

Peanut Exchange Held First Meeting of Stockholders In Suffolk Wednesday, Aug. 17

The last step in the perfection of the Peanut Grower's Exchange, Inc., was taken at the initial stockholders meeting in Suffolk August 17, attended by over 700 growers in person, and with more than 2,500 additional represented by proxy.

The 19 directors nominated in the district meetings of the signers to the grower's contract held July 5th were duly confirmed. B. B. Everett of Palmyra, N. C., nominated by the Dean of Agriculture of North Carolina, and Hon. E. Frank Story of Franklin, Va., nominated by the Dean of the College of Agriculture of Virginia, were also elected members of the Board to represent the interests of the public.

The by-laws were then adopted and the changes made in the grower's contract by the organization committee were ratified.

Dr. B. W. Kilgore, Director of Extension of North Carolina, in a brief talk assured the peanut growers of the continued cooperation of the agricultural forces of that state and made a vigorous appeal to the growers to press forward to final victory.

Immediately after the stockholders meeting, the board of directors met and elected W. J. Story, president; M. C. Braswell, vice-president; and J. Frank Foushee, secretary and treasurer. The special committee previously appointed to make investigations as to men and plans was continued. This committee consists of M. C. Braswell, Battleboro, N. C.; J. H. Alexander, Jr., Scotland Neck, N. C.; J. O. Cutchie, Elmwood, Va.; Dr. C. J. Bradshaw, Curritow, Va.; A. W. Holt, Wakefield, Va., together with the president and secretary.

An interesting feature in connection with the stockholders' meeting is that Uncle Sam put his hands into the grower's treasury and got out at one grab $227,000 for revenue stamps on the 2,275 proxies that were voted at this meeting.

This may account in part for Uncle Sam's most favorable attitude towards cooperative organizations of growers.

Another Big Tariff Fraud

One of the most amusing protective tariff schemes palmed off on the people of the South in several generations was that false conception fraudulently conceived as early as 1862, called and held for no other purpose than to catch the people unguarded.

It was nothing less than the old war horse of fishing. They used nice bait and covered the point of the hook with much cunning. They come to folks, yes business folks and ask them if they do not want to get into the game of protection. The report shows most of the banks of the county approving those crafty resolutions, which is very regrettable. It is never right to join forces with a wrong principle even though it may appear to offer some financial advantages.

The burden of the tariff argument for fifty years has been the argument put out by the great manufacturing interests claiming that it would help labor. They have kept labor following along on these promises for this entire period. But, alas, where is labor today? A poor and dependent as ever. Where is capital today? Clothed in political power, the life of which has never been surpassed but few times since the history of man has been written.

Nothing has done more to centralize wealth, fatten the few and milk the many than the American Protective Tariff.

Of course they don't need the South to help them now. They know their business. They know that this system can stand for only a season. They know that a new fight will come up and that they will go down in defeat. Consequently they are entering new territory. They are making their appeal to the Southern business man and they are throwing out much "potage." They are seeking the birthright of the people in the hope that when the battle line is next drawn they may have many recruits from the ranks of the enemy of yesterday.

They are trying to get the house divided against itself.

We should never lose sight of the fact that practically all of our pain and hard times have been thrust upon us by the barons of Wall street, who have fattened out of the substance of the masses. The more we study the present situation the more certain we are that we are paupers and beggars because they will that we be such. Like the see-saw, their property has gone up high in value while the value of our products has decreased.

Yes, they have the check to come down South and tie up our business men, including our bankers. Well, we are entering a very dangerous gauntlet by a very dangerous bunch. It is sad that we have formed a partnership with our oppressors.

CLEAN-UP SQUAD COMING TO THIS STATE

Beginning Sept. 1, 1921, there will be conducted jointly by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the U. S. Public Health Service and the Federal Board a Clean Up Squad through out the state of North Carolina.

There will be a Clean Up Squad consisting of a Bureau of War Risk Insurance representative, a medical examiner, a representative of the Federal Board, a representative of the American Legion. These squads will appear at different points over the state, remaining at each point for a period of several days, during which time all men in this section will have an opportunity to present their claims to the squad and request their assistance in the prosecution of same.

The purpose of this squad is to fully advise all ex-service persons of their rights under the War Risk Insurance Act, and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, to assist disabled ex-service persons in securing compensation, medical treatment and hospital care, to inform and assist all claimants regarding procedure necessary in filing claim for compensation and insurance, to assist those whose claims are pending, in securing final action, where additional evidence is necessary to complete disability with the service, or other data requested by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance or the Federal Board, and to provide for immediate physical examinations where necessary, also to assist men in filing and appealing claims for Federal Board training.

The headquarters of this campaign for the state of North Carolina is Charlotte. The Red Cross, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and similar organizations throughout the state of North Carolina will be furnished with detailed information concerning this campaign. Each organization will also be furnished with detailed information showing the temporary quarters of the squad for their section, together with the dates upon which they will appear.

In having this Clean Up Squad appear at designated places throughout the state, it is designed to prevent undue delay or trouble on the part of the applicants and to enable those applicants to reach this squad and present their claims in person. The location at which the Clean Up Squad will appear, together with the dates, will be announced in all local papers throughout the state sufficient in advance to enable all ex-service men to report for examination and conference.

FAKE SOME STOCK IN THE R. & L.

The attention of our readers is again called to the advertisement of the Building and Loan Association on page two. The tenth series of stock will be placed on sale Saturday, September 3rd. There are few people who are too poor to take a few shares of stock and there is no better place to save your money. The rich can find no safer place to invest so it is good for all as an investment, besides that it helps a community perhaps more than any other institution. A few pennies put in Building and Loan stock each week by a child will send him to college when he gets of proper age. Don't forget the date of the opening of the tenth series. See Asa T. Crayford or Wheeler Martin.

DRUNKEN MAN SHOTS MULE

Last Sunday Henry Bowen went to the home of William Hollis in Poplar Point and took from his stable his mule and buggy. He then went to the house and got Hollis' gun, all without the knowledge of Hollis and proceeded to set out on a wild reck less drive around the countryside.

After several hours of hard driving he shot the mule, two loads of mud shot entering the mule's hips and slanting forward. At last reports the mule was not dead but was thought to be ruined if he recovered. Bowen immediately took to the bushes and has not yet been captured. It is just a little puzzling to the human mind to know how degraded and low a fellow can become, and if Bowen is captured, doubtless the force of the law will be felt by him.

ANNUAL PICNIC

Mr. Frank M. Edmondson of Oak City gave his annual picnic Thursday at his home. Mr. Edmondson has several deaf and dumb children who attend the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Morganton and every year he gives a picnic and invites all of the children defected that way in the county.

Messrs. F. M. Edmondson, H. T. Roberson, A. R. Dunning, F. W. Hoyt, R. M. Jackson and J. L. Hollis, were also favored with an invitation.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY THAT IS BEING WASTED

The following is taken from an editorial in the Washington Daily News of the 25th:

"Washington is the logical market for all farmers in Beaufort, Hyde and Martin counties. We can make this part one of the best in eastern North Carolina, if we will all work to that end. The larger our markets are, the more we will be advertised. Then let us all get busy."

Well, we commend The Daily News, Washington has the right to buy our farm products and sell us our goods. Yes, she has the right to absorb us, dry us up and blow us away. And by the way, some of our people are helping her out by sitting down and growling, complaining, cussing and fuming about dull times, while the money folks of our county are going to Washington and spending their money. It is a common sight to see a large number of Martin county farmers in Washington every day and the merchant may be sure that they are spending their money. They do their time trade in their own county but go away to buy for cash (they say it is cheaper).

Beaufort county is now building a great road into the heart of our county and if we don't stir ourselves, ere long we will be forced to shut up the shop and our only amusement will be watching the eager throngs as they ride by. Oh yes, we can turn the tide whenever we exert the proper force. Our people are for us, they are loyal.

WHAT ABOUT PRICES?

Editor of The Enterprise, Williamston, N. C. Dear Sir:

I have an opportunity to sell my tobacco ungraded and good nothing about the price. Please let me know if you have any information about prices for this year's crop.

Yours truly, Jamesville, N. C., August 24, 1921.

Answer

Dear Sir:

Your letter of inquiry to hand. I know nothing of the price of tobacco for the coming season. That is something that will be fixed by a very few men and they never tell us anything in advance. The people who raise tobacco have nothing whatever to do with making or naming the price of it. It is said that there is a large supply of old tobacco on hand, which is extremely doubtful.

The present crop of all types of tobacco from Carolina Bright Leaf to Kentucky Burley is short, first from a reduced acreage, second from the extreme dry weather, only a few places having good crops. I should be very cautious about selling too soon. With reasonable business conditions, prices should be good on good grades. If your party wants to buy he has some evidence that prices will be good or that you have very good tobacco. Generally the best thing to do with a crop of tobacco is grade it at home and put it on the warehouse floor.

Very truly yours, THE EDITOR.

REPORT RED SNOW IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

Washington, Aug. 24.—Although the purple cow, famed in lyric has yet to appear, we now have red snow with us. The national park service of the Department of the Interior stands sponsor for this statement.

Red snow has attracted wide attention in the Rocky Mountains this summer, the park service stated. The coloring of the snow is blamed upon the presence of proteus nivalis which it seemed is a microscopic plant thriving in snow.

Red snow is not only pretty to look upon, but it tastes like watermelon the park service states.

SNAKE IN CABBAGE

Mr. Dick Wynne bought a cabbage from one of the local grocery stores one day this week and found a snake enclosed in it. The cabbage had been on cold storage and yet the snake was alive. It was, of course very small or there would have been no room for it.

Talking about prices being high—why you haven't seen or compared those of Margolis Bros.—Why clothing for this Fall are at least 34 per cent cheaper than that of last year! Ain't that grand news?—N'everything else in wearing apparel at Margolis store age marked so the poor man can sport with the 1920 feeling at the 1921 prices.

50 PER CENT SWEET POTATO CROP LOST IN N. C. EVERY YEAR

Statistics show that 50 per cent of the potato crop in North Carolina is lost every year due to inadequate curing and storage conditions. This loss has been reduced to less than two per cent in those sections of the state where curing and storage plants have been established. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has perfected a sweet potato storage house that is used generally all over the South with almost perfect results. A large house of this type has been built at Rocky Mount in Nash county to take care of the potato crop this year. Nash county also has quite a number of smaller houses of different types. Nash county has the record of being the first county in North Carolina to organize a cooperative marketing association for sweet potatoes. The large house at Rocky Mount belongs to this association.

Since the boll weevil will soon be here and since there is so much interest in sweet potatoes in this and other counties, the Extension division is planning for a tour of farmers to Nash county on August 29th to inspect the large storage plant at Rocky Mount. The tour will start from New Bern on Monday morning the 29th, arriving at Greenville about 10 o'clock A. M. At Greenville the delegation will be met by other farmers from Onslow, Jones, Lenoir, Pitt and Beaufort counties. From Greenville the delegation will proceed to Rocky Mount. Monday afternoon will be spent inspecting the storage house at Rocky Mount and possibly a number of smaller houses on the farms of Nash county if the farmers wish to see them.

From Rocky Mount the delegation will go on to Raleigh to attend the Farmers' Convention which begins on Tuesday. County agents should furnish farmers with all information in connection with the Farmer's Convention.

Before attempting storage on a commercial scale, I feel that every county agent should educate his farmers in regard to producing disease-free potatoes, and to care for them properly. This will mean that a number of small storage houses will have to be built over the county before the farmers gain sufficient experience to go into potato storage on a commercial scale.

County agent Burroughs, District Agent E. W. Gaither, and the Secretary of the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce have kindly agreed to assist in making the occasion a success. Please have a notice of this tour printed in your local paper at once, and if possible, send me a list of farmers who wish to go, not later than Friday of this week. Let me see you to see every farmer interested in sweet potato storage and get him to go along with the crowd. The time is short so we must act quickly.

O. F. McCRARY, District Agent, Washington, N. C.
