Peanut Prices Also Interest Farmers

While many farmers are much interested in tobacco prices, nearly all the Martin County farmers are vitally interested in the good old peanut that grows in the ground and poppet every where.

North Carolina is now the leading peanut State as well as the leading tobacco State in the Union, and Martin County is one of the 19 big producing counties in the Virginia belt. The peanut is the best crop the farmer has to pay debts, taxes, and doctors. It does not cost much to produce. The important thing to the farmer in connection with the peanut is the price. And that is the question that interests the farmer at this time.

So many strange things have happened in the peanut trade during recent years that it makes even the wisest fellows guess what the future will show.

Last year, with a very small crop, peanuts sold at reasonably fair prices. The conditions were so favorable that many speculators stocked up pretty well, hoping to unload in the summer and fall at a good profit. That was the most natural thing that could be reasoned out. Yet with the small crop protected by a 4-cent tariff on shelled peanuts, and 5 cents on peanuts in the hull, farmer's stock peanuts steadily went down from $1 to $2 a bag, and could hardly be sold at any price.

A recent explanation of the cause has been given by a man who knows peanuts. He says that the large peanut dealers have imported heavily—more than a million and a half bags of Oriental peanuts, which sell for about 2 cents a pound less than the American nuts, and that they have mixed the heavy imports with the small American crop and sold them all as American peanuts. By this process of deception they have broken down half of the tariff wall which protects the Martin County peanut farmer.

This deception has almost ruined the small peanut cleaner and has paralyzed quite a large number of peanut speculators, because they did not import they did not gain by the deception.

The home farmers should be protected from this deception by branding the foreign-grown product so that the trade would know what it buys.

China raises more than twice as many peanuts per acre as we do; they look even better than ours; yet they are very inferior in actual quality. Not only should the peanut grower be protected against such practices, but the users of peanuts and the various products from them should also be protected against the inferior article, which is sold without being branded.

If Congress will force dealers to write "imported" on every peanut brought in, it will mean one cent a pound to the peanut farmers in Martin county.

The Peanut Growers Association will make such advances that cleaners will be forced to at least pay a fair price again this season.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught. "Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time. "I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found. "Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC164

How Dairy Farmers Make Concrete Earn Extra Profits!

Dairy farmers who have sanitary concrete equipment on their farms score higher ratings and receive extra profits from the sale of milk. Next to healthy stock, sanitary equipment is the most important dairy farm requirement; it builds confidence and brings buyers. Nothing else can take the place of Concrete. No other construction material is as permanent, as practical and economical for the farmer. Its first cost is not unreasonable and its upkeep cost is practically nothing. It never rots, rusts or burns. Vermin cannot hide in Concrete; it is easy to keep clean and the most sanitary material for dairy farm equipment.

When you put in new equipment, or remodel your present equipment, find out how Concrete will serve you better, and at no greater cost. Ask any Security Cement dealer; or write direct to the manufacturer for practical information about any dairy farm equipment you need.
