Brewer's Rule.

It was common knowledge that at twelve o'clock noon the wealthy brewer called in all the poor men in the neighborhood who warmed themselves over store and factory gratings and made them small presents of food, clothing or money. The brewery gratings alone possessed no occupants.

"We don't care to stand there on account of the fumes," said one unfortunate who had been requested to vacate the trunkmaker's grating. "He won't give to anybody who smells beery."

On a Main Road.

Pottleton drew up at the side of the road and accosted a man sitting on top of a load of hay.

"I say, colonel," said he, "are we on the right road to Clayport Junction?"

"Y'as," said the farmer.

"How's the road, pretty good?" asked Pottleton.

"Fine," said the farmer. "We've been 20 years wearin' them ruts through."—Harper's Weekly.

THE CARELESS GROCER

Blundered, and Great Good Came of It.

A careless grocer left the wrong package at a Michigan home one day and thereby brought a great blessing to the household.

"Two years ago I was a sufferer from stomach troubles, so acute that the effort to digest ordinary food gave me great pain, and brought on a condition of such extreme nervousness that I could not be left alone. I thought I should certainly become insane. I was so reduced in flesh that I was little better than a living skeleton. The doctors failed to give me relief and I despaired of recovery.

"One day our groceryman left a package of Grape-Nuts food by mistake, so I tried some for dinner. I was surprised to find that it satisfied my appetite and gave me no distress whatever. The next meal I ate of it again, and to be brief, I have lived for the past year almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. It has proved to be a most healthful and appetizing food, perfectly adapted to the requirements of my system.

"Grape-Nuts is not only easily digested and assimilated, but I find that since I have been using it I am able to eat anything else my appetite fancies, without trouble from indigestion. The stomach trouble and nervousness have left me, I have regained my plumpness and my views of life are no longer despondent and gloomy.

"Other members of my family, especially my husband, (whose old enemy, the 'heart-burn,' has been vanquished) have also derived great benefit from the use of Grape-Nuts food and we think no morning meal complete without it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in 16 pgs.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. William Evans, D. D., Director Bible Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 11.

THE BOY JESUS IN THE TEMPLE.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:40-52.
GOLDEN TEXT—"How is it that ye sought me? What ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"—Luke 2:49. MEMORY VERSES—46, 47.

This lesson is the one solitary instance recorded in the strangely sealed thirty years of the Master's life. Here is an illustration of what is meant by the inspiration of election—only those things that were of vital and redemptive importance in the life of Jesus are recorded. John says, "Many other signs truly did Jesus which are not written in this book; but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." For this reason, we should value every word that is written.

The lesson furnishes a model in character building for the youth. Jesus is the example, and the model boy. Jesus was a real boy. He ate, drank, played, grew, asked questions, just as other boys do.

His character, like all other character building, was a growth: "He increased in wisdom and stature." No character is instantaneous; it is the work of growth and of years, indeed, of a lifetime. An icicle is formed drop by drop. Character is formed by single words and acts. A mushroom may grow in a night, but surely not the character of a man. Just as words and sentences are formed by means of the single letters of the alphabet, so words, thoughts, deeds, actions, looks, motives—these are the alphabet from which we spell character. Sow a thought, and reap a word; sow a word, and reap an act; sow an act, and reap a habit; sow a habit, and reap a character; sow a character, and reap a destiny.

Christ's character was developed in the home. He had a Christian home—the greatest gift of God this side of heaven. What chance has many a child today to build character in a home where the parents know not God, never read the Bible, never pray, never go to church? If for no other reason, parents should become Christians for their children's sake. If our children are lost, we parents are to blame, unless we have set before them the example of a Christian life.

As a boy, Christ was obedient to his parents. This was a manly thing. Parents are in the place of God to the child: God cannot be everywhere, so he made parents. The first commandment on the second table is obedience to parents, and it is the first commandment with a promise. The apron strings of the mother may become the reins of government of the nation. We must obey before we can command.

The character of Jesus was developed in the church also. His parents were churchgoers, and they had cultivated that habit in the child. In speaking of Jesus as a churchgoer, Luke says that "as his custom was, he went into the synagogue." What great thoughts must have come to the mind of Christ as he visited the temple! What dormant potentialities were aroused as he sat and listened to the exposition of God's word! Humanly speaking, Christ owed a great deal in the development of his character to his attendance at the temple. Can a symmetrical character be produced outside of the church and religion? We think not; certainly the best character cannot be produced in one who ignores these. In spite of all her failures, the church is the best institution in the world today for the building of character. We do our children a great wrong when we deprive them of the privileges of the church.

But Jesus was also a member of the Bible school—the teaching part of the church. This is evident from the fact that the instruction received was in answering and asking questions. No doubt many of the Scripture passages quoted by him were learned in the Jewish Bible school.

The boy Jesus was an interested as well as an interesting scholar in the school. He was no mere visitor. He came with a well prepared lesson, and that indicated that he had studied the lesson at home under the instruction of his parents. What a lesson for parents today!

Have you ever considered how many great and noble men the Sunday school of our land have been instrumental in producing? Did you ever think how many of the most influential men of the world today give their time to Sunday school work, thereby recognizing the power that their own early training in the Sunday school had been in their lives?

Consider the great characters that have played upon the stage of American history—or the history of the world over for that matter—and you will find that a great part, if not the greatest part of the credit for the splendid characters possessed by these noble men and women is to be given to religion and the church.

"For what are men better than sheep or goats? That nourish a blind life within the brain, If knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer, Both for themselves and those who call them friends?"

THE FREE SCHOLARSHIPS

Given By the Southern Railway to Agricultural Colleges in States Traversed By This Road.

Washington.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, announced that, as a means of supplementing the extensive work being done by the Company for the advancement of agriculture in the territory traversed by its lines south of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers and East of the Mississippi, it has been decided to inaugurate Southern Railway Scholarships in the State Agricultural College in each State traversed by the lines of the Company.

Mr. Finley will take this matter up at once with the president of each agricultural college concerned, asking him to permit the Company to pay for the scholarships and to select the young men to be benefited by them. The scholarships, which are to cover the full four-year course in agriculture, are to be awarded in accordance with plans to be agreed upon between the presidents of the colleges and the Railway Company and are to be given to young men residing in counties traversed by the lines of the Company, and who would otherwise be financially unable to avail themselves of an agricultural college training.

As soon as arrangements have been definitely perfected, full details as to the scholarship or scholarships to be awarded in each State, will be announced.

Should Encourage Indian Memorial.

Washington.—The movement for erecting here in Washington an Indian memorial building deserves enthusiastic encouragement. Of late years the Indian question has been carefully and sympathetically considered, and after many serious mistakes it is in a way of just and humane adjustment. The Indians themselves are moving forward with the rest of the people, and it is due to them that the white citizens of the United States should cooperate to provide here at the capital a place where the story of the Indian can be told in terms to encourage further efforts on their part and in their behalf.

Will Get But A Small Share.

Washington.—It was learned here from a source believed to be entirely trustworthy, that because of the wave of economy which has spread over congress this year's river and harbor bill may be held down to the old projects and that no new ones of any kind will be had. This would probably save the country something like $10,000,000, after the senate amendments have been added. Much work now under way would stop. There does not seem to be any doubt that even if the cur is carried to this extent, the bill will be so small that many new projects will not be considered. It is impossible to tell yet what will happen.

Is The Gun Toler Increasing?

Cleveland.—It is not clear from the annual police report exactly what relations exists between the number of arrests for carrying concealed weapons and growth of the habit itself. The largely increased number of arrests may indicate keener attention to the evil on the part of the police rather than any material increase in gun toting. At least, that suggests a pleasant explanation of the figures. Regardless of the fuller interpretation of the figures, it is hoped they may arouse public interest in a matter of deep moment to court has taken a firm stand against the carrying of concealed weapons.

Three Elements Have Combined.

New Orleans.—An alliance has been effected between Zapata, the leader of the rebellion in southern Mexico, the Reyistas of northern Mexico and leaders of last year's insurrectionary movement in Lower California, according to apparently reliable information gleaned here by secret service agents. It was stated that Col Price leader of the Lower California uprising and Col. Mosby, a well-known American soldier of fortune, held a conference in New Orleans with several prominent Reyistas and other soldiers of fortune and decided again to enter Mexico with "Viva Zapata."

Further Action Is Deferred.

New York.—Further action in the taking of depositions in the case of the International Paper Company against the Lewiston (Maine) Journal has been postponed by mutual agreement for 20 days. The paper company has pending a suit for libel against the Maine newspaper based on the allegation that the Journal referred to it as a trust in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The taking of depositions from the officers of the paper company began several days ago.

Strained Rosin Is Crude.

Washington.—The United States court of customs appeals decided that rosin which has been strained to remove dirt, chips, leaves and other impurities is actually "crude rosin," and entitled to free entry into this country. This opinion was rendered in the case of G. W. Sheldon & Co. of Chicago. The collector imposed a duty of one-quarter of a cent per pound and ten per cent. ad valorem on the ground that the straining of the rosin was not necessary to prevent its deterioration.

HOUSEWORK IS A HEAVY BURDEN

The woman who "keeps house" has enough to do when she is in good, sound health, but if she is weak, tired all the time, and suffering from morn to night with an aching back, house-work becomes a heavy burden.

Many women who were afflicted in this way say that Doan's Kidney Pills have made life easier for them.

Women are subject to kidney disease. The clothing they wear, the work they do, the worry and strain of bearing and rearing children, the lack of proper exercise; all tend to it.

Backache, bearing-down pains, headache, dizzy spells, faintness, fits of "blues," and other troubles often thought to be peculiar to the sex, are found frequently in kidney disease. When any one of these ills appears, together with a discolored condition of the kidney secretions, with passages too frequent, scanty or burning, just make up your mind that your kidneys are weak, and be quick to help them.

Doan's Kidney Pills have helped a great many weak women through the trying times when kidney disease means so much added misery. They do not disturb the stomach or bowels and contain no poisonous, dangerous nor habit-forming drugs. Doan's are harmless for children too.

When Kidney Troubles Keep You in Misery Day and Night

The following case is typical of the cures effected by Doan's Kidney Pills. Grateful testimony is the best evidence.

SCREAMED WITH PAIN.

A Connecticut Woman's Awful Suffering.

Mrs. Selma Jones, 200 Main St., Ansonia, Conn., says: "I began to have kidney trouble about 1898. An inflammation of the bladder set in. I had cutting, dragging backaches; pain through the loins and sides and soon got into a state of weakness, languor and general depression. My limbs were so sore and tender I could hardly bear the pressure of the best clothing. I bloated badly and my ankles swelling. I noticed a continual ringing in my ears and specks flitted before my eyes. The kidney secretions were unnatural and very irregular. At times I fairly screamed with pain. I became so weak and sick, that I was put to bed and stayed there three months under doctor's treatments. I grew worse constantly, and my family was entirely discouraged. Beginning with Doan's Kidney Pills, I was surprised at their effect. In less than a week, kidney weakness and inflammation of the bladder disappeared. In three weeks I was up and soon resumed my housework. I think the use of Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

PIMPLES COVERED HIS BACK

"My troubles began along in the summer in the hottest weather and took the form of small eruptions and itching and a kind of smarting pain. It took me mostly all over my back and kept getting worse until finally my back was covered with a mass of pimples which would burn and itch at night so that I could hardly stand it. This condition kept getting worse and worse until my back was a solid mass of big sores which would break open and run. My underclothing would be a clot of blood.

"I tried various remedies and salves for nearly three years and I was not getting any benefit. It seemed I was in eternal misery and could not sleep on my back or lean on a chair. I was finally given a set of the Cuticura Remedies and inside of two weeks I could see and feel a great relief. I kept on using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and also the Resolvent, and in about three or four months' time my back was nearly cured and I felt like a new being. Now I am in good health and no sign of any skin diseases and I am fully satisfied that Cuticura Remedies are the best ever made for skin diseases. I would not be without them." (Signed) W. A. Armstrong, Corbin, Kan., May 26, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston.
