Music Hath Charms Probably in no other field of activity has there been such a sudden and immense growth as there has been in the field of music in the last few years. It looks as if the spirit of music has been locked up in the human soul for the past centuries, and has all at once burst forth through all the world.

Music today occupies a very great place in human society, a place undreamed of a few years ago. Wherever you go there is music. In the olden days people seemed to realize and regard music as they did their prayers; they thought it should be used only on very rare occasions. Unlimited time and money were spent on music, and there the thing would stop. The idea in those days was to learn music in order to make a show occasionally, before company. Today music has become a part of the diet of the human family. One waxes music not once a month but every day. One wants enough to satisfy the craving of the inner soul. Having once feasted on music and having learned just how satisfying it is, there is a desire for more, more, more, just as Oliver Twist wanted more soup. Music grows; it is a vital part of many people's happiness today. It belongs to the homes of the hearts.

Scientific tests have proved that music actually soothes and refreshes people who are tired and nervous. Music brings sweet oblivion to troubled minds and as a result there is only peace and happiness. What can be quite so uplifting, pleasing, and so harmless? One simply can not overdo music. Musical instruments in the homes are an investment that pays big interest. A piano, victrola, or radio in the home will create a big interest among the children, it will create within them a love for the home more and a desire to stay at home instead of drifting around from place to place in search of amusement. The boy and girl of today must have something to do to occupy their minds, so give it to them at home and thereby furnish a wholesome entertainment and cultural advantages.

The question is often asked whether the profession of music is overworked. It is not; there never was such a great demand for music, and musicians were never so highly paid as they are today. Everybody can be an artist, but the pleasure that one gets in singing is in playing some musical instrument pays many times more than for the time and money spent in learning music. Music is something that once learned in school is never forgotten, but when a musical education is obtained it is never forgotten. Musicians are often light hearted, care free and happy; they look on the bright side of every life. The dark, dreary, gloomy side of life is never seen by them. Love music.

PAINS ALL OVER Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Weatherby, Miss. Mrs. James M. Hall of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement." "I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercises, walking and going where I pleased, and I got so weak I was not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship. "Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken the fifth bottle, I was going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength. "I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. "I haven't had any more sickness. Ask your druggist for Cardui. NC-145

Another Hospital in Washington to Have To the public generally I wish to announce that I have secured the residence at the corner of Bonner and Water Streets, generally known as the "Harby Home" for the purpose of installing a modern and up-to-date hospital there. Equipment and supplies have been ordered, and I expect that within the next ten days the hospital will be ready to receive and care for patients. It will be our aim to operate in a manner which will prove eminently satisfactory to every one who has dealings with the institution.

Also wish to state that Miss Broome, who has been associated with me as superintendent at the Fowle Memorial Hospital, will serve in the same capacity at this new hospital.
