YOUR TOWN

If you want to live in the kind of a town That's the kind of town you like, You don't have to slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find that you have left behind, For there's nothing really new. It's a knock at yourself if you knock your town; For it isn't your town, it's you.

Real towns aren't made by men afraid Last somebody else gets ahead; If everyone works and nobody shirks, You can raise a town from the dead.

YOUR HOME TOWN FIRST

Work for your home town. Beautify it. Improve it. Make it attractive.

The world war, and the treaty of peace, the protective tariff and all such things, are important subjects; but what's the good of cleaning up the world unless you sweep your own door steps?

The best advertisement of your business is the town you live in. Towns get reputations as well as men. Make your town talked all over the state. It will thus draw people. And where the people come there is prosperity.

Rid your town of one eye-ore after another. Clean up the vacant lots and plant them in gardens. Make a cluttered yard a disgrace—and it is. Make public opinion too hot for those who will not help.

THE BOY AGE

There are three kinds of little girls: nice little girls, Tom-boys, and little girls who have boys on the brain. Little girls who have boys on the brain are very, very silly. Almost invariably they have silly mammams. And they talk boy, and think boy, and dream boy, and conduct themselves in a manner so idiotic that one fairly itches to spank or drown them. But one doesn't; one holds one's peace, and contributes to the support of the rescue homes.

This boy age, more commonly called the idiotic age, come to nice little girls much later in life if it comes at all, and then they fall in love in a very decorous and modest way; and a sense of respectability serves them when common sense doesn't, so that their pathway is strewn with rose petals, and they have no regrets. A few fall into error, but only a few.

Tom-boys escape the boy-age entirely. To them, boys are just people—rather than nice people, with whom one can climb trees and run races and fight, but not people to become sentimental about, for "mushy" people are disgusting and tiresome and spoil the fun. Except a government bond, there probably isn't anything in the world safer than a Tom-boy.—Robert Quillen.

Political Humor

Th' democrats are lookin' fer a leader fer 1924, an' th' republicans are lookin' fer one ter begin right away.—Abe Martin.

You know there is going to be an awful scandal over this last election. The republicans claim the democrats didn't notify them they were having one. One republican in New York city found it out and voted for Miller. And now the democrats are trying to find out how he knew it. It seems there was a leak somewhere.—Will Rogers.

Children's Home Society Has Interesting Report of Its January Progress

Below we reproduce a communication from the Children's Home Society of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C., which gives the public a very good idea of the good work that is being done for humanity at this institution: To Our Friends: We present our first report for the New Year and call your attention to the important fact that our Home Supervision department shows a steady increase in the number of homes visited. We recognize the importance of this department and will give the same close attention. The improvements to our receiving home are rapidly approaching completion and will greatly add to our efficiency of operations. We make special mention of the general response to our appeal for pledges for the year 1923. Up to this date 48 pledges have been made and we hope this generous response will continue until at least 300 children are provided for during the present year. We hope every director will present the needs of this society to his Sunday school class and church with a view of having these religious organizations agree to support one or more children during the year. We mention the action of the Smith Man's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro, which has signed a pledge covering the care of 12 children for 1923. We hope their action will be followed by many similar classes throughout the state.

Respectfully submitted, John J. Phoenix, State Superintendent.
