Wrongly Accused; A New Unit of Measure Found

We feel that we have been falsely accused by the person who wrote the piece in this paper in regard to the basketball game between Jameville and Farm Life, when he said that the Farm Life boys were treated with discourtesy. This is the first time that we have been accused of this before, and we have played and hope to play better teams than Farm Life. Farm Life chose the court that we were to play on.

The reason that the Jameville referee refereed the game in Farm Life is because they wanted him to. If they were dissatisfied with his refereeing, why didn't they complain on the court? Why get us to our back and do it? Why not go about it in a sportsmanlike fashion? This is one of the first teachings of athletics. We go heartily agree that Jameville will never play Farm Life this year anyway. We would like to inform them that they play a very low degree of basketball.

According to our critic's estimation he has raised the unit of measure from a 12-inch foot to a 180-inch foot when he said that our court was 2x6 feet. What did Farm Life have to do with bringing a neutral referee to Jameville? The home team always furnishes a "neutral" referee when one is to be furnished. It was firmly agreed with Mr. John Lilley and Mr. Buck Meadows, who was the "neutral" referee, that he should referee the first half and Jameville the second. It would have been perfectly satisfactory if Mr. Meadows had called the game. It looked as if it was his first officiating.

We are very sorry that Farm Life made the remarks they have. We can not lay it to nothing but sheer ignorance of practical basketball.

"I'm Satisfied"

That has been the answer made by scores of our customers in reply to the query: "How did you like our fertilizers last year?"

TWO IMPORTANT WORDS:

"I'm Satisfied"

They explain why those same farmers are now buying Phillips' Fertilizers again. The big majority of our customers this year is composed of those who bought last year.

They are convinced as to the merits of Phillips' Fertilizers. Convinced of the quality of the goods and the service that they get in prompt deliveries.
