Bishops of the Episcopal Church Planning Crusade

In October, 1924, the National Council of the Episcopal Church met for the first time in joint session with the House of Bishops, then convened in New York. Many questions of policy and problems of administration were discussed, with profit, it is hoped to both bodies.

A suggestion which bids fair to be of the utmost value to the spiritual well being of the church was made at this conference by Bishop Darst, of East Carolina. Feeling that the great need of the church today was the awakening of its members to their duties and responsibilities as Christians and citizens, he proposed that a crusade, led by the Bishops with the assistance of outstanding priests and lay men and women, should march through the length and breadth of the country stressing the dominant note of personal evangelism, with its necessary accompaniments of religious education and social service.

Very few of the Bishops had any doubt as to the value of such a crusade, but some question was raised as to its practicability, and a committee, consisting of Bishop Darst, Bishop Brent, and Bishop Slattery was appointed to carefully consider the matter and report to the national council. Bishop Darst was made chairman of the committee.

This report was received at the December meeting of the council. It was felt that such a crusade should be launched, but not in haste, and that a year was not too long a time for preparation. The project will be laid before the general convention, and, with the endorsement of that body, will be carried to the diocesan conventions of the church in the spring of 1926, so that the way may be prepared for the formal launching of the crusade in the autumn.

The plan of the crusade involves the enlisting of at least 100 bishops, priests and lay men and women who will go through every part of the country bearing a message to the hearts and minds of men. They will speak on the great outstanding virtues of the Christian faith—forgiveness of sin, amendment of life, consecration in service, the reasonableness of faith, service to the community and to the world in Christ's name. It will not be a movement to raise funds nor to engage in controversy; its object will be to arouse the church from its lethargy and bring to men a fresh realization of its power and mission.

We use the words of Bishop Darst which give his conception of the crusade:

HOW'S THIS?

HALE'S CATARRH MEDICINE will do what we desire for you—rid your system of Catarrh or Deafness caused by Catarrh. HALE'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves the catarrhal inflammation, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic which acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces, thus restoring normal conditions. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

said, "The crusade may lead the church to the cross; if so, it will accomplish its mission. The crusaders of old went out with uplifted swords to wrest an empty sepulcher from heathen hands. We are praying that our modern crusade may go forth with the uplifted Christ to wrest a living world from the power of evil."

A union of all the Christian churches in such a crusade would be the grandest thing of all ages.

The Concrete Barnyard
on the farm of Daniel Wolfinger at Rocky Mount, Md.

Good Concrete Improvements add a dollars-and-cents value to farm property far in excess of their small cost. They save the time and money now spent in repairing broken-down fences, buildings and other equipment. They make the farmer's daily work easier; keep his stock in better condition; save feed now wasted; and make his farm more efficient and more profitable.

Any farmer can improve his place with Concrete because the things which make Concrete are the easiest materials for the farmer to work with. He can do the work himself, in spare time, and for very few dollars can have needed Concrete Improvements that will be worth many times what they cost. Ask any Security Cement dealer how you can put in needed improvements; or write direct to the manufacturer.
