"I have the honor to inform you that the international fleet is assembled in Montenegrin waters as a protest against the non-fulfillment of the wishes of the great powers. I desire to call your excellency's attention to the presence of the fleet as a proof that the great powers are acting in concert and request that their wishes be fulfilled without further delay Please inform me immediately that your government is ready to carry out the wishes of the great powers."

CONGRESS OPENS EXTRA SESSION

DEMOCRATS IN COMPLETE CON-TROL OF THE GOVERNMENT MACHINERY.

MUCH WORK WILL BE DONE

Genate Debated For Nearly an Hour on Propriety of President Wilson's Visit to Capital to Deliver Message By Word of Mouth.

Washington.-Congress, opening in extraordinary session under Democratic domination, was enlivened by the activities of a healthy youth, the Progressive organization in the House, and the invasion of petitionbearing suffragettes. But even these novelties were overshadowed by preparations for the event when President Wilson will deliver his tariff message by word of mouth to the Nation's lawmakers.

Victor Murdock, leader of the new Progressive party in the lower branch, aided by his small band of followers, attracted unusual interest and at the very outset stirred up a fight over the seating of Representative H. Olin Young of Michigan. The heralding of the coming of the President of the United States, however, was the principal subject of official and unofficial discussion. The Senate hesitated when a resolution, adopted previously by the House providing for a joint session to listen to President Wilson, was presented for its consideration. It was a stunning proposal. Not in the life time of any veteran statesman present had such a thing even been considered. History, they supposed, had closed on that custom a century or niore ago. First an effort was made to have the resolution lie over under the rule but Vice President Marshall ruled it was a resolution of the highest privilege. Before it was adopted Senator Williams of Mississippi, depreciated the President's decision to enter the halls of Congress and speak his mind to 'the people's representatives;" He expressed the hope that such an event never would occur again in the Administration. He doubted the wisdom of the move, averring that it could not aid in bringing about the legislation for which the people were clam-oring. In the House the resolution was adopted without debate as soon as Majority Leader Underwood introduced it. There, plans for the President's welcome took on a gala aspect.

Deputies Hoffman and Beck were sentenced to 14 days in jail and a fine of $60 each for a similar offense. Fourother deputies were acquitted.

Income Tax Amendment Bill.

Washington.-(Income tax) included in the Democratic tariff revision bill introduced in congress, is an income tax section which would require every resident of the United States who earns more than $4,000 a year to pay a tax of one per cent on his earnings in excess of the exemption. This would not require the man who earns $4,000 to pay a tax but it would demand that the individual who earned $4,100 for example, pay into the gov ernment treasury an annual tax of 1 per cent on $100 or $1.
