The Legislative edition of the News & Observer on Saturday will make a good reference sheet, as it contains the important laws made by the last Legislature.

We Grow Them

The Southern sweet potato in its different varieties has become fare these days. They are not weekly at Williamston, N. The "potato hill" is a necessary adjunct to every farm house, and a loss of the crop produces great distress. For many years the potato was not but the demand now is great, and the luscious "roots" command good prices.

Again Martin County comes in 19, 1913.) as the producer of the best varities of the potato. In no section of the South are they more easily produced and is the sweetness more satisfying. Acres and acres of land in the county grow them abundantly with little care from the farmer. The home markets Puck. are furnished with the best products, and now other places are asking for shipments of them. The acreage in them should be largely increased not only for the demond of the county's special kind, but because hogs fare well on them and the bacon is of the on them and the bacon is of the door of Martin County, in Williamston, finest flavor. The cultivation of the yams and the best variety of hamans will open a new avenue for bank savings to the farmers.

Should be Enforced

The Legislature placed extra restrictions upon the sale of cigarettes to minors-boys under seventeen years. If there is one law which needs special notice, this is that one. The State is spending large sums to educate and make a better citizenship and the death-dealing c!garette is undoing what is being done.

Teachers in our schools especially emphasize the destruction that is being wrought among the boys-some mere babies, who oftentimes walk boldly along the streets smoking. There has been a law for protection, but when the almighty dollar is at stake, the conscience of dealers go to sleep. But they are not always to blame. Older boys and men, Turks can institute a harem too, give the rightly-named "cofthat would cap the climax, but fin tacks" to these helpless ones with them. They have had a is thrown for protection. There good spanking this time. Europe are many parents who try by every means in their power to keep their children from being hurt in this way, but there is ever the loafer around who wants to put the poison in the mouths only four quarts. Some owners of the children, especially if the parents are trying to protect them. Such people think it smart to do such mean things. The police have it in their power to stop to a large measure this smoking nuisance among boys. Children who feed their brains and nerves on cigarettes become mere dwarfs, and nine out of ten are unfitted for the duties of life when they have to make a way for themselves.

The best thing that the Legislature could have done, would have been to have passed a law forbidding both the sale and manufacture of cigarettes. But what a howl was heard when D. M. Clark, of Pitt County, introduced such a bill! The opposi-North Carolina learns to put blood above boodle, will her citizenship fail in its higher mission.

We are publishing this law in this issue, and we ask for its rigid enforcement in this community and elsewhere.
