The Senior Class of the Graded School will present "Polly in Politics" Friday evening April nineteenth City Theatre Gladsome Eastertide

The weather on Sunday was typical of April—bits of sunshine on the wings of the wind and just the slightest mist about noon. There were services in the Methodist and Episcopal Churches. Beautiful flowers and joyful anthems breathed the spirit of the glorious Resurrection. Easter hats, gorgeous and huge in expansion, matched the freshly fashioned gowns worn by the ultra-fashionable, and added to the brightness of the scene on the street and in the places of worship. At the Episcopal Church the Rite of Baptism was administered to an infant and the Holy Communion was administered at close of the morning service.

Easter souvenirs were given the pupils of all the Sunday Schools, and at the Episcopal School, the children had their regular offering of mite boxes after they had built up a cross with fragrant hyacinths. The offering at this service was larger than any year previous, being $64.33 with other sums not in. Miss Laurie Elison made the best offering $6.25 as she has done for several years.

At night, the April wind had increased to a gale and rain fell so that many were kept at home. "The Easter Flower Garden" which was produced by the Loyal Sons and Daughters at the Christian Church was very enjoyable despite the conditions. The songs were well-rendered and that with the attractive and appropriate costume, pleased the audience. The arrangement of this cantata was by Mrs. R. J. Peel and Mrs. J. J. Strout and the boys and girls responded beautifully to their instruction.

Easter Monday was a holiday for the school children and the pupils of the Christian and Episcopal Sunday Schools enjoyed their annual egg hunts, the former on the lawn of Mr. J. G. Godard and the latter on the Church lawn. Fruits and candies were served and the hours were happy ones for the little tots and the grown-ups.

Lynn, Mass. is the latest municipality to add Studebaker motor cars to its official equipment. A Flanders "20" for the use of the city engineer and an E-M-F "30" for the city electrician are recent purchases.

Practically every city in the country is equipped with horse-drawn apparatus made by Studebaker. The Studebaker motor-driven vehicles are becoming nearly as common in the role of public servants.

The extent to which the big automobile companies have perfected the steels used in the modern, popular-priced cars, is illustrated by a unique experiment, made by a foreman in a garage at Mitchell, S. D.

This man found himself in need of a simple milling machine to cut cold-rolled shafting, and for general use about the garage. Instead of ordering a tool-steel milling wheel, the man took a sliding gear, made in the Studebaker factories for an E-M-F "30" car, and laboriously filed its teeth into saw shape.

To the amazement of a coterie of skeptics, the converted gear started milling as soon as it was hooked to the garage power device. It cuts any steel that can be milled and shows in a striking way the high quality of material which the Studebaker Corporation puts into its product.

Almost A Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed.
