WHAT WE BELIEVE
 Every Sunday, the famous evangelist, in one of his sermons gave the advice: "Believe that story false that ought not to be true." There is common sense in that statement as well as religion.
 When you hear an ugly story about one of your friends or neighbors, be sure it is false until you have evidence to the contrary. We need to keep our ears from the scandal and gossip that is spread on the street corners. It contributes nothing to our welfare, only helps us to see our self-people. Try to target the falsehoods. Don't repeat them. There will be time enough to worry over them if they turn out to be true, but you will be doing yourself and others a real service if you can believe it to be false until you have to believe otherwise.

RICH MEN'S METHODS
 The question now to make money is not "how" when Mr. Ford advises a man to go into debt and Mr. Rockefeller says that is the only way to win. Both of these two drastic opinions, however, the common man may strike an average.
 The Ford Motor Co., originally was capitalized at $100,000. Only about $25,000 of this was subscribed in cash. That was the only money that ever went into the Ford business from the outside. Additions to the operating capital have been created by the Ford company taken from the profits.
 Henry Ford, when he decided to make autos instead of watches, had a wonderful vision and vital organization genius, also a superhuman genius of mass production. He had an equal opportunity than Mr. Rockefeller. Ford created industries.
 Rockefeller had as his greatest handicap this problem: In the early days of the oil industry, the price of crude oil was on a par with a gambling business. It sold for $20 a barrel and 25 cents a barrel, all in the same year. The price of refined oil products fluctuated accordingly.
 Rockefeller's big job was to stabilize the oil industry, to regulate production and prices. He succeeded, through the organization he built up. In those early days there was not enough profits to supply the gigantic capital needed by Standard Oil. Mr. Rockefeller borrowed heavily. And the ones from whom he borrowed made no mistake, as we find when we try to buy Standard Oil stocks today.
 There is no cut-and-dried rule for accumulating wealth. A method or system that will work in one industry or vocation will fail financially in another. No two problems are exactly the same. Nor have any two problems the same solution. If that were the case we would all be rich.

Note these New Prices on U.S. Tires

ON July 29, 1922, the lowest prices ever quoted on U.S. Passenger Car Tires went into effect—Royal Cords included. These new prices should give confidence to dealers and car-owners that no lower basis of quality tire prices will prevail.

Bear in mind that these prices apply to the most complete line of quality tires in the world. Remember, too—as you read the following table—that U. S. quality has been positively maintained.

SIZES	Royal Cord	Nobby	FABRIC	Plain
30 x 3 1/2	$12.55	$11.40	$9.75	$9.25
30 x 3 3/8	$14.65	$13.60	$10.65
31 x 4	23.00	1.35	18.65

37 x 5	51.85	45.75	41.70

Federal Excise Tax on the above has been absorbed by the manufacturer.

The dealer with a full line of U.S. Tires at these new prices can serve you better than you have ever been served before in the history of the automobile.

If there ever was any financial advantage in shopping around for tires it disappeared on July 29, 1922.
