Federal Game Law

On October first the President approved regulations drawn up by the United States Department of Agriculture at the direction of Congress, by the terms of which the Federal Government assumes control of all migratory game and insectivorous birds, and fixes closed seasons for the species affected. Laws enacted by the several states can lengthen but can not shorten these closed seasons fixed by Federal law.

Following is a synopsis of the closed seasons set for "Zone 2," which includes North Carolina:

Regulation 2.—A daily closed season on all migratory game and insectivorous birds shall extend from sunset to sunrise.

Regulation 3.—There shall be a perpetual closed season on the following migratory insectivorous birds and on all other perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly on insects: Bobolinks, catbirds, chickadees, cuckoos, flickers (yellow-hammer), flycatchers, grosbeaks, humming birds, kinglets, martins, meadowlarks, night hawks or bullbats, nuthatches, orioles, robins, shrikes, swallows, swifts, tanagers, titmice, thrushes, vireos, warblers, waxwings, whippoorwills, woodpeckers, and wrens.

Regulation 4.—A closed season shall continue until September 1, 1918, on the following migratory game birds: Band-tailed pigeons, little brown, sandhill, and whooping cranes, swans, curlew, and all shore birds except the black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jacksnipe, woodcock, and greater and lesser yellow legs.

Regulation 9.—(For the purpose of this regulation, each period of time herein prescribed as a closed season shall be construed to include the first day and to exclude the last day thereof.)

Closed seasons:
Waterfowl—February 1, to November 1.

Woodcock—January 1 to November 1.
Rails, Coots, Gallinules—December 1, to September 1.

The closed season on black-breasted and golden plover, jacksnipe or Wilson snipe, and greater and lesser yellow legs shall be December 16, to September 1.

It will be noted that these regulations make it a violation of the Federal laws to kill at any time meadowlarks, or robins, which are recognized by our State laws as game birds, and have open seasons fixed in which they may be hunted and killed.

Now that our supreme government has undertaken to protect our birds, those of us who are thoughtless enough to disregard the provisions set forth above, had better look out for Uncle Sam's Federal Court.

Congress has taken this step to preserve to us and to future generations, our insectivorous birds, because it has been conclusively proven that without the keeping down of pestiferous bug and insect life by the birds, this world would soon become uninhabitable; and because the rapid decrease of our migratory game birds makes it evident that uniform seasons, in which they may be killed, having regard for zones of temperature, breeding habits and migration, are necessary to prevent their total extinction.

Accordingly, it behooves us to further our own interests and comfort by supporting this wise measure and by encouraging our neighbors to follow our example.

J. W. CHESHIRE, Secretary.

The Audubon Society of North Carolina.

D. A. R. Meeting

The Gideon Lamb Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held their regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. Jos. H. Saunders on Wednesday evening. After the close of the regular business session, the husbands and escorts of the members were invited to come and partake of the refreshments prepared for the Chapter. At ten o'clock all were ushered into the dining room where was served an elegant supper which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The meeting adjourned to hold its next regular session at the residence of Mrs. John D. Biggs.

This was the first meeting since the adoption of the resolution inviting the men to participate in a part of the meeting, and they were unanimous in the opinion that if all the meetings had been anything like this, they had missed a great deal by not being admitted sooner.

Embroidery Club

Tuesday afternoon, Miss Anna Pope was hostess to the Embroidery Club at her residence on Houghton Street. There was present as honor guests, Mesdames Alonzo and C. B. Hassell, John and Henry Cook and Wheeler Martin, Sr. These with the full number of members, with one exception, made a most delightful party to enjoy the pleasures of the occasion. New books were distributed and the contents of workbags displayed. Little Misses Elizabeth Burras and Martha Cotten Crawford served refreshments in courses, which consisted of salads, fruits and cream. The hostess, who is intensely interested in floriculture, gave each guest a handsome chrysanthemum from her own garden. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. F. U. Barnes on November 18th.

"The Shepherd of The Hills"

"The Shepherd of the Hills," a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's novel of the same name by Mr. Wright and Elsbery W. Reynolds, is announced for production at the Opera House on Friday Nov. 14.

Never in the history of publishing of books has a novel attained such a wide-spread popularity in the short space of four years. It has exceeded by over one hundred thousand copies the sale of the previous biggest seller, "David Harum." In making a play of his story, the author, in collaboration with Mr. Reynolds, has retained the big dramatic possibilities of the book, making the love story of "Young Matt" and "Sammy Lane" his big theme. The play would be interesting even if it only depended upon its excellent character-drawing to entertain, as the characters of the mountaineers of the Ozarks are indeed unusual upon the stage and lend a picturesqueness that is really worth while.

A Correction

In the sworn list of those who voted AGAINST the bond issue for good roads in Hamilton Township on October 15th., the name of O. T. Everett failed to appear. It should have been number 18 on the said list and would have made the full number of 64 votes polled by the anti-road men. Also the correction of the date of the expiration of the commission of E. Edmondson, Notary Public. In the published statement of last week, it was made to appear 1913, when it should have been 1915.

Left Williamston

The resignation of Rev. Geo. J. Dowell, which went into effect on October 1st., deprived the town and community of an influence for good that may be approximated but not surpassed in future years. Coming here seven years ago, well known and beloved for past work, he entered into the life of this people, and his unfailing care not only for his own congregation but for all the people, shows wonderfully in the lives of a goodly number.

Feeling, however, that work elsewhere might be fuller, he has gone to Ayden and will serve La Grange and Winterville also. He has a larger field there and more opportunities for the advancement of the Master's Kingdom. Last week, he moved his household effects, and with Mrs. Dowell took up his residence in the thriving town of Ayden. There with his family to assist him, he will be a beacon light to point men to higher and better living, exemplifying in his character that life which to know is peace and joy. Williamston and the community regret the removal of this godly man and woman, and shall ever count their years here as blessed ones.

Pleasant Dance

Stags: Wheeler Martin, Robert W. Baker, Maurice Watts, Fred M. Shute, Leslie Fowden, Charlie B. Baker.

COATED TONGUE MEANS LAZY LIVER

A Lazy Liver Needs a Dose of Dodson's Liver Tonic—Guaranteed to Take Place of Calomel

When your doctor looks to see if your tongue is coated, he is trying to find out if your liver is working properly. A few years ago doctors had to prescribe calomel—there was nothing else to give.

Recently in many sections of the county Dodson's Liver Tonic has practically taken the place of calomel as a liver remedy. Dodson's Tonic is mild, pleasant tasting and harmless—which makes it a fine medicine for use when your children become bilious and constipated. But the most remarkable feature of Dodson's Liver Tonic is the fact that Saunders & Fowden who sell it, guarantees it absolutely. The druggist will return your money without argument if a bottle fails to give entire satisfaction.

Price, 50 cents. We suggest that you get a bottle today and have it ready for the next member of your family whose liver goes wrong.

Sexton—Gardiner

At the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gardiner two miles south of Jamesville, their second daughter Miss Lydia plighted the troth of Charlie C. Sexton, at half past Four o'clock

Sunday, in the presence of a large number of their friends and relatives, the solemn vows were spoken; the ceremony being performed by A. Corey Justice of the Peace.

Before the ceremony the parlor was filled to its utmost capacity leaving a small isle in the center of the room. Then came the following attendants, Mr. J. E. Sexton and Miss Martha Holiday, Mr. T. R. Martin and Miss Lena Brown, Mr. Sam Goddard and Miss Annabell Reddick, Mr. Bennie Lilley and Miss Dare Sexton, Mr. Nathan Lilley and Miss Mabel Sykes and Peyton Sykes and Miss Allene Sexton; then followed the bride and groom and stood at the hymeneal altar and listened to the solemn words that made the twain one.

Immediately the bridal party left for the home of the groom, where a sumptuous supper was served, after which the evening was spent in fun and merriment.

Old Fogysm

Being born in the county of Martin in the town of Hamilton, I notice in the columns of your paper which I frequently read, being a subscriber, I see there has been a good deal of agitation in the township where I once lived over the good roads movement, which I hoped would pass by a good majority.

Now I want to say this to those friends of mine, some of whom are old enough to be my father that I regret very much their actions in the matter. There is nothing more essential to the prosperity of a town or community at large than good roads I have often heard it said that good roads were more essential to the prosperity of a community than railroads. It would not be amiss to some of the antis to get out of the community and see the progress their neighbors are making towards the good roads movement.

The people who want good roads in my opinion are divided into two classes, those who want pleasure roads, and those who want business roads. The business roads class are the men who want roads from their barns to the nearest market. They are not in town this morning, they are at home picking cotton and peanuts, they have no time to argue the subject with those who have nothing to do but sit up and campaign against the issue.

The men who want pleasure roads want I suppose, the state of North Carolina to build for them a highway of great perfection for them to ride upon in ease and luxury. I say again that the majority of voters in the town of Hamilton personally are not concerned whether they have good roads or bad roads, and I do hereby challenge any of the voters in the town of Hamilton to give a good reason through the columns of your paper WHY they voted against the good roads movement.

J. WALDO GRIMES.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3rd. 1913.
