ALL ATTRACTIONS WELL PATRONIZED; MIDWAY INJECTS PEP

Zeidman And Polle Shows Prove Exceptionally Fine As Free Fair Feature

SOMETHING TO AMUSE THE YOUNG AND OLD

Midway Starts at Entrance and Runs For Quarter Of A Mile Distant

Newspapers are arriving in our office daily carrying articles relating to the Zeidman Polle Shows which are to play the Roanoke Fair here next month. They recognize these shows as the best, highest classed and cleanest shows on the road today. Everywhere Zeidman and Polle Shows play they make friends and draw large crowds. Let us say right here that Mr. Poe was on the job when he booked this company to play our fair and we feel that the midway this year will be the best ever.

The Iona County News (Michigan) has to say:

The Iona Free Fair Management hit the mark this year when it contracted for the Zeidman and Polle shows that are now staging their performances at the grounds. It is by far the most wholesome, educational, entertaining and profitable tented mid way that ever came to this county. It has proven a big attraction as an accessory to the great exposition.

The Zeidman and Polle shows are equally owned by William Zeidman, who acts as treasurer, and Jimmy Simpson, who acts as general manager. There is no Mr. Polle connected with the shows now, he having sold his interest a short time ago. Both Mr. Zeidman and Mr. Simpson give the shows their earnest attention and are personally on the grounds at all times to see that everything is carried forth in ship-shape. These men have made acquaintances here that will linger with Ionians.

Please Young and Old

Starting at the entrance of the fair grounds, at the Merchants' building, the midway starts and winds around to the old pavilion building at Riverside park. It is the largest set of shows and riding devices that the association ever contracted for and is pleasing the patrons in a more comprehensive manner than ever before.

There is entertainment for the young and the old. Something there critic that will cause laughter to come freely to old and rugged thrill the most ardent pessimistic person and bring joy to the youngsters. By journeying along the "great white way" one will find something that will meet with his most hearty approval in his own idea of entertainment as the variety is of a broad scope including practically everything that could be carried along with such a large organization of entertainers.

All Are Features

To tell what the feature of the midway was would be impossible and folks would differ in many ways. Some might say it was the wild west performance, others would say it was the motogone, some might say the diving beauties, farmers might say the freak animals, while the youngsters might say the trip on the Rocky Road to Duplin, while the fat girl might be the feature of the shows for others.

Among the many diversified attractions will be found:

Trained Wild Animal Circus—With Captain Warner and a group of trained wild animals, including fighting lions and bears, and the only mixed group of lions and goats in the world. Also in this exhibit is Lady Fanchon, the educated horse, presented by her trainer, Col. Littleton. A special feature here is the Ramsey family of clowns, acrobats, singer and rolling globe artists. This show along is larger than the average circus. Smallest Horses on Earth—Two tiny mites of horse flesh weighing no more than human babies.

Superbia, the supreme achievement of Etta Louise Blake, most distinguished of all scenic and electrical revue producers, with a special added attraction in the person of Dr. Hilliar, mental marvel and crystal gazer. He answers free questions put to him by the audience.

Mabel Mack's Educated Mules and Wild West Congress—Thirty people, horses and mules, bronchos, ostriches, bears and monkeys. A faithful reproduction of the sports of pastimes of the ranches of the old West.

Autodrome—With reckless motorcycle riding and a sensational climax when Irene Dare drives her automobile at sixty miles an hour around the perpendicular track.

Big Water Circus

Water Circus—A revival of the glories of the famous Rice and Dore Water festival by Ethel Dore, with a company of expert divers, swimming beauties, "Fat" Redding, the clown, and Captain Hoover, high diver.

Circus Side Show—With a horde of strange and curious, but withal pleasing people from all over the globe.

Beautifully arranged and a source of never ending fun and amusement.

No. 2 Side Show—Another connection of all that is odd and different in the realm of humanity. Vastly interesting.

Freak Animal Exhibit—Peculiar animals from all over the world, collected by Sam J. Jordan.

Monkey Hippodrome—Where "dare devil monkeys drive their own cars around the track, presented by the trainer, Lieut. A. Sicho.

Rocky Road to Dublin—Elaborated and improved on the original idea, with twenty trained donkeys.

Lucky Roy Minstrel—A splendid colored minstrel show with 30 performances and musicians.

Alpine—Fattest girl on earth. Barrel of fun—A fun house supreme.

Whiz Bang—Sensational trip into the world of laughter.

Jumb—the big snake.

Many Riding Devices

The riding devices include the new $20,000 merry-go-round, caterpillar whip, Ferris Wheel, and seaplanes.

Col. H. Jespersen and his band furnish splendid music, including concerts on the streets of Ionia.

Four hundred people travel with these shows, including some of the most diversified show men and women. According to the management they are paid the highest wages and salaries possible in their particular line of endeavor. Thus the shows have gained a reputation as being the most elaborate and well organized midway in existence today.

most cordially received here and their engagement will not be forgotten in many years to come, as the co-operation shown by every one concerned for the success of the midway was most congenial and extraordinary. The officials claim they have been
