OWL-LAFFS

Howdy Folks. An ounce of honest criticism is worth more than a pound of flattery.

Speaking of the emancipation of women. Recently two women armed to the teeth, robbed a fur store in New York City. Not so long ago women rarely cried for fur coats.

Customer. Waiter, the ham in this sandwich is awful thin.

Wanted: For the man that cut that ham used to make cigarette paper out of calling cards.

A lot of couples go to the lake to get married. If their parents were here, they could do it right here at home.

Kicking won't get you anywhere, but you can't make a Russian dancer believe that.

Next to explaining why she named the baby Betty Jane, instead of Betty Lou, a married woman gets the most satisfaction out of telling what her husband said when she bobbed her hair.

You can't tell about motives, and I may be that Eve was just trying to keep the doctor away.

The reason there are usually so many pennies in the collection plate is because there are no smaller coins.

Mother: Dear, you mean I am? Little Boy: All right, I am the little sister of the "Blah-blah."

I don't like an outang. We talk with a schicht. But when you wonder what ever made it bite.

Chatterbox: Knocked at the bus stop. You can't see me now, they said. In conference.

When a man gets a telegram from his wife, and it runs over the word "head," it is a sure sign they aren't been together lately, or he has something for which his head is a passing job with him.

When you come to attend a bereavement, don't buy a lot of flowers. The widow will be sure to give them to the next funeral.

Old and politics do not mix, either.

There are a few little things that count in a marriage. The number of times you are together is the best of them.

Tom Tarheel says that it pays for him to believe in his neighbors for then they believe in him.

THE TEXACO SIGN IS SOME LOUD SPEAKER That TEXACO Sign talks, and talks loud! Its effective red-and-green and-white color scheme makes it stand out boldly wherever it's displayed. You can see it a mile off. You and your dealers know by experience that it draws those gas and oil buyers as surely as a fire draws a small boy. And it's permanent. It's enameled.

SALE OF LAND FOR TAXES I, Luther Peel, Tax Collector for the Williamston Graded School, have this day levied on the following tracts or parcels of land, and will sell the same at public auction for cash, before the court house door of Martin County on August 4, 1924 for the taxes due and unpaid for the year 1923, unless the taxes and cost are paid on or before that day. This the 3rd day of July 1924.

with the colors baked right on to the metal. The colors stay. The sign will look as good the second season as the first. That TEXACO Sign has been an unqualified success. It has gotten every dealer who used it more customers. If there's a dealer on your calling list who hasn't put one up, you're both missing an opportunity. That Sign will be featured in TEXACO national advertising also in 1924. Look up the first double-page spread—there's the TEXACO Sign, big as life. The TEXACO Sign in front of every garage is a direct tie-up with TEXACO national advertising—makes the TEXACO advertising the dealer's own advertising just as much as if he had prepared it himself and paid for it out of his own pocket. This plan of featuring the TEXACO Sign in our advertising is aimed to make every motorist drive in where he sees it. The TEXACO Sign, displayed on the front of a garage, is as good as a private traffic cop!—TEXACO.
