"There is no need, for I have three pets at home which answer the same purpose as a husband—a dog which growls every morning, a parrot which swears all the afternoon, and a cat which comes home late at night."

Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty of 2nd Degree Murder in Waters Case

from Williamston, North Carolina and he told that he had shot Henry Bowen. Mr. Walker said that he smelt liquor on Waters' breath but there was nothing unusual in his demeanor to indicate that he was not right, and that Waters admitted to having had three or four drinks. He had told them at police headquarters that he shot Bowen because he had hit him. The gun and the shells were still in the car when he was arrested.

Dr. W. E. Warren was the next witness and his testimony was that he had known Waters for twenty years and had seen him frequently under the influence of liquor and had attended him as a physician and that he had mental capacity and that he saw no difference between him and other drunken men.

Under cross examination the doctor said that it might be possible for a person's mind to be void during the period of an epileptic fit but epilepsy did not render the mind void for a period and then after several days unfold itself to full consciousness and knowledge of the things that had happened while unconscious.

The attorneys began pleading the case at three P. M. Wednesday and all the speeches were completed that day with the exception of Solicitor Gilliam's and his was made yesterday morning.

Attorney Robert L. Coburn made the first speech for the State and he was followed by attorneys Stubbs, Dunning and Ward. They all made eloquent appeals for their side and yesterday morning Solicitor Gilliam completed the argument with a strong presentation of the law.

June Bond's charge to the jury was short and concise, he taking up the evidence as he thought it had bearing upon the case and telling the jury the law as it existed.

The jurymen retired to their room about eleven o'clock and after deliberating an hour and a half they brought in the verdict of guilty of second degree murder.

Judge Pronounces Sentence. Judge Bond sentenced Waters to the State Prison for a term of not less than ten years and not more than fifteen years.

The brothers and sisters and aged father of Waters sat with him throughout the trial and they and the mother of Bowen had the sympathy of the community in their trouble.

Many people from all parts of the county were present at the trial and a large number of local citizens attended, especially the young ladies of the town.

Waters Carried Away This A. M. Deputy Sheriff Luther Peel left this morning by motor for Raleigh, carrying Waters to the State Prison where Waters will begin his term of service.

Local Tax For Schools

However, in isolated places where three or four pupils dwelling as many miles from high school have made clear the necessity of some kind of transportation, and the parents agreed to transport their children an allowance not to exceed fifteen cents per day has been made.

Is it fair for children from non-local tax territory to enjoy the privileges of local tax school? Yes, provided their parents will pay the per capita per day cost of instructing these children and of maintaining school necessities for them for any period of time in excess of six months term. The county pays the bill for six months following the salary schedule for teachers and a fair apportionment for fuel, etc.

Will it be cheaper for parents of Farm Life District to send their children away to high schools? It might be cheaper for an individual who had one child, but it most assuredly would not be for all the parents of all the children to send them away, and it is cheaper it would hardly be considered good sense under the present opportunity of building a school at home.

"THAT'S OIL, BILL"

"You said it—but you needn't." That's TEXACO—I'd know it by that golden color whether I saw the name on the can or not.

TEXACO tells the world every time it's poured.

Always, that same clean, clear, golden color, and always full-bodied, in all four grades—light, medium, heavy and extra-heavy.

Always the perfect lubricant, too—no hard carbon forming inside the cylinders, and no friction anywhere—TEXACO.

Friends, don't try to measure a man's life by the length of his funeral procession.

One of them spoke as they drove along. Under a pale, silvery moon, it seemed as if they were entranced by the spell of the night.

Suddenly she shivered slightly and moved closer to him.

"I'm married," he said, and laughed again and said,

"I'm married."

"What is the secret of your success?" asked the inquisitive reporter.

"Well," said the wealthy merchant, "I always made it a point, if I knew the women were crazy to buy silk hosiery, not to stock up my store with mouse-traps and try to sell them those instead."

A Williamston man went into a jewelry store and handed out the pendulum of a clock which he wished to leave for repairs.

The clockman asked him why he did not bring the whole clock.

"The clock is all right," was the reply. "It's the pendulum that won't go. As soon as I pulled that out the rest went like the very dickens."
