THE GREATEST CROPE DANCING. FITTING THE CRIME. WHEN YOU GET IT, KEEP IT.

Seven crops of alfalfa in a year, tons of potatoes in an acre, great crops of the wonder crop of this land. But the greatest crop is the human crop. Without that, others would amount to nothing.

Mr. Jones's Star, of Rhydydd, Idaho, tells of a family gathering of the Call family. It included Anson V. Call, 70 years old, of Afon, Wyoming, father of 20 sons and 10 daughters, all alive, healthy and strong. Mr. Call is the grandfather of 90 children, and they are all well. Tell that to your friend who thinks birth control will solve our problems.

Where ignorance, disease, poverty and drink, in the slums, combine to force large families upon weak women that cannot take care of them, birth control may be all that its advocates say. They don't need it in Idaho or Wyoming. What they need there is CHILDREN.

Dancing and religion have long been united. Samuel tells us "David danced before the Lord." He well might, for his rise was rapid from lightweight champion conqueror of Goliath, to ruler over Israel.

Dancing has its proper place, see Ecclesiastes, third chapter, fourth verse, "time to weep, and a time to laugh, a time to mourn, and a time to dance."

The next verse says there is also "a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing." That should be remembered in these wild dancing days.

When you get a piece of this earth, KEEP IT. It cannot be returned. You are your own board of directors; unlike watered stocks, there is only just

SO MUCH OF IT, and it goes up in price. The Indiana gold Manhattan Island for $24. The land in Central Park alone is now worth a thousand millions.

Mr. Hatch got 900 acres at Far Rockaway, New York, under foreclosure, for $40,000, tried to get rid of it but couldn't on account of litigation. When he did sell he got $8,000,000. At today's boom prices, if his son had it, it would be worth $762,000,000. KEEP YOUR REAL ESTATE.

In Indianapolis, punishment is to fit the crime, when one man with his automobile kills another. The killer is to spend one hour looking for a room with the corpse of the person killed. The theory is that it will make the killer think, although it won't bring the dead back to life.

Voltaire had the idea reversed. In "Zadig" a traveling philosopher causes the young widows of India to discontinue burning themselves alive with the corpses of their own husbands. He didn't forbid it, only made a law that before being burned alive the young widow should pass a couple of hours with the handsomest young man in the village.

After that for some strange reason, the widow usually lost interest in being burned up with her aged spouse. Often she disappeared before the funeral.

What a nuisance the human BODY is. Through life it worries us with aches and pains and needs. The spirit is so easily taken care of. It has no rheumatism, no teeth to ache, no gout, no hair to fall out, needs no clothing, eats nothing, supplies what little real happiness we have. And we soon learn to suppress that part of it called "conscience."

Even when you are dead, the spirit takes care of itself, goes off somewhere and the body remains a nuisance. The simplest thing is to burn it up, instead of leaving the work of destruction to slow worms, but many do not like that cremation idea.

Death and what we call it "horror" ought to be most useful. Every time a man thinks of death he should say to himself, "mercy, Oh Heaven! I had better stop thinking and get out and DO SOMETHING WORTH WHILE, for I shall soon be gone, and they will be asking, 'what shall we do with the remains?' and 'what did he amount to?'"

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." NC-161
