Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, and others. The chapter on the tragic life of Mrs. Arnold is well done. Naturally, we are drawn to any account which throws more light on the Lincoln, while Southerners will be greatly interested in the chapter on Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

This book would be an addition of importance to any woman's club; for it is a book to be circulated, not read and closed up in the shelf of one's library.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."

One cent a dose. NC-11
