FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1925.

We are already planning and hoping for a good New Year. It is said that the farmer who watches the weather does not succeed as well as the one who watches his work. The same applies to all other businesses and professions. The success that we have is usually measured by the effort we put forth.

We have not fully recovered from the war period boost. We are not quite satisfied to make a small profit on a number of things. We simply want to make big profits on a few things.

The year is at least full of promise, provided the people will meet the tasks with a spirit of optimism and determination. Eastern Carolina has never had more than it has today.

The trouble with ringing out the old year is that some of us start ringing too late. The time to start is exactly 12 o'clock midnight on December 31st or January 1st. Ring the whole year through, give cheer to all, small and large, poor and rich. Some of us remain in a dormant state the year round except when the sounds of the bells are ringing the old year away and ringing in the new. In other words, we are wide awake for forty minutes, twenty in one year and twenty in the next.

An observant said the other day that one thing he thought was essential in seeing the new year in and the old one out was prayer. To offer a prayer of thanks during the last ten minutes of the old year and to utter a prayer for health, peace and happiness during the first ten minutes of the new year. "The minutes of prayer have been exchanged for the old game," he stated. To play the old year out and the year in and do a little more in between characterizes the day.

Some of us have been here a goodly number of years. We have had our battles, large and small, we have won, we have lost, but such a record is better than one that marks total failure. To get something out, we have got to put something in. If it is small, a return of little worth will result. If we put forth a spirit of good cheer and happiness, the same will be our reward. To start off the year with, if so and so would do so and so, I would do so and so, it will terminate with you just where you were at the beginning. If you are a member of the united sons of rest and take your living from the efforts of another, it would be better for all concerned if you would go and ring out and in all at one time the length of a life and die and be gone.

Is it the desire of the world for such to do such? No. But it is the desire of those for such ones to join in the race and help to push humanity to a higher plane instead of allowing it to drift with the four winds.

One thing to bear in mind is that the weather has a great deal to do with the year, but if we use our energy to the right end we can have a lot to do with the year also.

At this writing the sun has not cast a ray of sunshine this year. Thanks be that there are 363 more days for it to do so in.

And after all the children are, more or less like birds. They migrate to the places where the weather is suitable. They come home Christmas because that time is a holiday but soon after when time for work call around, they return to school. Of course this isn't true, just a matter of nothing, more or less.

On hearing a heated discussion on the penalty meted out to the young men who went on a rampage Christmas day, we would like to say a few words. Probably you won't agree with us, and probably you will. We are not advocating poor enforcement of law. We admire the one who stands up with the scales of justice as a guide. But, as we were going to say, we are glad those young men escaped the roads, we are glad they received the so-called light punishment. What because all three are here, looking good-fearing and likable men. Who made the liquor that made them foolish? Who violated the laws and died so to such an extent that it lowered the estimation of these three young men to such a degree that they thought there was no such thing? Look around you and see the cowardly skunk, violating the law on every hand, and unpunished because he is so and so or because his social position would be wrecked if he was brought to justice. Weigh the evidence, take in every consideration and then see if their punishment doesn't fit. Now don't think we are trying to free these men in the estimation of the public. We would not do so for anything. We are sorry that such an escapade was ever started in our county, and if it could prevent another, by a much harsher punishment, we would support that punishment. But under the prevailing conditions we would not accept it or leave it.

THE COUNTY STATEMENT
The County statement for the fiscal year beginning December 1, 1923 and ending November 1924 appears in part in this issue of this paper. What does it appear for? What good does it do? Etc? Etc? This statement is printed to show the tax payers just where every cent of their money is spent and how. You pay your taxes and to prove to you that you are not being robbed, this statement is printed. It is the duty of every taxpayer, citizen, woman and child, the last included for fear they are not citizens or tax payers, to read every item. The tax payers should read it to see where their money has gone to, the citizen, woman and child should read it so when they become tax payers, and they all just as well look out, they will be able to take hold of the reins of the county and drive it without financial embarrassment. The statement is not printed to check up on the officials in charge, not at all, but to show all where and how the money of the county is spent. Read it or let it go.

The French War Debt comes up unexpectedly just while when a debt is paid, and then we'll all sit up and take notice.

The cross-word puzzles might be awful, but are not to be compared with the one that deals with the making of a living.

Here it is time to get in the habit of writing a different year. By the time we had got used to writing "1924" it went away and now we have got to get used to writing "1925". Just another sign that times passes only too quickly.

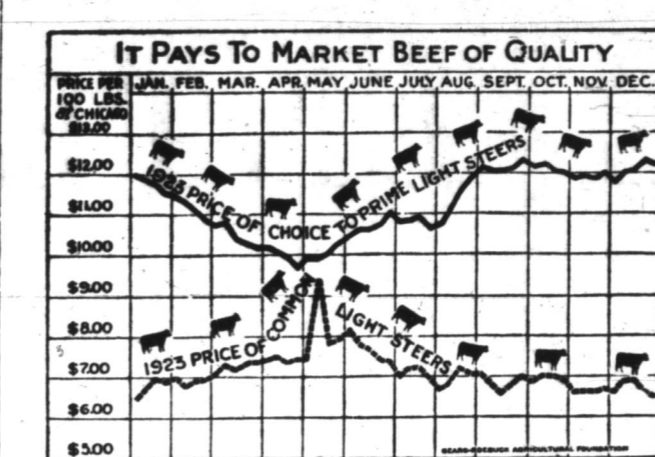

Speaking about debts, but aren't they queer things? If you owe one you are worried greatly and if one is owed you, you still have to worry. Just another sign that the world is full of worry.

Change of Life
"When change of life began on me," says Mrs. Lewis Lisher, of Lamar, Mo., "I suffered so with womanly weakness. I suffered a great deal of pain in my back and sides. My limbs would cramp. I didn't feel like doing my work, and there are so many steps for a woman to take on a farm. I was very anxious to get better. A friend recommended to me and I began using it. I certainly improved. I went through change of life without any trouble. I can highly recommend Cardui."
CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic
At the age of about 40 to 50 every woman has to pass through a critical time, which is called the Change of Life. At this time, great changes take place in her system, causing various painful and disagreeable symptoms.
If you are approaching this period, or are already suffering from any of its troubles or symptoms, take Cardui. It should help you, as it has helped others.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine
"Those who are in a 'run-down' condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions."
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Combined Treatment, both local and internal, and has been successful in the treatment of Catarrh for over forty years. Sold by all druggists.

It is condition and quality rather than weight that decide whether a steer is to be placed in the beef cattle classification. Within the class it is condition and quality that largely determine the amount of profit that goes to the shipper. Choice to prime steers bring from 75 cents to $5.75 per hundred-weight over the common light stock, according to a study made of lightweight steers coming to the Chicago market by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation.

The bulk of the shipments are classified under the grades of prime steers, 1,200 to 1,800 pounds; choice steers, 1,150 to 1,600 pounds; good steers, 1,150 to 1,600 pounds; medium steers, 1,100 to 1,400 pounds, and common rough steers, 900 to 1,200 pounds. These are the classifications of the United States Bureau of Markets.

Prime beef steers are the ideal type, combining exceptional breeding and thorough finishing. Short neck and short legs, smooth flesh and well-filled, bulging briskets are prerequisites. Prime beef steers are rare, even steers good enough to grade as choice are few. They show most of the characteristics of the prime grade, good breeding and long feeding, smooth flesh and thick fat. On the block the quality steer will show a good proportion of red meat covered with a modest amount of smooth white fat. The lean, white firm of texture, will be mellow to the touch. The carcass should carry down full to the hock, being highly marbled with bright lean of a fine grain.

PROFESSOR NOODLE

Dear Professor:
I'd like to ask my sweetheart's dad to let me marry her. But I'm afraid he might get mad and start a massacre. Now isn't there some lucky day for me to see this gent? Perhaps you can suggest a way to win His Nib's consent.
I. M. Dizzy

The first of any month should be a lucky day for you. And I'm inclined to think that he will feel it's lucky too!
