

SMALL RESENTS AFFRONTS GIVEN

CONGRESSMAN SAYS ACTION OF CONGRESS INSULT TO EDUCATION BOARD.

DISPATCHES FROM RALEIGH

Doings and Happenings That Mark the Progress of North Carolina People Gathered Around the State Capitol.

Raleigh. Washington—Representative Small, in a speech to the house protested against what he termed a proposed insult by Congress to the General Education Board, which is one of the philanthropies sustained by John D. Rockefeller. In his speech he paid tribute to the work which the Rockefeller funds have accomplished in North Carolina and other Southern States.

The occasion of the speech was an amendment by the senate to the agricultural appropriation bill. The house bill had appropriated $273,240 for the farmers' co-operative demonstrations and boll weevil study, but the senate added $300,000 to this appropriation with a proviso that none of this amount should be used in co-operation with funds from the General Education Board. The house conferees accepted the amendment, but changed the language so as to prohibit anybody outside the various states from contributing and did not mention the General Education Board by name.

The senate objected to the use of the General Education Board's money on the ground that form demonstrators were employed by the government but paid only a nominal salary by Uncle Sam, the bulk of their salaries being paid by the Rockefeller fund. The senate decided that the loyalty of these demonstrators would lie where their salary came, from rather than to the government which nominally employed them. Therefore, the Senate wanted no divided loyalty.

Mr. Small pointed out in his speech that Rockefeller's money has done a wonderful amount of good in North Carolina and that it will become the state or congress, after having accepted this money and used it when the work was in its primary stage, now to spurn it and add insult by specifying the general education board in the bill. He said that when the hookworm work was first begun in North Carolina there was a great prejudice against it, both to the Rockefeller money and to the work itself. He said, however, that this prejudice has completely disappeared and that now the 100 counties in the state have appropriated an average of $250 each and that the state has appropriated $800,000.

National Forests in North Carolina.

Washington.—The following statement was issued by the Department of Agriculture "The National Forest Reservation Commission approved for purchase by the Government a number of tracts in Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia totalling over 27,000 acres. About 13,500 acres is in North Carolina, principally in the Mount Mitchell region about 7,000 acres in Tennessee and 6,000 acres in West Virginia. This will conclude the purchase for the fiscal year closing June 30, 1914, during which the areas approved for purchase have totaled nearly 400,000 acres at an average price of $4.96 an acre.

"The lands selected for acquisition by the Government for National forest purposes in the East since the purchase policy was inaugurated in 1910 are now 1,105,000 acres, having a purchase price of $5,560,000. About $2,000,000 of the original appropriation remains available for use in the fiscal year 1915.

Feeble-Minded Guarded by State.

The trustees of the North Carolina School For the Feeble-Minded, located at Kinston announce the formal opening July the first.

The last Legislature provided that only children between the ages of six and 21 years be admitted. The committee on admission has decided that to begin with children will be admitted in the following order:

First the highest grade girls between the ages of six and 21 years; second the highest grade boys between the ages of six and 21 years. Then if accommodations are not all taken lower grades will be admitted in the discretion of the superintendent. The applications already on file will be given preference.

It is understood that this is not a graduate school, nor is it a school to fit children for college, but it is a training school, where subnormal children will be taken and given training in whatever direction is best suited to the individual child. Some children of the lower grades may not be able to take training at all in the regular courses given, in which case, they will be given manual training, and such intellect as they may have will be cultivated in this way: to make them as nearly self-supporting as may be possible and to make them happy therein.

The public is invited to visit the institution and the various departments. Those in the vicinity and nearby will strictly observe Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5. No company will be received on Sunday afternoons except by special invitation of the superintendent, as Sunday school and devotional exercises will be held from 3 to 4 o'clock in the winter and from 3:30 to 4:30 in the summer.

Road Builders to Meet Soon.

The annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association will be held in Durham July 8th and 9th at which time the road men will endeavor to thresh out the problems of road building in those communities which are not financially able to vote a bond issue. Practically every county in the state will be represented. A large number of counties in the state have within the past year and since the last meeting of the association voted money for road improvement and it is expected that quite a number of counties which hitherto have reported poor progress in road building will have a different story to tell at the approaching meeting.

The officers of the North Carolina Good Roads Association are: President H. B. Varner, Lexington; Secretary, Joseph Hyde Pratt, Chapel Hill; treasurer, Jos. G. Browne, Raleigh; vice-president, J. L. Patterson, Roanoke Rapids; R. L. May, Trenton; M. C. Winston, Selma; P. H. Hanes, Winston-Salem; P. B. Bearn, Salisbury; F. M. Shannonhouse, Charlotte; E. C. Chamrebrs, Asheville; A. B. Skelding, Wilmington; H. E. Stacy, Rowland.

Huggins and others for installing light plants; and the Ottaway Theater Company, Charlotte, capital $20,000 authorized, and $6,000 subscribed by Otto Haas, J. W. Andrews and L. L. Little for moving picture, vaudeville and other theatrical business.

Craig Invited to Philadelphia.

Governor Locke Craig has received an invitation from the Council Committee on the great Fourth of July celebration in Philadelphia to attend that great occasion. The thirteen original states are asked to send their Governors. It will be the first time that a President of the United States has ever spoken in Independence Hall, the last time that a man afterward made President, being July 4, 1776. Several Presidents were about there then but it was a celebration of the baby nation.

ATLANTA SEEKS AID

SUGGESTS CO-OPERATION IN BRINGING THE EXHIBIT SOUTH.

CHARLOTTE WANTS IT ALSO

Committee of Textile Exhibitors' Association Will Visit The Cities to Ascertain the Advantages.

Charlotte.—Is Charlotte to secure the half-million-dollar exhibit of American textile machinery next year?

The question is being viewed from a new angle here owing to the presence of two Atlantians who came to ask Charlotte's co-operation in obtaining a decision favorable to the South in the first place, the choice then to lie between Charlotte and Atlanta, or other Southern cities.

The Atlanta representatives are Mr. W. R. C. Smith, president of the W. R. C. Smith Publishing Company, and Mr. L. L. Arnold, editor of Cotton. The Smith Company publishes the Southern Engineer, Southern Machinery and Cotton, and Electrical Engineering.

President Hook of the Greater Charlotte Club and local cotton men have been working for several months with the object of securing the mammoth textile exhibit for this city, since it would bring thousands of cotton mill men here from all sections of the United States. And the simultaneity of time and identity of place of meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association adds enhanced interest. Mr. Stuart W. Cramer of this city is president and Mr. Clarence B. Bryant of this city is secretary-treasurer of the latter.

After a conference between Messrs. Smith and Arnold on the one hand and Mr. Hook, the latter announced that Charlotte would have a proposition to submit to the committee.

The argument made by the Atlantians is that the first thing to do is to convince the committee that the South is the logical place for this exhibit; since this is the off-year between the two biennial times at which it is regularly held in Boston. The Charlotteans saw cogency in this argument and agreed to co-operate in this effort.

The exhibit will require 120,000 feet of floor space. This can be secured in the new building which is to be erected on West First street by the Piedmont & Northern interests. Between 1,000 and 1,500 machinists and demonstrators would be required to care for the machinery. Clearly this would be about the biggest thing that ever hit Charlotte. There was a paid attendance of over 2,000 persons during the 1914 exhibit held in Mechanics' Hall, Boston.

Horse Show in July.

Asheville.—Plans are coming rapidly to a head for Asheville's annual horse show and July 30 and 31 have been named as the tentative dates for this year's exhibitions. Disastrous financial experiences of past shows have led the promoters to eliminate cash premiums, this year's show being arranged merely for the entertainment of the officers in attendance upon the summer training camp of the government and Asheville lovers of horse flesh.

Cups and ribbons will constitute the awards and the show will be on a smaller scale this year. However, those who are interested in the approaching event desire that it will be none the less interesting as many have expressed their intentions of entering their animals. Social events which have been lacking at former shows will be included in this year's program, according to tentative plans, arrangements being under way for several dances and dinners during the horse show week.

State Good Roads' Meeting.

Winston-Salem.—"The approaching convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association to be held in Raleigh early in July," said P. H. Hanes, "is one of greatest importance and the next few years present a field of operation that will mean much to the development of the state, and an opportunity for this body to accomplish things in the way of road building."

To Build Prizeries.

Warsaw.—A committee appointed by the Board of Trade has been soliciting subscriptions with which to build two prize houses to care for the tobacco crops. This matter has met with favor among the people who have been asked to take stock in the project, and several hundred dollars have been subscribed. It is the intention to make this a stock company, and to have these houses ready to care for the crops this season. Although the size and capacity of the buildings could not be learned at this time.

Morganton Makes Improvements.

Morganton.—Extensive town improvements are being made here and in a few months Morganton will in several respects be right up with the larger towns. Work was commenced on the installation of a white way along Main street and in front of the court house square. Eighteen poles with five lights each will be put up. The white way will mark the passing of the wooden poles in the streets and both telephone and electric light poles will be removed at once. Work is well under way on the street.

Makes Jobs for Detectives.

Probably the only people to benefit by recent suffragette outrages are private detectives, many of whom are doing little else just now but guarding pictures and other treasures of well-known hosts and hostesses from attacks at social functions, the London Globe states.

The head of one private detective Agency told me the other day, says "The Carpenter" in the Express, that he had been obliged to engage a special staff for this work, and that to some receptions he has sent as many as a dozen faultlessly attired "guests" to look after the pictures and china of the host.

ITCHING, BURNING ERUPTION

Thomasville, Ala.—"I suffered with eczema on my hands and feet two or three years. About eleven years ago I became troubled with an itching, burning eruption which came on my hands and feet in little water blisters and in about a day or two when I would let the water out or wash it out, using my hands, then the places would fester and itch to beat the band. I could not do any work that was rough on my hands at all. It caused me great suffering and inconvenience.

"I tried everything that I knew of or was told and never was really relieved until I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would wash the parts in water with the Cuticura Soap and then when I dried them I would apply the Cuticura Ointment on the surface in the daytime, and at night I would get a soft piece of cloth and apply the Cuticura Ointment on my hands and let it stay that way all night. A perfect cure was effected. No one will ever know how glad I was to get my hands and feet cured." (Signed) Geo. C. Crook, Nov. 25, 1912. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Must Have Stirred Audience.

Dan Daly once essayed the legitimate. It was in his early days. All he had to do was to come to the center of the stage at a critical moment and shout:

"The king is dead; long live the king!"

When the time came Mr. Daly promptly assumed the correct dramatic pose, but for a moment was so agitated that words failed him. Then he belted at the top of his voice: "Long live the king—he's dead!"

PARADISE FOR THE BIRDS

Providence Seems to Have Provided Temperate Zone for the Feathered Friends of Man.

Up in the far country where the timber falls, the calendar is respected. There is no summer before the official day set for it. The ground is held fast by frost until June is well started. There are furies of snow, wild, bitter winds, a sky that has no mercy. And then, suddenly, the wind shifts and comes out of the south. It is summer then with a leap.

The interest of the temperate zone in the northland is that it is there that have gone a great many of the migrating birds which paid us a few days' visit and passed on. For all its inhospitality to man, that country in summer is a paradise for birds. Its marshes are safe refuges from two and four-footed enemies. There is exhaustless material for nests. And out of the pools come myriads of insects, food that does not fall until the time for the southward bird movement arrives.

Some man has said that there is no God north of latitude 59. He did not inquire as to what the birds, might have thought of that.—Toledo Blade.

The Way of Progress.

The dog barking at a passing automobile is generally supposed to be as telling a symbol of futile objection to the march of progress as could well be imagined. In almost the same category, however, belongs the strike of the stevedores in New Orleans against the introduction of the electric truck to transport freight between vessels and warehouses. The wonder is that this improvement has been so long delayed instead of only now appearing—and then as a source of a new labor difficulty. One cannot have much sympathy for opposition in this particular instance. The motor vehicle in all of its forms has come to stay, and the rest of the world has been rather rapidly adjusting itself to the new condition.—Engineering Record.

New Modern Dancing

The leading expert and instructor in New York City, writes: "Dear Sir:—I have used ALLEN'S FOOT-POWDER, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, for the past ten years. It is a blessing to all who are compelled to be on their feet. I dance eight or ten hours daily, and find that ALLEN'S FOOT-POWDER keeps my feet cool, takes the friction from the shoe, prevents corns and blisters, aching feet. I recommend it to all my pupils." Anvil on the Scales.

It is customary when a militant suffragette is placed on trial in England for her friends to while away their time in court by bounding shoes, bags of flour and bales of pamphlets on the magistrate's brow. This conduct is calculated to bias—if not brain—the court.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.
