The Weaking Of Tomorrow

The undernourished child is the most important problem pressing for solution in our state today. Under-nourishment causes rickets (rickets), beri beri, pellagra, conjunctivitis, proptosis, prostration when extreme, insanity, coma and death. It causes disease of the following body structures,—bone, teeth, skin, hair, nails and mucous membranes of the alimentary tract, conjunctiva, sex organs, heart and respiratory and perhaps other structures of the body that we have not time to mention at this time;—and it causes that an under-nourished child grows into a tuberculous and other disease-prone adult and more quickly than he well nourished. There are 250,000 undernourished children in the schools of our state,—the percentage ranging from ten to fifty. It has been stated by some that undernourishment is caused by disease or physical defects; for example: Malnutrition, adenoid tonsils. On the other hand, some think that the under-nourishment is the cause of many defects, for example: Adenoids, hypertrophied tonsils, etc. Any way, all the disease and defects in an under-nourished child should be cured and a complete examination be made by a physician in order to find them all. Then with the Nutrition Crusade, featured and promulgated by the National and North Carolina Tuberculosis Associations by means of money derived from the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals, the remainder of the job is made easier. It should be put over easily by the departments of education and health, the Parent Teacher Associations, the Women's Clubs and Seal Sale agencies cooperating. If interested, write Miss Theresa Damsell, State Director of Health Education, North Carolina Tuberculosis Association, Southern Place, North Carolina. If our country is ever destroyed, it will not be from enemies from without but from the constantly increasing prostration of the unfit and from the improper nourishment of our children.
