COTTON DEMONSTRATION FARM IN MARTIN COUNTY

St. Matthews, S. C. To the Farmers of Martin County: The American Cotton Association Boll Weevil Control Campaign has established cotton demonstration farms, of five to eight acres each in Martin County, for improved cultural and weevil control methods. The operators of these demonstration farms are as follows:

Contest No. 2. C. A. Roberson, R. F. D. No. 1, Robersonville, N. C.

The methods to be employed on these farms throughout the season as to land preparation, fertilization, width of rows, spacing of plants, cultivation and poisoning for weevil control, will conform to the best practical plans used by successful cotton growers in the weevil infested areas of the cotton belt.

Under Contest No. 1 the Association furnishes, free of cost to the operators the necessary booklets of instruction and a diary to keep a complete record of the crop (including detailed cost of production), as well as the necessary poisons and apparatus for applying same. In addition to this, a competent field agent is employed in each State whose duty it is to periodically visit each demonstration farm, check up on the progress of the work, report the condition of the crop and render what ever aid may be possible to the operators, and to the growers generally.

Contest No. 2 embraces all of the privileges, advantages, etc., of Contest No. 1, with the exception of free poisons and the apparatus for applying same.

Several hundred of these practical demonstration farms have been located in the various cotton growing States this year to teach the farmer in a simple and economic way how to check the weevil infestation and produce profitable yields of cotton. Thousands of farmers are being assisted in this work in the eleven cotton-growing weevil infested States.

Fourteen cash prizes, aggregating $2,000, will be awarded to farmers by the Association this year operating their farms under Contests Nos. 1 and 2, as an encouragement and stimulus toward the success of the work. The literature and cooperation of the Association are available to every cotton grower who makes application for same to the American Cotton Association, St. Matthews, S. C. No additional applications can be accepted under Contest No. 1 for free poisons, but all applications for enrollment under Contest No. 2 will be accepted and free literature on cultural and weevil poison methods will be promptly distributed. This is the only practical method for weevil control ever established and successfully carried on by any agency in the South.

Watch the Martin County Cotton Demonstration Farms.

The cotton growers of Martin County are urged to visit the cotton demonstration farms in their respective communities for weevil control this season which are to be operated by the farmers, names above. Loose lime and dry calcium arsenate will be used throughout the season. The first applications will be made with a mop during the month of June, and as the cotton limbs out, a hand power spraying pump or dusting machine will be used. Kill the winter-berna-

Hegeman Laboratory is Dedicated To Conduct War On Tuberculosis

The dedication of the Hegeman Memorial Laboratory at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., marks a step forward in the fight on tuberculosis, according to the medical authorities who participated in the ceremonies recently. The new stone structure is a handsome architectural feature of the sanatorium group of twenty-two buildings, which the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company maintains for the benefit of the sick during the $2,000 of its field and home office staff. It was provided for by a fund of $500,000 in the will of the late John Rogers Hegeman, president of the company from 1891 to 1913, to whom the building is a memorial. "We hope—we even expect," declared Dr. Harry Paine, now president of the company, "that some discovery will be made here that will be connected with the name of the donor and will be of lasting benefit to future generations." Dr. Edward B. Baldwin, head of Trudeau Sanatorium, at Saratoga Lake and one of the foremost authorities on tuberculosis, welcomed the new laboratory into the field of scientific research. "The sanatorium represents what we know about tuberculosis," he declared. "The laboratory represents what we do not know, but must find out." An interesting survey of the ceremony was the Rev. Father P. M. Wagnon, famous British scientist and theologian who studied with the great Pasteur, foremost scientist of the nineteenth century. "Only to-day we are beginning to understand the greatness of Pasteur," he said. "The world knows nothing of its greatest men, the unseen workers, secret, cloistered, hidden, world-forgetting, they pursue their studies tirelessly until one day the world learns that they have discovered a cure for some disease." The Metropolitan sanatorium has been the chief means, directly through its treatments, and indirectly, through the instruction passed on to fellow workers by former patients, in reducing by 50 per cent the death rate from tuberculosis among the company's employees, within a period of ten years.

Hon. Francis D. Winston Delivers Address to Teachers

(Continued from Page One) ed which all subscribed to with the exception of Mexico, Egypt, Africa and the United States. We four in our ignorance, simplicity and greed held out. Mr. Wilson returned to his country asking no honors, no demonstrations, with a conscience assuring him of the justness of his cause. He found not hearts filled with joy and thanks but enemies filled with hatred, seeking to destroy the peace that we had justly won with the blood of our sons and had written for the guidance of those coming after us in the race of men.

The guiding hand of the destinies of man has written disgrace across the names of those who through the spirit of greed sought to annul the work of Wilson. They are now growing in disgrace and are becoming the objects of hatred among their fellow men and citizens.

Judge Winston held out to the teachers the great principal of patriotism, the need to install it within the youth declaring that patriotism should be centered in truth, justice and honor among men and nations.
