Carelessness Again Takes Its Toll

In the death of the two young men, B. Lee Wilkinson and Robert Cooper, Monday night on the road between Washington and Greenville when the Buick car in which they were riding ran into a negro house and demolished the house and the car.

The greatest sympathy goes out to the parents and relatives of the young men. Nothing could be imagined that would cause a mother more grief than to bring a son home dead.

Another sad feature connected with the tragedy was, that all was caused by reckless driving by a man under the influence of liquor.

A bunch of fine young men of Rocky Mount saw window cards inviting them to Washington to a big dance. They fixed themselves up not overlooking the liquor, knowing that such was permissible on such an occasion. Suffering some delay on the way they used too much of the liquor, as stated by young Rose, the owner of the car. Rose also stated that all had taken liquor except young Cooper, one of those who was killed.

Yet there are those who uphold both liquor and the dance even where here is death.

Mr. Bryan vs. Monkey

"Make Evolution Trial 'Greatest Show on Earth'" finds itself all the way across one of our daily papers. Now, that's a sight, but the question is yet to be answered as to whether or not it should or should not be there.

We can't help but admire Mr. Bryan, for he is standing his ground in spite of his strong opposition, right or wrong he is abiding by his convictions. If we remember the teaching as taught throughout our school training, "stick with 'em until the end and you'll win", and if the teaching has any weight, Mr. Bryan ought to win. Sinclair Lewis says he has disgraced America and that he is ashamed to tour in Europe. Other prominent men say things to the same effect. In spite of it all William J.

remains unchanged. However, the ex-Secretaries of State might find some strong opposition in the person of Mr. Bryan. So the further it goes the worse it gets, and the trouble about the whole thing is none of us seem to know what it is all about.

Evolution, no evolution, monkey, no monkey, neither of these will have much power in the determining of where this generation is going. One minute we side with a certain man who says that we came from monkeys, the next when we look back at our past action and compare them with those of the monkey, we come to the conclusions must have come from man. Of course that is judging from actions alone and not from the biological standpoint.

Comparison of Crimes

A review of the crimes of the day as seen from the pages of the press is alarming. Not only upon the frequency and heinousness of the crime, but our attitude toward crime.

It might be well illustrated by the recent horrible crime committed in our own county which stirred the nation and around millions of people. And it proved a feast for the news papers and agitators of the entire country. About this one crime millions of words were written and spoken.

Certainly there is no justification of the deed even though the perpetrators of the deed believed they were protecting society.

We have crimes, if the reports of the press can be believed, that outstrip the Needleman case. We find under a Greensboro headline dated June 8, the statement that a two months old baby girl was found on the pavilions of Thomas's swimming pool. The same paper of the same date from Winston Salem stated that a one-week old baby girl was found on the door steps at the home of C. S. Richardson of Winston-Salem.

The Greensboro Daily News in a May issue gave an account of an infant found by the road side where it had been thrown while living, but had died from rain and cold; and stated that as being the fourth case of its kind reported in Guilford county, this year up to that time.

Wealth in Its Relation to the Church

What kind of view does the world New York and Rev. Elmer E. Poyet of religion when such leading preachers as Rev. John E. Stratton, New Rossell, N. J. engage in such statements to each other as has recently been made?

Dr. Stratton is pastor of Rockefeller's rich church and Powell tells him that his church should be named "Fakers' Paradise".

To this statement Stratton replied that Powell's church should build an annex for an Ananias club with Powell as a character member.

Money is rapidly corrupting the churches in America. It is buying the pulpits and placing the emphasis on the sermons "Big-Dog philosophy" seems to be overshadowing Christian theology. Of course only for a time because the load of sin disguised in the name of the Church will soon die of its own filth.

A revival of religion and a religious revival, which is needed the more?

One consolation, the pedestrian's life might be in danger, he might have to ride the smoky train, but he does not have to buy auto licenses.

Last year the automobiles killed 19,000 people and injured some 450,000 more. Judging from these figures there will be no more war for the auto is putting up too strong competition.

ATE TOO FAST
South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.
"Just after I married, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.
"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."
"Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating, sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days."

The opinion of Mr. J. O. Sexton, R. F. D. No. 2, Grassy Creek, North Carolina, is as follows: "I have used Pe-ru-na for the last two years and received great benefit. It is fine for colds, grip and flu. I can recommend Pe-ru-na most highly."

How a Pennsylvania Farmer Uses Concrete!
Concrete Improvements on the Farm of Wm. R. Stover, near Greencastle, Penna.
Concrete conveniences like those shown above make any farm a more efficient business place. They save the farmer's time, make his work easier, let him work quicker, and make his place more profitable. Concrete work on the farm does not cost a lot of money. First cost is usually very low because the farmer can do most of the work himself. But first cost is the only cost, because Concrete never wears out; never needs expensive repairs; never burns, rots, rusts or decays.
Plan now to put in those improvements you have always wanted. The few dollars you spend will be a small price to pay for the convenience and service they will give you. Ask any Security Cement dealer how you can do it yourself; or write to the manufacturer for helpful information and practical working plans.
