NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND

Under and by virtue of the authority contained in a certain deed of trust executed to the undersigned trustee by Samuel Winbush and wife, Mollie Winbush, on the 28th day of April, 1919, and of record in the public registry of Martin County, in book A-2, chicken salad, sandwiches, potato chips pickles, and tea, were served at 6 o'clock.

A CORRECTION

In our last Friday's issue we stated in writing of the death of Mrs. C. V. Lanier that she died from injuries received in a fall. In this we were misinformed and later found that her death resulted from an attack of pneumonia. We regret making the error, which was called to our attention by members of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Horton spent Armistice Day in Morehead City. Miss Mary Leggett, of Tarboro, has been spending a few days with her mother.

Mr. W. M. Harrison, of Danville and Mr. Hughes, of the Reliable Tobacco Co., of Washington, were in town yesterday for a few hours. Mr. Harrison is very pleasantly remembered in Williamston, where he was on the local tobacco market for three years, buying tobacco at that time for the J. P. Taylor Co.

Charlotte To Honor Wade Harris at Dinner

The Enterprise has been invited to attend a dinner to be given by the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce on Monday, November 16, in honor of Mr. Wade Hampton Harris's fiftieth anniversary as an editor.

Few men have stood more fearlessly for the principles he regarded as right than has Wade Harris, and his influence has been for the good of North Carolina.

Twentieth Century Club Meet Held Wednesday

The Twentieth Century Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. G. Godard Wednesday afternoon. The program, which has been dealing entirely with contemporary authors this season, was particularly interesting on this occasion when "Babbit" and "Main Street," Sinclair Lewis's two most popular and widely discussed novels were criticized most thoroughly by Mrs. J. H. Saunders. This criticism was followed by a solo, "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," by Mrs. J. S. Rhodes, accompanied by Mrs. Warren Biggs. Mrs. W. B. Watts, substituting for Mrs. C. H. Godwin, gave a reading on Sinclair Lewis. Mrs. Warren Biggs concluded the program with current events. Mrs. Godard served delightful refreshments to her guests, who besides the club members, included Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. W. T. Hunter, Miss Della Peebles, and Mrs. S. S. Lawrence, of Richmond.

Mrs. Godard Hostess to Members of Card Club

Mrs. J. G. Godard was hostess to her card club members yesterday afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock and the following invited guests: Mrs. Oscar Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Manning, Mrs. J. W. Watts, jr., Mrs. Elbert Peel, and Mrs. S. S. Lawrence, of Richmond. Mrs. J. S. Rhodes won the club prize, which was a lovely powder jar, and Mrs. Elbert S. Peel won high score and received the guest prize, which was a hand-painted water set. Mrs. Godard's refreshments, consisting of

Gains 142,000 Members in Year in Schools Throughout United States.

A new high level in peace time membership of the American Junior Red Cross is recorded for 1926—its ranks numbering 5,782,446 school girls and boys—a gain of 142,000.

This unique and powerful children's organization started as a war measure, but today is one of the greatest influences for peace ever known. An increasing participation in local programs of service has hastened their year's growth. It is indicated that to a greater degree than ever pupils in the schools are performing individual and collective acts of service in a true Red Cross spirit.

The success of the Junior Red Cross program, launched last year through cooperation of the Life-Saving Service of the Red Cross, has led to a determination to make it a regular feature of both these branches.

An outstanding feature of the Junior's work this year was the participation for the first time of a Junior Red Cross worker in the disaster relief operations following the tornado in Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana. Schools in many more fortunate localities displayed a keen interest in sending toys and books for the use of the children in the disaster area.

The Junior Red Cross program has flourished not alone in settled communities, but has been extended to Indian schools, and to native Alaskan schools where many Indian children undertake Junior work. In addition, the international correspondence between schools is proving more and more popular. American schools are now corresponding with those in other countries.

Strong Membership Appeal in Red Cross Disaster Relief

Asking themselves "What if disaster should visit our city?" the leading citizens of many communities of the United States have adopted the Scout motto "Be Prepared."

Impressed by the frequency and the wide range of peace time calamities in their country, they have organized their communities with the thoroughness which normal conditions permit, against the possibility of a time when there will be no chance for thought or plan. Red Cross chapters in many localities are similarly prepared.

Godwin on the west, and the new road on the south. Containing 20 acres, more or less, and being the same tract of land conveyed to the said Samuel Winbush by W. V. Ormond on the 19th day of January, 1918, and by record in the public registry of Martin County. Second tract: A tract of land in Williamston township, Martin County, North Carolina, adjoining the lands of Major Latham and John Tynor on the north, the lands of T. S. Hadley, and a tract of land known as the Gus Mizelle land on the east, the lands of Tom Mills on the south, the Greenville and Washington Road on the west, containing 181 acres, and known as the Sam Mobley place.
