Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

The Woman Makes the Home

She makes it best who, looking after the culinary department, turns her back resolutely upon unhealthful, or even suspicious, food accessories. She is economical; she knows that true economy does not consist in the use of inferior meat, flour, or baking powder. She is an earnest advocate of home made, home baked food, and has proved the truth of the statements of the experts that the best cooking in the world today is done with Royal Baking Powder.

WILLIAMSTON, N. C.

Read your label and remember to send the amount due, so we will be better able to greet you in the fifty two weeks of 1913

We wonder if the prevailing price of gasoline had anything to do with the stroll that Governor Sulzer took to the Capitol at Albany.

We received numerous Christmas greetings from friends in various parts of the country, and these we appreciate and desire to thank each sender who remembered us at this happy season. May the New Year bring to each of them blessings which shall make for greater things in their lives.

A Letter

Dear Mr. Manning:—
 I herewith send two dollars money order, for my Arkansas friend and myself another year. Remember that Mr. G. B. Daniels P. O., is Haynes, Lee Co., Ark.

I feel that this is a paper worthy of the patronage of every citizen of our county. Then why not use our means and influence to sustain and promote it? I would like to see the items of Robersonville appear again in our county paper with not only of comers and goers, but of facts to show the growth and progress of our town so that others may know what we are doing. Why I've heard some say who have been away a few years, that they would hardly know the place. Then you may know that we are not unwilling to make known the doings and growth of the town. Success to THE ENTERPRISE.

S. W. Outterbridge.
 Robersonville, N. C.,
 Dec. 28th 1912.

(The above letter from the Grand Old Man of Martin County is much appreciated, and he always has a word of cheer for us, which helps to lighten our work in striving to give a paper worthy of the people among whom it circulates. We desire to publish the growth and uplift of every section of our county, but so often cannot get correspondents who will give news.—Editor.)

Christmas Here

Extremely bad weather preceded Christmas Day, and hindered shoppers greatly in their late purchases. People had not waited, however, for the day before to do shopping, but had been purchasing systematically for weeks before. The trade was good, some selling more than ever before. Trains were late because they carried so much express for the holidays. Despite predictions and the weather previous, Christmas Day opened bright and cool. There were services in the Episcopal Church appropriate to the day, and the spirit of the season was apparent on every hand. Gifts and good wishes were exchanged, and everybody was filled with cheerfulness.

The absence of drunkenness on the streets was very noticeable, and some say that for quietness and soberness, the day stands at the head of the list here. A few people went hunting, but the number was less than usual. So the Day of Days in 1912 passed with gladness on its wings, and the New Year followed, and its coming will, no doubt, bring many changes in the lives of the people and they may be beneficial ones.
