OWL-LAFFS

Overheard: "The Wife and I moved yesterday and today I can't..."

Collins Peel tells of a neatest man who parks his car behind his girl's house, tells her it is in the garage for repairs, they walk to town for rickety drinks and then return. He then goes out, cranks up the car and drives out.

It's an awful thing to say, but I suppose that she is called the village belle because she has the most rings.

A man whose word is as good as gold is seldom asked to give his word.

It's all right to climb, but be sure you hold on.

—Is there an art in kissing?

—The only art is—Art thou will.

E. S. Peel says some persons think that liberty is the right to select things they want to obey.

Every now and then some one says haven't missed comes up and tells you he is back again.

Good news from Seattle. Woman stabbed by her husband. Maybe they are running out of ammunition.

Leslie Fowler, thinks success is a man. No man has a right to leave a wife of taxes for some other man to pay.

The Williamston maiden, or her Dear Lord, I ask nothing for myself, only give mother a Son-in-law.

Henry Peck—Who was that peach at you with yesterday?

Billy Hatch—She wasn't a peach, she was a grape fruit.

Henry Peck—Why are you so fat?

Billy Hatch—Isomee'st her and she put me in the eye!

A girl with no complexion will make up for it.

Stanley Sessions think a woman is like a pistol. If you have one, you keep looking for a chance to use it.

THE ONE THING NEEDFUL

By Peter Sawyer, Pastor of A. M. E. Zion Church

As a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ and as a leader of my people, I feel that as all lesser streams make out into one great ocean; so ought we as Christian leaders, help little by little each day, as lesser streams, to make into one great ocean of service in order to help in establishing the Redeemer's kingdom in the world, but to do this there is one thing needful. And this one thing cannot be restricted to color, rank or creed, but the one thing that should concern all is a greater Christian training. Then we must save Williamston, and to save Williamston we must save our families and to save our families, the head of the family must be saved; for after all to have a greater Christian training. The sooner we concentrate our service with this one great object before us, the sooner this world and the kingdoms of it will become the kingdom of our Lord.

The right Rev. G. L. Blackwell, of Philadelphia, Pa. will preach at Williams Chapel, A. M. E. Zion church, April 11 at 8 p. m. A special invitation is extended to our white friends to come and hear this distinguished orator of our race.

Peter Sawyer, Pastor.

MUSINGS BY UNCLE JOSH

With living going up so high, my don't it seem a pity

That more day take to Country life and leave the crowded City, I just would demonstrate to you by ways that I have planned.

Your chances would be twice as good if you went on the land.

The social life is good enough in our parts for me

I wouldn't change my way of life for all your City glee

And then you're not obliged to work till strictly six o'clock.

We knock off when we feel like it, and then tend to the stock.

We fix the fences up in Spring and then get in the crop.

With buckwheat and the turnips in why then of course we stop

And then it makes our hearts so good to see the things growing.

And pretty soon it comes around that we must do the hoeing.

And then we've everything so sweet and don't cost us a cent.

And no one coming once a month to gather in the rent.

And when the crop is gathered in, how merrily we sing.

We've got enough to put us through and keep us till the spring.

In winter time we get the wood and pile it in the yard:

Don't talk of City life to me, we don't work very hard;

There isn't nothing like it boys I tell you that's no boah

If I don't know what farming is, I'm not your Uncle Josh.

—J. E. WARNER.
