WILLIAMSTON, N. C.

one of the most novel heaters ever exhibited. It has the appearance of a nice piece of furniture and is as practical in beautifying the home as it is for making it comfortable. In introducing this heater in Williamston Mr. Courtney is offering a ton of coal free with each heater sold before the end of this week, and is giving his usual easy terms of purchase. This novel way of introducing an article in addition to the article being something of a novelty itself is creating no little interest in and around Williamston. Those who have not examined this heater and had the plan explained to them fully will do well to call on Mr. Courtney before he closes his doors Saturday night, if they are expecting to install anything in the heater line to keep their homes comfortable this winter.
