

Words From
Andrew Carnegie

Andrew Carnegie's words concerning saving should carry weight. He has tried it and he knows. He says:

"For every dollar you can produce as a result of hard earned savings, midas, in search of a partner, will lend on credit a thousand. It is not capital that men require; it is the man who has proved that he has the business habits that create capital."

Suppose you begin forming business habits by placing your first deposit with us tomorrow.

We Are Thankful for Our Friends

We believe the large increase both in total deposits and number of individual depositors at this bank during the past year has been accomplished largely through the good offices of our friends. The good words spoken of us by our patrons are our best advertisements and appreciated more than we can express in cold type. Much of our increase of business is due to the kind words of friends.

Dowell-Weaver

A pretty but simple home wedding was solemnized Nov. 17th., at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Weaver, on North Person street, extended, when their daughter, Lillian Euna, became the bride of Mr. George J. Dowell, Jr.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home, which was tastefully and beautifully decorated in ferns, palms and yellow chrysanthemums with an added touch of the soft glow of lighted candles, in the presence of a large crowd of relatives and friends. Mr. John Murdock acted as usher and was assisted by Misses Olivia and Grace Harris. Miss Maud Johnson presided at the piano and while the guests collected rendered several appropriate selections. As a processional Lohengrin's march was played and during the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" was the selection.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred Weaver, and met before a background of large palms the groom and his best man, Mr. A. Y. Dowell, of Wake Forest, his brother. Here the sacred vows were given by Rev. George J. Dowell, of Ayden, father of the groom. The bride was attired in a blue coat suit with hat and gloves to match and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony the guests were invited into the gift room, where a beautiful array of hand-some presents were admitted.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Weaver and is an attractive young lady with a host of friends. Mr. Dowell is the son of Rev. and Mrs. George J. Dowell, of Ayden, and is a young man of sterling qualities. He is well known and has a large circle of friends in the Eastern part of the State. Mr. and Mrs. Dowell will reside in Raleigh.—News & Observer.

"Paid in Full"

The second production here of "Paid in Full" was given at the Opera House on Wednesday evening. Numbers of people who saw it before were delighted again. The staging and impersonation of each character were pleasing. There was not a weak point in the acting of either person in the caste. "Jimsy" Smith won the hearts of the audience at once, and the selfishness and duplicity of "Joe Brooks" was clearly demonstrated in every word he uttered. "Emma" and "Bess" with "Capt. Williams" made up a cast which could not fail to please the most critical
