EVERETTS HIGH SCHOOL CLOSED 1920-21 SESSION ON LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Everetts High School closed one of its best years work last week with an attractive program that included Thursday night, Friday and Friday night. One of the main features was the graduating exercises and picnic dinner on Friday. The graduating class sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" and Rev. W. O. Biggs of Robersonville led in prayer. Supt. C. L. Daniels introduced Mr. R. J. Peel, who made a short speech on the housing need of the Everetts School. He made reference to the comparatively recent time when they only had one room and many thought it extravagant to build an extra room; yet the house has grown to a four room house and still it is much too small now. Mr. Peel used some startling figures in comparing the expenditures for education and for pleasures. He made the statement that the people of the United States spend more money last year for unnecessary things of life than had been spent for public education since the United States has been discovered. Mr. Peel's speech was a masterful appeal, a powerful effort to arouse the people to the need of better educational facilities.

The Superintendent then introduced Mr. A. V. Joyner of Williamston, who made a fine address upon "The Making of Good Citizenship." He emphasized the wisdom of training the boys and girls of today—who are to make the men and women of tomorrow. The greatest task of any people is the training of its boys and girls. He showed how too often in the attempt to raise better crops and improve our stock the primary function of raising better citizens was lost sight of. He called attention to the wisdom of educating body as well as mind. The fact that when we make a careful investigation of our young men from 21 to 30 years of age we find one third of them unfit physically is cause for alarm. The fact that when the call for service came and the challenge to the young manhood of America was sounded so many of our youth failed to pass a successful physical examination shows the necessity of training Joyner especially emphasized the desiring of the body as well as the mind. Mr. Joyner's influence of the moving picture show and its tendency to cheapen morals. One of the greatest things that should be taught children is how to live among others, the gospel of give and take.

After the address the Superintendent called the graduating class to the platform and Mr. A. J. Manning, the County Superintendent, delivered Grammar School certificates to the following: Mary Faulkner, Ruth Burroughs, Irma Raynor, Sudie Keel, Ruth Bailey, Susie Bailey, Nellie Mae Barnhill, Selma Stalls, Elsie Peel, Blanche Barnhill, Leman Barnhill, C. B. Clark, Dillon Peel and Clarence Faulkner.

This the 9th day of April, 1921.
H. L. BRITTON, Executor.

THE WEEKLY REVIEW OF MARKET CONDITIONS

The following is a weekly review of marketing conditions as compiled and sent out by the U. S. Bureau of Markets:

Hay: Light receipts and limited demand continue to represent conditions in practically all the larger hay markets. Prices slightly higher in a few markets because of light offerings. Quoted, May 13, No. 1 Timothy, N. Y., $29, Chicago, $26, Cincinnati, $21.50, Atlanta, $23, No. 1 Alfalfa, Kansas City, $25, Memphis, $29, Atlanta, $33, No. 1 Prairie, Kansas City, $15.

Feed: Wheat feeds slightly easier. Light demand for linseed meal and corn feeds. Cotton seed meal firm because of export demand. Very few price changes during the week. Quoted May 13: Spring bran, N. Y., $26, Chicago, $19, Hard winter bran, Kansas City, $17, middlings, about $1 less. Linseed meal, N. Y., $36, Chicago, $30.50, Kansas City, $31, cotton seed meal, Memphis, $27, Kansas City, $35, alfalfa meal, Chicago, $22, Kansas City, $18.50, gluten feed, Philadelphia, $33.21, Chicago, $26.00, Cincinnati, $21.

Dairy Products: Butter markets weak; prices tendency downward. Steadier feeling prevailed early in the week due to light supply fancy goods, but heavy accumulation medium and undergrades caused markets to break. Production on increase and many shipments showing full grass flavor. Consumptive demand good. Closing price, 92 score: N. Y. and Chicago, 30c; Philadelphia, 31c; Boston, 30 1/2c.

Wheat: These markets lower than week ago and now at lowest point since 1915. Current business not up to expectations and while somewhat more active than it has been, price are slightly weaker than a few days ago. Wisconsin primary markets now averaging: Twins, 14c; Daisies 14 1/2c; Double daisies, 14c; Young Americas, 14 1/2c; Longhorns, 13 3/4c.

May 13 prices good meats: beef, $14.75 to $16; veal $15 to $17; lamb, $22 to $26; mutton $16 to $18; light pork loins, $20 to $24; heavy loins $15 to $19.

Grain: Market trend uncertain most of the week; sentiment and news mixed. Sharp return on eleventh due acceptance Allied terms by Germany and statement Secretary Wallace that price level fifty per cent above prewar basis would benefit whole country. There were numerous returns principally on reports of damage in Southwest but prices failed to hold due weakened technical position and lack of outside report. On the 18th passage of Tincher bill by House of Representatives caused lack of buying power and lower prices but over sold condition developed and prices rallied from low points. Trade members rather upset over legislation and afraid to take buying side. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat $1.48; No. 2 hard, $1.52; No. 3, mixed corn, 60c; No. 3, yellow corn, 61c; No. 3, white oats, 39c.

Fruits and vegetables: Northern sacked round white potatoes up 1c to 2c per 100 lbs. at shipping points, closing 75c to 95c. Chicago carload market up 20c at $1 to $1.10. South Carolina No. 1 Irish cobbles $7 to $7.25 per cloth top slat barrel, New York. Texas sacked Bliss Triumps steady middlewestern cities at $4.2 to $4.75 per 100 lbs.

New York Baldwin apples up 50c per barrel eastern city wholesale markets. A 2 1/2 cold storage stock to $8. Medium to large size extra fancy Northwestern winesaps up 25c per box Chicago at $3 to $3.50; small sizes, $2.25 to $2.75.

New Jersey yellow sweet potatoes $2.75 to $3 per bushel hamper to jobbers N. Y., May 13; Maryland and Delaware stock, $1.65 to $2.15 in eastern markets.

Cotton: Spot cotton declined 12 points, closing at 11.53 per lb. New York May futures down 39 points at 12.30c.

THE FIGHT IN THE MOUNTAINS

The strike between the strikers and the police force in the Tug river valley between West Virginia and Kentucky has been very bitter and many persons on each side have been either killed or wounded. The used machine guns on each side and it has been dangerous to ride the Norfolk and Western trains at time when the battles were raging. The valley is filled with mining huts for miles along the railroad and there has never been a very friendly feeling between the miners and the people in charge of them. Some say one side is at fault and some say that the other is wrong. Still others say that both sides are at fault. But the situation is serious, nevertheless.

NEWS LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

(Special to The Enterprise)
Raleigh, May 17.—Raleigh is all dressed up in bunting and flags today in honor of the Spring Ceremonial of Sudan Temple, A. A. O. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which event will be pulled off here Wednesday, and Thursday of this week. The parade will be the usual spectacular feature of such occasions.

At the second meeting of the state board of equalization, which is being held this week in the office of the commissioner of revenue, the matter of horizontal cuts in valuation of property by counties is being taken up. There are forty of the one hundred counties that have made such cuts. The equalization board is making an effort to ascertain the market value of this property under average conditions, and will order such cuts as are necessary to make the values in all the counties conform to the general rule of true value in money.

The Department of Revenue is this week sending out notices to the various corporations from which the state will collect a franchise tax. The collection of this tax will begin the present month and the department is mindful that the state treasury will need the funds to meet general expenses. Corporations are therefore urged to fill out the blanks and make payment as early as possible so as to save the state from making more short-term notes than is actually necessary.

The strike of union printers and pressmen and bookbinders for a half day off (without pay) Saturdays, is still on in Raleigh, with four of the largest job-offices trying to operate without complying with the demand and running 48 hours per week. They are making but poor headway, however, and the firms admit they are losing money every day. Only a few unskilled and non-union workers are on duty, and the union men say they are only one way for the offices to operate successfully, and that is by adopting the plan asked by the unions. Three job offices that granted the half day Saturday without pay are operating as usual and one of these is arranging to put a double force at work on two shifts.

The Raleigh local typographical union is older than the national typographical body, and this is the first time it has had a serious difference with the printing offices. The printers assert that the refusal of the employing printers is based on the attempt to break up organized labor and labor unions of all kinds prevalent in some other cities. There is not much chance to break up the Raleigh typographical union, as the printers national organization is the strongest of all.

CHAUTAQUA

The Chautauqua opens Saturday, and all who can possibly attend should purchase season tickets as they only cost one half the amount that admission at the gate costs. Ten good entertainments that are classical and clean only costs two dollars and a half for adults and one dollar for children. It would cost you that much to see the play, "Nothing But the Truth," in a City for one performance only. Buy your season ticket before the opening.

RAIN HOLDS UP FARM WORK

The long series of rains that have been very heavy in some parts have been very heavy in some sections are holding farm work back very much. The corn crop seems to be small but there is a good stand. The cotton crop is not up well yet and where up looks yellow and diseased. Tobacco is not growing much but there is a better stand than usual. Peanuts are not coming up because of too much cloudy weather. Oats, potatoes and pastures are very good.

ROAD MEETING

Mr. W. A. Hart, road commissioner will be in Williamston on Tuesday the twenty-fourth, and a large attendance of good roads people from every section of the county and from all adjoining counties are expected to be in attendance. Be sure to invite a friend and come to the meeting yourself.

She was taken with an acute case and was rushed to Washington where she was operated on but not until too late. She was buried at her home by the side of her husband, the late Halsey Hardison, who has been dead about five years. She leaves eight children, her father, Augustus Davis, one brother and three sisters.

RESERVE BANKS LOSE

The United States Supreme Court has just handed down a decision denying the Federal Reserve Banks the right to force correspondent banks to clear at par.

This means much to the small banks of the country and will mean a much better rate of earnings to them. A lower court in the state of Georgia held that the Reserve banks had a right to do so and the decision of this lower court was reversed by the Supreme court of the United States. Our bankers will be glad to know that the decision of the lower court has been overruled.

WILLIAMSTON WINS FROM EVERETTS, 9-1

(By A. Scrub.)

It will be remembered that some time ago our neighboring town of Everetts sent a group of representatives down here and defeated the local team at baseball, on our own grounds, and in ten innings to the tune of 14 to 11. Last Saturday afternoon quite a different affair was staged in Everett and after the game had dragged along for seven sessions the Williamstonians were leading, and the score was 9 to 1! The game did not start until five o'clock and hence had to be called at the end of the seventh on account of darkness.

The feature of the day for Williamston was the all round fielding and teamwork of the entire team. Despite the rough, uneven ground, which put "bad hops" on the old pill, only three errors were chalked up against the locals and one of these could be credited to the umpire. George D. Wynne, pitched another good game, letting Everetts down with five hits, three of which were scratches. Raymond Taylor led in the stickwork, getting two doubles out of four tries. Charles Biggs was a close second with a double and a single and Harry Clinton James landed for a couple of singles. Every man on the team got at least one hit. For Everetts, the sole feature of the day was the umpiring. Their lone run was presented them by this official and the game was continually marred by protests on his decisions. The Everetts team missed a good chance to score in the sixth, when they had three men on the paths with none out. However, a fast double play and a lucky catch spoiled everything.

The box score follows:

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Pruette of Charlotte who has been engaged in a meeting at the Baptist church for the past few days is having good attendance and is preaching strong and interesting sermons. He is very strong as a bible teacher. The sermon Monday on "How We May Know We Are Christians," was one of the best yet. He showed how simple membership in the church and the paying of money could not carry us across. That we could not trust to our feelings with too much assurance. The only safe assurance was to know and obey God.

The meeting will continue for a few more days.

NOTICE OF SALE

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred in the power of sale, contained in a certain deed of trust executed to me, the undersigned trustee, by B. S. Fulford and wife Bettie Fulford, on the 31st day of December, 1919. Beginning in the Drunkard road and adjoining the lands of E. A. Roberson on the north, W. A. Leggett on the south, lands of C. L. Leggett on the west and the lands of J. B. Ayers, containing 60 acres, more or less.

This the 21st day of March, 1921.
B. DUKE CRITCHER, Trustee.

Chautauque begins May 21st. Buy your season ticket now and save the extra cost at the door.

ONE NEGRO KILLED; 2 MORE WOUNDED

Hood Edwards, local negro, is lying at the point of death, George Smith, another negro, was killed last night at McConnelly's station on the Washington & Vademere and an unknown negro was found in an unconscious condition near Latham's Cross Roads yesterday afternoon, as the result of three separate attacks which occurred in and near Washington on Sunday.

Hood Edwards, who runs a store near the outskirts of the city, was entering his home Saturday night, when two negroes sprang upon him, one of them shooting him through the breast. The negroes made their escape. When neighbors rushed to the house Edwards was found lying on the floor, his clothing saturated with blood. A bad bruise had been inflicted on his forehead, suggested the theory that he had been struck before the bullet had been fired. The attackers made their escape.

George Smith was shot and killed by James McCoy at McConnelly's station last night as the result of a dispute over a gambling game. He died almost instantly. McCoy made his escape and is believed to have caught the Norfolk Southern train at Chocowinity. The sheriff has wired the police of neighboring towns to be on the lookout for him.

An unknown negro was found unconscious near Latham's Cross Roads yesterday. It is believed that he had been struck violently over the head with a brick. His skull was crushed in at one spot but it is believed that he will recover. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the assault.—Washington Daily News.

STATE COLLEGE NEWS

Commencement dates at State College will be May 29-31, inclusive. Bishop Thomas C. Darst, of Wilmington, will preach the sermon to the graduating class Sunday evening, May 29 at 8:30. Monday May 30 is Alumni Day, with the classes of '06, '01, '11, '16, and '20 holding reunions on the campus. Early indications point to a record attendance of old grads and former students.

Albert E. Escott, '06, editor of the Charlotte Mill News, will make the alumni address Monday evening, and he will be followed by John Skelton Williams, former comptroller of currency, who has been selected as the commencement speaker. At the conclusion of these addresses, the annual Alumni Smoker will be held in the dining hall, bringing to a close a day given over largely to alumni activities.

Commencement will close with the graduating exercises on Tuesday morning. There are 99 men in the graduating class and the College will also confer 16 advanced degrees.

Thirty-five Raleigh women were the guests of Mrs. W. C. Riddick and Mrs. Nellie Price at luncheon at the College on Wednesday. After the delightful meal of roast beef with brown gravy, hot rolls, asparagus with white sauce, creamed potatoes, corn pudding, milk, ice cream and cake, the visitors will have little sympathy to waste over any mess hall grumblers.

Mrs. Price has been at the College for two years. She is giving the boys wholesome food in generous quantities, well prepared and served. She is also training an efficient corps of household helpers in the waiters. The art of serving has been well mastered under her direction as well as the business of clearing off the tables in record time after the meal.

Before luncheon was served the visitors were taken into the big kitchen with the steaming vats of creamed potatoes, asparagus, great pans of roast beef and corn pudding, ready to serve, and down to the bakery, fragrant with hot rolls. There were many exclamations over the order and cleanliness found everywhere even on the verge of serving dinner to six hundred persons. Scarcely a fly was to be seen so well has this been looked after under Mrs. Price's direction.

Col. D. D. Gregory, commanding officer at State College, has received the following memorandum of orders from Adjutant general J. Van B. Metts:

1. With the feeling of appreciation, the Governor of North Carolina extends his thanks to the Cadet Corps of the R. O. T. C. State College, for their voluntary participation in the exercises May 10th in memory of the Confederate dead and in honor of those old soldiers of the South whose deed of valor should never be forgotten.

2. The parade of the cadets and the beautiful music rendered by band not only added much to the occasion, and their soldierly bearing was appreciated by all.

THE BURDEN OF ARMY AND NAVY MORE THAN IS NATIONAL EDUCATION

Seven hundred, sixty-two million dollars is what elementary, high school, and junior college education—public and private, church and state—cost the people of the United States in 1918, the date of the last authoritative information.

Seven hundred twenty-seven million dollars is what Congress is now proposing to spend on our army and navy during the ensuing year.

Nearly four hundred millions was voted by the House the other day to the navy alone, and the advocates of disarmament were able to muster only twelve votes against it. The disarmament amendment were able to muster only twelve votes against it. The disarmament amendment were able to muster only twelve votes against it. The disarmament amendment were able to muster only twelve votes against it.

Manifestly it is not yet possible for peace and practical wisdom to lie down together like the lion and the lamb of Isaiah's dream. Not yet possible after two thousand years of Christian civilization—think of that, if you please!

What we call civilization is still a beak and talon, tooth and claw struggle for survival and supremacy among men and nations alike.

Harmony within groups and fair-play between groups is still an unlearned lesson of life.

The peace on earth announced to the Bethlehem shepherds is still an iridescent dream. Or so our practical statesmen say.

Maybe so. And not impossibly, Christendom may crumble into dust before men and nations can learn the supreme folly of war.

The Japanese are calmly certain that what they are witnessing today is the passing of Europe into the scrap heap of history.

The burden of taxes for wars past, present, and future is crushing the last remains of life out of Europe and the situation looks hopeless.

And hardly less hopeless in America. Although we can play the game longer than any other people on earth, the end is not certain at last.

The Masses Must Move

There is small comfort in the fact that our federal taxes average $270 a year per family; that $183 of it is on account of past wars—interest on war debts, pensions, vocational and health rehabilitation for soldiers and sailors, and the like; that $66 goes for direct expenditures on the army and navy, and that only $16 of it goes for government functions—salaries and public works, and that only $2.70 of it is spent on health, education and agriculture!

The navy costs us more year by year than all our churches of every name, sect and sort—more this year by some fifty million dollars.

The army costs us more than all our colleges, technical schools, and universities, church and state—more by two hundred million dollars.

A single first-class battleship costs us more than the teacher training schools of the whole United States—from ten to fifteen millions more.

Culture and the curse of war have been one. And congresses and parliaments are never likely to weigh one against the other unless the multitude in every country begin to organize an intelligent—not to say Christian—revolt against swords and spears, in behalf of ploughshares and pruning hooks.

Our colleges must lead the way—and above all, our church colleges.
