The Senate, it is said, will not hear from Senator Butler of Massachusetts as often as it heard from Senator Lodge, whom he succeeds. That fits in with the prediction that he is to be Coolidge's mouthpiece.

Australia fines non-voters $10. If we did it, we could soon pay off the national debt.

Bernard Shaw said that there would be a terrible consequence if the British Tories won the election last month, and now that the Tories have won, he is writing a new play.

The gorilla sticks to one wife thru out his entire life. Evolution is somewhat slow in evolving divorce courts. The lamb that goes too often to Wall Street eventually becomes a goat.

Professor Kidder meant anything by IDENTIFIED. "Do you think that it?" — "What?" — "He advertised a lecture on 'Monkeys.' I bought a ticket and it said 'Admit One.'"

A BARGAIN. An ancient car chugged painfully up to the gate of the Laurel races. The gate keeper demanding the usual fee for automobiles called "A dollar for the car." The owner looked up with a pathetic smile of relief and said, "Sold."

LIFE AT THE CAPITAL. "Doesn't your wife motor with you any more?" "No," answered Mr. Chuggins. "She's too nervous. Every time a cop shoots at a bootlegger she thinks we've had another blowout."

NOBODY. —Aloysius: "Have you seen the new balloon tires?" Dulcinea: "Why, whoever heard of balloon needing tires?"

BUILDING IS STIMULATED. "This bootleg licker is going to compel us to put up a new building in Crimison Gulch." "How soon?" "Just as quick as we can decide whether to make it a jail or a hospital."

Soviet Russia permits 30 per cent of alcohol in cognac. After an expert has tested out a few 30 per cent samples he is likely to lose track of the count.

The cross-word puzzle may be educational, but we'll be doggoned if we will concede its intellectuality.

Mrs. Ferguson, Governor of Texas, and Mrs. Ross, Governor of Wyoming, will be the first female governors of American States, but the marriage state has long been accustomed to a woman governor.

Why is it as easy to forget the things you should remember as to remember the things you should forget?

The example of Coolidge in keeping cool may have its effect on Congress, although doubts in the matter are already expressed.

Scientist says in ten years the five hundred dollar flying flivver will be a common sight. And then we presume the air will be constantly filled with nuts, bolts and other ten-cent parts.

Question is persistently raised as to whether the Volstead act is a failure. No doubt remains, however, that the man who too industriously violates it is going to be one.

THAT APPEALING MARCH. President Coolidge wants no inaugural ball, but does not object to a grand march to the Capitol.

Explorer says that Eskimos rarely weep. Still, they do have their daily blubber.

The Republicans tax our kitchen to provide the fat they fry for campaign purposes.

Some European statesmen say that they are at a loss to determine just what the United States stands for. Some few years ago, however, their doubts were ended as to what she doesn't stand for.

BUSINESS FIRST. She: "All is over between us and I am going to give you back your ring. There is another man." He: "Tell me his name and address." She: "You are going to kill him?" He: "By no means! I want to sell him the ring." "Single women enjoy fiction more than married women" says a magazine writer. Perhaps the married ones fear too much of it.

There are 1,118,000 insects in the British Museum. Wonder who left the screen door open.

There is an estimated shortage this year of 173,000,000 bushels of rye. The shortage in bottles is also great.

They are trying to find a new name for jazz. Isn't the present name sufficiently descriptive?
