The tobacco market will open here on August the 20th. The farmers are busy now getting ready for the sales; as the weed is being cured. Utmost care should be taken in the preparation for the market. Why raise a crop of anything and spoil it in the harvesting.

The State Journal editorially says some sound things about "Fundamentals." There has been much discussion originating in the refusal of that school board at Charlotte to hire teachers because of their religion. From observation, that condition of things seem to prevail over the entire State.

Despite the wail which went up from the hotelists at Wrightsville, that resort is crowded to the limit. Strange that men of experience in the business should have to depend upon beer and booze to carry on one of the most delightful resorts on the Atlantic Coast. A few old soakers left, perhaps, but the great majority of people prefer a place where beer does not scent the air. The prohibition law should make the resort more popular.

Timely Articles

The Progressive Farmer has begun a series of articles on "How to Market Timber." Looking over the sales which have been made even in Martin County for the past twenty years, one will be struck with the value of any article which tends to put farmers in the right attitude toward his timber and the purchaser thereof. Many have recklessly squandered valuable timber preserves because of a lack of knowledge of how, when and where to sell. Very small sums have been received for some tracts, when if kept longer and sold judiciously, would have brought larger returns. Men have realized their mistakes when it was too late. Often the estimation of the quantity on a certain number of acres is far short of the total number of feet. Enough care has not been taken by the owner to properly designate how much is contained in the tract.

Martin County has suffered largely in this way. The waste in stumps, limbs, etc., is great. It is urged that the farmer sell his lightwood stumps to the turpentine man. These can be cut into small blocks and utilized by the distillers. Every little bit helps the farmer, who to be successful, must not waste anything that is his.

Negroes Should buy Land in Communities to Themselves

Chairman Clarence Poe announces that the Program Committee of the National Farmers' Union has asked Local Unions at their next meetings to discuss the problem of segregating the races in the South's rural districts as is already the policy in the towns. It is asserted that thousands of white farmers are being driven from their homes by the growing number of negro farmers around them and the consequent lack of adequate white social life. The hope is to develop a public sentiment which will require negroes to buy land in communities to themselves instead of breaking up white communities by indiscriminately sandwiching whites and negro farmers together. In discussing the matter further, Mr. Poe said:

"The big fact we have to face is that in thousands of communities in the South, the negro farmers are not only subjecting the white farmers to more or less disastrous economic competition by their lower standards of living, but in many sections the growing number of negroes is driving the white people to the towns for social reason. When the white population in a community becomes too small or too scattered, when the white farmer's wife and children find more negro neighbors than white neighbors around them, a tremendous motive is given for moving away—and if the farmer moves some negro will probably buy his land at a sacrifice because other white farmers have the same feeling and do not care to buy land in a predominately negro community. Such is the negro's flagrantly unfair advantage for driving white people off the farms and taking the rural South for himself. Public sentiment must find us a remedy."

Spiritual Insulation.

Many a man, who is now thrilled with the currents of the life of this modern age freely passing through him, is in danger or moral disaster, through defective spiritual insulation.
