A Handsome Sign

Maurice Moore and John Manning of the Williamston Electric Company have modeled and erected a handsome sign for the Electric and Telephone Companies. It has been suspended before the Godard building where the offices of the companies are located. The letters are enameled on stained glass and the conception of and work on the sign are creditable to the young men. The light within is strong and glowing, so that the sign can be seen up and down the length of the street.

In Honor Of Miss Hassell

Last Friday afternoon, the elegant residence of Mrs. Wheeler Martin was the scene of a most delightful "at home" in honor of Miss Mary Hassell. White and pink was the color scheme and was carried out in decorations of dogwood and other flowers which made the interior a bower of beauty. Tables for Rook were arranged and places assigned by cards, and the game, which was pleasant throughout, commenced. After the game was finished a delicious ice cream course was served. Then came the surprise of the occasion. Beneath an attractive wedding bell with pink decorations, the bride-elect stood and down came a shower of beautiful handkerchiefs, gifts of the guests and hostess. This marked the fourth occasion on which Miss Hassell has been the honoree.

LOCAL

Full moon tomorrow. May tenth is Confederate Memorial Day. It falls on Sunday this year and the day following will be observed. Remember the Battle of Gettysburg at the Gaiety next Wednesday night. There will be no services at the Episcopal Church on Sunday. Fly time, mosquito time and cleaning-up time. Let's get on the job. Revive the memories of the war by seeing the Battle of Gettysburg on next Wednesday. Get a special ticket for the children and take them to see the Battle of Gettysburg at the Gaiety next week. I will preach (D. V.) at the home of Joseph Lilley on Sunday next at 2 o'clock.—J. L. Cherry. Rev. Morrison Bethea attended the meeting of the Knight Templars at New Berne this week, and preached to the Commandery in Christ Church on Thursday. The meeting held for two weeks by Rev. Jesse James ended here with the Sunday evening service. During the entire time, good crowds heard Mr. James and many were impressed with his preaching. Once or twice several of his helpers spoke in the unknown tongue, as they call it.

Cherry-Glenn

Tuesday morning at the home of the bride's parents on Brogden St., Mr. Marshall Cherry and Miss Carrie Glenn were married, Rev. J. Dallas Howell, pastor of the Baptist Church, giving the vows. The bride was attractively dressed in a traveling suit of cloth with hat and gloves to match, and carried a lovely bouquet. The bride is the daughter of Mr. R. A. Glenn and has many friends here who wish for her years of unalloyed happiness. Numerous presents attested the esteem in which she is held. The groom is a well-to-do farmer, who has recently located in Williamston and furnished a comfortable home for his bride. After the ceremony, they entered an automobile and drove to the station, where they boarded the cars for Norfolk.

Lecture Sunday

Rev. R. L. Davis Chairman of the N. C. Anti-Saloon League will lecture at the town hall Sunday May the 10th at eleven o'clock A. M. and at 8 P. M. Music by the Choirs of the town. Everybody invited.

Hopkins-Brown

The Baptist Church was the scene of a very pretty marriage ceremony on Tuesday evening at eight thirty o'clock when Miss Jessie Brown became the wife of Mr. J. B. Hopkins. The church was prettily decorated in white and pink, the chandeliers were shaded in pink and beautiful spring blossoms of white and pink were placed on the pulpit and in other parts of the church, and the effect was very charming and becoming to the young ladies of the wedding party. Mrs. Warren Biggs played several selections from the opera "Calveira Rusticana", while the spectators were being assembled, and at the appointed hour she began the march from Lohengrin which signalled the approach of the bridal party. The first to enter were Mr. David Brown and Mr. Gordon James, who were followed by Misses Mattie Gurganus and Myrtle Woolard, who wore beautiful evening dresses of white and carried large bunches of pink sweet peas, these young ladies were followed by the bridegroom and his best man Mr. Fred Shute, of Roanoke Rapids, who preceded the bride and her sister, Miss Mary Dare Brown, who acted as maid of honor. The bride wore a beautiful bridal gown of white satin, with the veil and orange blossoms, and carried a large and graceful bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, and never looked more beautiful than on this occasion, her English type of beauty was greatly enhanced by her becoming costume. Miss Mary Dare Brown wore a becoming gown of pink and carried a large bunch of pink roses. Rev. J. D. Howell impressively gave the wedding vows, using the ring service. After the marriage the party left the church and was carried in automobiles to the residence of Mr. Eli Gurganus where a reception was given.

Miss Mattie Gurganus gave a reception at her residence on Main Street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hopkins on Tuesday evening from nine to eleven o'clock. The residence was tastily and prettily decorated in white and pink, the color scheme at the church. Miss Gurganus and Mr. James met the guests at the door and they were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, who received in the drawing room by Miss Myrtle Woolard and Mr. Brown. Miss Mary Dare Brown and Mr. Fred Shute served punch in the hall during the evening.

Appointed Superintendent

The Board of Education of Martin County composed of J. T. Waldo, L. B. Wynn, and W. H. Biggs met on Monday and appointed Asa J. Manning to succeed R. J. Peel as Superintendent of Public Instruction of Martin County, Mr. Peel having assumed the duties of the office of the Clerk of the Court on that day. The selection of Mr. Manning was expected, as the Board of Education is wise in its policy towards the betterment of the schools of the County. Mr. Manning is a teacher by profession, having spent the greater part of his life in the school room, and he is a successful teacher and is thoroughly in touch with the system and the present day needs of public schools. He possesses a personality which will make him welcome in every school house in the county and his quick perception will enable him to see readily any need requiring attention. He is a popular and useful minister in the Christian Church, and has been Cashier of the Bank of Jamesville since its establishment. His duties as superintendent will necessitate the giving up of the latter position. The Board of Education is to be highly commended for its action in appointing Mr. Manning to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Peel.

Judge Connor's Candidacy

Judge George W. Connor has announced his candidacy for the nomination for the Judgeship of this (2nd) District at the next Judicial Convention. Judge Connor's manner has been very pleasing since his appointment to the bench, and he has made friends wherever he has been. He is a young man of the highest integrity and has great promises as Judge. We predict that Martin County will give him a unanimous vote to succeed himself. The Judicial Convention has been called to meet at Rocky Mount on May 30th., 1914.

Messrs. J. B. Watters, C. B. Harrison, N. S. Peel and James Sitterson are attending the Confederate Reunion at Jacksonville, Fla., this week. Delightful refreshments were served to the many guests. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins received many congratulations and good wishes, and each one present wished for them a long life-filled with joy and happiness.

PERSONAL

Miss Florence Hornthal returned to Plymouth Sunday. Dr. B. L. Long was here on Monday. Miss Annie Fagan was the guest of her brother, F. F. Fagan, at Rocky Mount Sunday. Miss Hannah Vic Fowden is visiting Mrs. C. B. Clark in Durham this week. Attorney E. L. Stewart, of Washington, was here Tuesday on business. Gordon James left Wednesday morning for Parmele to attend the funeral of his niece, Mrs. Thomas Whitley. Fountain Lipscomb left Wednesday for Norfolk. Mrs. F. R. Freeman, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Hermon Hornthal, of Norfolk, are the guests of Mrs. James S. Rhodes. Dr. J. E. Smithwick was here from Jamesville Wednesday. Mrs. C. M. Lanier, Chas. Biggs and Richard Smith are at home from Arden. David Carter with a party of friends was here from Washington Sunday. Wiley Rogerson was here from Robersonville Monday. J. L. Croom was in town Monday attending the session of the Board of County Commissioners. Rev. A. J. Manning spent Monday in town on business. A Corey newly appointed postmaster at Jamesville, was in town Monday. Messrs. Jno. W. Manning and Henry G. Gurganus spent Sunday evening in Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everett after a visit here of several weeks, left Sunday for New York City. W. B. Watts spent Sunday here.

Bellflower-Johnson

At the home of Mr. Charles Johnson, father of the bride, near Oak City on April 30th., 1914, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., Mr. John Bellflower and Miss Ida Johnson were married in the presence of a number of friends, Rev. J. T. Stanford, of Williamston, performing the ceremony. Mrs. Benjamin Everett skillfully rendered the Wedding March, playing softly during the giving of the vows. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bellflower left for a trip North. The bride and groom are popular young people of the Oak City section and have a host of friends who desire their continued happiness.

Bitten By Puppy.

About ten days ago, a mad dog bit three dogs owned by Leon Stalls, son of W. L. Stalls, but the animals were not killed. Tuesday morning one of the puppies bit Leon, and fearing rabies, he had the animal killed and forwarded the head to Raleigh for examination. Should the examiner find any sign of the rabies, Leon will go immediately to Raleigh for treatment. It is never safe to trust any dog which has been bitten by another supposed to have been mad at the time.

Soiree-Dansant

A most pleasing and novel entertainment was the soiree-dansant given on last Friday evening at the close of the dancing class which has been conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tilden, of Pittsburg, Penn. The affair was somewhat in the nature of a cabaret, tables at which the dancers sat were placed about the ball room, and during the evening light refreshments were served. A committee composed of Messrs. C. B. Hassell, John L. Hassell and P. F. Apfel were appointed to judge the best dancers during the evening and they decided to award the prizes to Miss Annie Lamb and Harry Biggs. Mr. and Mrs. Tilden are very graceful exponents of the modern dances and during their class they gave instructions in the Spanish Waltz, La Crompton, Castle Waltz, Lame Duck and the Hesitation. Those present were: Misses Della Lanier, Annie Lamb, Anna Beth Purvis, Eloise Meadows, Annie Fagan, Irene Smith, Mary Hassell, Mrs. Carrie Biggs Williams, Mrs. J. S. Rhodes, Mrs. J. G. Staton, Mrs. Kader B. Crawford, Mrs. C. B. Hassell, Mrs. P. F. Apfel, Mrs. P. B. Cone, Mrs. F. U. Barnes, Mrs. E. W. Keith, and Messrs. Wilson G. Lamb, Jr., Charles H. Godwin, Clayton Moore, Harry A. Biggs, W. H. Jackson, Oscar Anderson, W. H. Gurkin, Collins Peele, Charles B. Baker, Kader B. Crawford, J. G. Staton, Dr. P. B. Cone, John L. Hassell, C. B. Hassell, Dr. J. S. Rhodes and Maurice Watts.
