LIBERTY CRUSHING THE LAW by the rank pleasures of the day.

No one would lessen our liberties and privileges, yet we are apparently in danger of destroying them by and through our disrespect for law. Our laws have created and established such an extensive field of liberty that many of those enjoying it seem to have lost their appreciation and respect for them. It has always been regarded as one of the highest attributes of any people to reverence age and parentage and to respect and support the laws. This was even the case when laws were made by despots, czars and cruel kings.

Now, with universal liberties, we disregard and disrespect the democratic laws established by our fathers. Some people give as a reason for this change the lightening of the penalties for lawbreaking. The hangman's rope and the headsman's axe have been laid aside.

The practical disregard for law in our early training seems more likely to be the greatest of all causes for such widespread crime waves as are now sweeping the country. This home is perhaps the weakest point in our social system. We find very little restraint in most homes today. We fail to teach strongly the principles of right and wrong to our children. We are lawbreakers before their eyes in one form or another. Some of us transgress one, some another, according to the respective taste of the individual. These examples of lawlessness by the grown-ups breed disrespect for law and order in the children who grow into criminals of every hue, even to murder, rape and arson. Most of them grow out of the smaller seed of general disrespect for the law. It is now hard to charge any particular class of people with this fault, because it has grown so universal that it strikes almost every home. Where do we find that home where respect for mankind and reverence for God is being taught as in the days gone by? As an evidence that it is not being done in many places, go to the court records of today and there you will find the criminals of the new days, brought up without being taught much of the principles of right and wrong. The waywardness of the youth of today, among both the boys and the girls, makes us wonder if the foundations of the freedom bequeathed us by our forefathers is not being undermined

Most people would perhaps like to see the stream turn and make the road the youths are traveling a little more safe, but nobody knows when the tide will turn.

Most of us lay the blame on somebody other than ourselves, and yet it may be true that more girls and boys get more bad examples from home than from any other place.

It also may be true that many boys and girls are taught more reverence for God and respect for government in a half hour a week at Sunday school than at all the balance of the week at home and on the street.

We should remember that we do not have too much liberty. The trouble is we are using too much. Most of us want all of our own and then some of our neighbor's liberties.

The home teaching of respect for law will preserve us and our liberties, of which we so proudly and so justly boast.

In superior court.

A. M. Smith vs. J. Lass Wynn, et als
By virtue of an execution directed to the undersigned from the superior court of Martin County in the above-entitled cause, I will, on Monday, the 1st day of March, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the courthouse door of said county sell to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy said execution all the right, title, and interest which the defendants have in the following described property, to wit:

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Men Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevin, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of three times, then I would be very constipated. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." One cent a dose. NC-161 a corner; thence east to a stob, a corner; thence north to the said road; thence across said road to the end of a ditch; thence along said ditch, nearly north to a tagged pine, a corner; thence along the line of chopped trees nearly east to two large short tagged pines, a corner; thence along a line of chopped trees nearly north to a sweet gum in a small drain; thence nearly northwest with a line of chopped trees to a maple on the main run of Keepers Branch; thence down the various courses of said branch to the mouth of Flag Pond Branch; thence up said branch to the Noah Godard line; thence with the said Godard line of old chopped trees to the aforesaid old road; thence along said old road to the beginning, said to contain 51 acres, more or less; and being the same premises deeded to C. R. Moore by Granville Moore by deed of record in book E-1, at page 526 in the public registry of Martin county.

All the fixtures and furniture now located in the office of the Bank of Jamesville, including vault door, safe, adding and posting machines, typewriters, desks, etc.

Torrid Tobacco Stove
CURES TOBACCO WITH OIL
"Sleep While Others Work"
Every One Knows the Worry and Sleepless Nights You Have During the Tobacco Season. This System Eliminates this Trouble

Mr. H. M. Avent,
State Distributor,
Rocky Mount, N. C.
Kinston, N. C., Sept. 20, 1926.

My dear sir: I installed two sets of your Torrid Tobacco Stoves this year, and I am delighted with their works. I have been curing tobacco for thirty-five years with wood and coal, and I have cured this year with oil with less trouble than I have ever cured any before, as they require very little attention and I did not have to sit up with them at night.

There is absolutely no danger of fire.

Yours very truly,
W. E. FORREST.
