Why The Merchants of Washington Solicit Your Business

The merchants of Washington are making a special drive for business this spring. Their stores are carrying larger and more varied stocks than ever before in their history.

The trade territory of Washington is extending steadily. Washington is now receiving patronage from many of the adjoining counties, and Washington appreciates this patronage.

Washington's slogan, to the people of other counties, is: "Trade at home, and if you can't find what you want at home—TRADE IN WASHINGTON."

Every town loses business that it ought to get. This is true of Williamston, Washington, of New Bern and any other town that you might mention. Therefore, there is nothing out of the way for each of these towns to get some of this "lost business" for itself.

It is a sign of progressiveness on the part of a town or on the part of the merchants of that town to get outside business. The Washington merchants are doing this. They have the merchandise on hand that justifies them in doing it. They are going after business and they are gradually getting it.

Every out-of-town buyer in Washington knows that he will get the same consideration and the same excellent service as though he lived in Washington. He or she is made to feel welcome in any store called upon.

The merchants of Greenville are progressive; so are the merchants of Williamston, of Robersonville and of other towns. Each of them is striving for all the business he can get. This is healthy competition; the kind that brings prosperity and that assures the buying public of the greatest values.

Remember Washington's slogan—"Trade at home, and if you can't find what you want at home—TRADE IN WASHINGTON."

That applies everywhere, whether you live in Bethel, in Belhaven, in Jamesville, in Pictolus or in any other town in this section.

But remember this fact: Washington is glad to have you do your shopping here. Washington wants your business and Washington will give you the service which will merit a continuation of that business.

We'll Fix It

If your watch or clock is out of the running, bring it to us. We'll fix it and give it back to you in nearly as good a condition as when it was new.

Watch and Clock repairing is one of our hobbies. We are really as particular about having you satisfied with a repair job as we are having you satisfied with the goods you buy from us.

To get the greatest amount of satisfaction out of either a watch or clock, it must be inspected and oiled every year or two—once a year is better.

You wouldn't think of buying a new automobile and then trying to run it without oil; neither should you think of letting your watch or clock run year in and year out without a drop of oil. Better let us look after it for you.
