 lbs cotton
No ferti.	360 "
560 lbs Kainit	1,260 lbs cotton
No ferti.	360 "
560 lbs Blood	675 "
No ferti.	405 "
560 lbs Nitrate of Soda	1,237 lbs cotton
No ferti.	495 "
560 lbs 8-4-4	1,025 "

The above experiments represent tests of different fertilizers on a uniform light, sandy, poor soil. Land all prepared alike—cotton all of same variety, same cultivation and every condition the same except fertilizer. Of the five blank plots we find them varying in yield from 315 to 495 lbs per acre, the acreage of all the blanks being 414 lbs. per acre, which shows that 560 lbs. Acid Phosphate produced 126 lbs. more of seed cotton worth on present market about $3.75 or about what the Acid cost.

The Muriate of Potash yielded 1,138 lbs. of seed cotton more than the average of the blanks tests worth at present prices about $34.14 or $22.94 above cost. The Kainit yielded 846 lbs. more than the average blank test (and 922 lbs. more than the average of the adjoining blank tests), the 846 lbs. of cotton being worth $25.38 about $22.38 above cost; taking the two adjoining blank tests as a basis the 922 lbs. would be worth $27.66 or about $24.66 above cost.

The 560 lbs. of dried blood yielded 261 lbs. more than the blank acre worth $7.83 which is $10.37 less than cost of fertilizer. Blood was put under crop before planting. The 560 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda put on top dressing just before cotton began to blossom, yielded 823 lbs. more the average blank acres worth $24.69 or $11.62 above cost of fertilizers.

The 560 lbs. of 8-4-4 guano produced 621 lbs. cotton more than blanks worth $18.63 or about $10.13 above cost of fertilizers.

Graduating Class

The Senior Class of the Williamston High School had a meeting Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the graduating class of 1911-12. The following were chosen: Walter Jenkins, Salutatorian, Maurice Watts, Historian, Fannie M. Manning, Prophet, Allie Hadley, Essayist, Martha Ward, Will and Testament, Sallie Hadley, Valetictorian.

The Class in many respects has accomplished more than its predecessors, having completed part of the Latin course earlier and taking extra work in English. It is hoped that it will serve as an inspiration to those who are following on. Class colors chosen were pink and green.

Walter Jenkins, President,
Martha Ward, Secretary.

Shocking Sounds

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention—if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich., "It is certainly a great kidney machine." ## At the Top of the Earth

Col. Wheeler Martin, of Williamston, says that the American Republic is the greatest country on the earth—and that North Carolina is the greatest State in the Republic—and that Martin is the best county in the State—and that Williamston Township is the best part of Martin.

It was this way: I had an engagement at Williamston for last Sunday. Colonel Martin wrote ahead and engaged me for his guest—and I was "greable," as Uncle Remus would say—and when I got to his palatial home on Saturday night I felt like I was at the top of the earth.

Do you know Colonel Wheeler Martin? If not, you have missed one of the finest gentlemen of the State. He is an Episcopalian and a Republican—but I give that ancient church notice that if he should ever come to the Methodist Church we will give him a great welcome;—and I give that great party notice that if he should ever come to the Democratic party some of us will see to it that he is accorded an ovation and that Bro. Joe Daniels bring out his pokeberry juice in the News and Observer. If you could have seen Colonel Martin last Monday as he aided me in my work for the Orphanage you would have supposed that he was one of our leading Methodist laymen of the East and one of the foremost directors of the Orphanage. He made our cause his cause—and his fellow-citizens were gladly responsive, and he debt to him and to them.

A Sunday with the Rev. Rufus Bradley is a Sunday in which the better man in you comes to the place of advantage—for you cannot associate with him without a distinct and conscious spiritual gain. He represents the positive type of religion—for he has the fine ideal and the strength to hold steady to it. There is no variability nor shadow of turning with him. He is a man of marked gentleness and of much loveliness of soul—but he is a man of iron when a man of iron is needed. Jesus hasn't a braver lieutenant anywhere on the field.

And a day with those Williamston saints is always a good day with me. They have the manners of the children of God when in their Father's house. I have not spoken to a more attentive and kindly company—they remind me of our Laurinburg church.

And the way they respond to the Orphanage appeal is a joy to me. I count them among the friends of this great work. In the afternoon I went out to Holly Springs Church and received much kindness at the hands of these good people. I beg the pleasure of visiting them hereafter whenever I go to Williamston.

On Sunday night I was guest at the parsonage—another one of these clean-kept, well-ordered Methodist parsonages that mean so much to the life of our Church in the State. As I sat in the midst of that bright circle I could but think of how rich the Church is in such a household and how fine will be the service when those children shall go out to the larger tasks that the Master has for them.

Two of the nicest little ladies of the land—one from Cel., Martin's and one from the parsonage—showed me much kindness and were happy in doing it. I welcome them to the honorable company of the friends of the Orphanage. Brother Ellison, superintendent of our Sunday-school, gave me a warm greeting—He is one of the friends of our cause and he is going to put it at the front in his work. Williamston was good to me

A New England play entitled "Along the Kennebec" will be presented at the Opera House, Monday night, Feb. 5th. This company carries all its own scenery for the production and its stage settings are said to be extraordinarily pretty and well appointed. The play itself is a comedy pure and simple, with an absence of cheap sensationalism but an abundance of good clean comedy, something that we can laugh at and not understand afterwards what we laughed at. The funny duel scene in the third act is said to be a pretty good cure for the blues.

Two Feet Under the Bed

Saturday just at night fall, J. J. Stroud, who occupied room number one at the Roanoke Hotel, went into the room to use the phone and discovered two feet sticking out from under the bed. Not having any weapon and deeming it safest to seek aid, he ran out looking the door behind him. When he returned the burglar had opened the window and dropped from there to the ground. Upon investigation it was learned that he had found only 85 cents in his hurried search through Mrs. Stroud's trunk. A case of valuable jewels had not been molested. It is thought that some one who knew the condition of affairs was seeking money while Mr. and Mrs. Stroud were on the second floor at supper. There is no clue to the burglar.

First La Grippe, Then Bronchitis

That was the case with Mrs. W. S. Bailey, McCreary, Ky. "My wife was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe, which run into bronchitis. She coughed as tho' she had consumption and could not sleep at night. The first bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gave her so much relief that she continued using it until she was
