South Norfolk Man in Wreck Here Thursday

Too Much Liquor Only Explanation Offered For Bad Smash

Too much liquor was the only explanation that a Mr. Lawrence, from South Norfolk, Va., could give as the cause for his automobile accident yesterday, when he dashed through the fence at the James Everett farm, on the Hamilton road, and landed in a ditch.

It was thought at first that he was dead, but the strong smell of liquor and the faint pulse beat gave hopes to the possessors that the shock combined with his drunken stupor was the only trouble.

Mr. W. A. Cherry, of the State Highway Department, brought him here to Dr. York for examination, where it was found that he had received a pretty hard blow on the side of the head which had stunned him, and that he was well under the influence of liquor. The greatest need of the patient was a long nap, which he was allowed to take.

Mr. Lawrence is about 30 years old, a native of Bertie County. He married in Martin, but now lives in South Norfolk, and is a man of fine reputation. It is understood that he is not a drinking man ordinarily, and this time he fell, through foolish friendship.

Everett-Norton

A marriage which came as a surprise to their friends here and Plymouth, where the bride made her home until a few months ago, occurred Wednesday evening in Greenville, when Miss Rita Norton and Mr. James Robert Everett were married in the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Jones, of the Greenville M. E. Church, South. They were accompanied to Greenville by Miss Frances Gurganus and Mr. Carroll White, of Washington, who witnessed the simple ceremony.

Mrs. Everett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Norton, and is a very popular young lady of the younger set here.

Mr. Everett, who is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Everett, is very popular with a host of friends in this section. He is a farmer and also operator of a mill located a short distance from Williamston.

They left yesterday for Norfolk and Virginia Beach, where they will spend some time. Upon their return home, they will be at home at Mr. Everett's country home on the Hamilton-Williamston highway.

TO INCREASE STOCK WITHIN THE NEXT SEVERAL DAYS

The Norfolk Undersellers, who are selling the Anderson Crawford stock of merchandise, announce that they have just bought the bankrupt stock of John A. Rose and company of Henderson, N. C.

The stock of goods inventoried $100,000 and the fixtures are valued at $18,000. They state that they expect to bring the merchandise to Williamston in a few days where it will be sold at attractive figures.

Charleston Contest To Be Put On Here

There will be a Charleston contest in the old town very soon. It will take place at the Strand Theatre and four of the best "Charlestoners" will perform. They are all locals, too. So watch for the date.

Potato Growers Have Good Year

Eastern Carolina growers of potatoes are having a good season, in spite of the late frost and very dry weather. This applies to most of the potato belt, only a few exceptions being found.

Aurora, the leading center, has already shipped nearly 900 carloads and will make it a thousand cars before the season ends, which means about 200,000 barrels, and will bring to the farmers in the Aurora section almost a million dollars.

The prices for this week around Aurora have run from $5.75 to 6.25 per barrel for the best stock; off grades being from 50 cents to $1 lower.

North Carolina shipped 294 cars Wednesday, being exceeded by only one State, Virginia, which shipped 311 cars. Oklahoma was third with 93 cars.

S. S. Meet At Robersonville

Was Held Wednesday and Thursday; Big Attendance

The annual session of the Martin County Sunday School association was held Wednesday and Thursday at Robersonville.

The program consisted of lectures by Mr. D. W. Simms and Miss Daisy McGee, of Raleigh. They were full of good thought and to the point on Sunday school needs and Sunday school work.

Mr. Simms happens to know so much about life itself that he can hook his audience up to the heart of a proposition, giving them the close personal touch that is so essential for leadership, especially in the Sunday school, where officers and teachers come before children, the best judges of human nature, of right and wrong, and of deception in the world.

Miss McGee is equally good in her line of specialty.

The sessions of the association were all well attended by the Sunday schools in Robersonville as well as by other Sunday schools of the county.

The attendance pennant was won by the Williamston Christian Sunday school.

The ladies of Robersonville served an elegant dinner on the grounds Thursday.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Everetts, in the Christian Church.

Sermon Subjects at Memorial Baptist

"Chief obstructions to Kingdom Progress" will be the theme at the Memorial Baptist Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, the sermon subject will be, "The Sins We Have Never Committed."

In the morning sermon, the pastor will make an honest effort to catalog the outstanding obstructions which stand in the way of the "going on" of the Kingdom work. There are many such; but if you were choosing the outstanding ones, and condensing for a short sermon, which would you choose?

At the evening hour, instead of talking about the sins which have been committed, the pastor will talk about those we haven't committed. All of us can say with great rejoicing, "Thank God for those sins we have never done."

An effort is being made to give to the people who attend these services matter of merit. Substantial thought on live themes, presented in a minimum of time—this is our aim.

Out-of-town visitors, as well as those from other churches, are especially welcome.

The Enterprise Sunday School Lesson in Brief

June 27.—"What we have learned from the Book of Genesis."

By C. H. DICKEY
For three months we have studied the Book of Genesis. Had we studied it three years, still we should not have mastered it. But it is a rare privilege to spend so much time on this book, especially so if the helps studied have been valuable and the teachers good.

This is review Sunday, and we are to glance over the book to notice the high points we have covered.

First, in God in the act of creating the world. These opening assertions in the Book of Genesis constitute a grand poem, the sweep of which is as wide as the earth. Here "we look into the mighty workshop of the Creator, and see sun and systems flying from anvil of creation like sparks of fire."

And how sublime are the statements. No explanation is offered, scientifically or otherwise. God is creating; all things had their beginning in Him.

Noah comes in for consideration, as he is chief in a great event. The world, so newly created, was soon filled with sin. Every imagination of man was evil continually. The flood was sent to destroy the world, leaving only a few righteous ones to re-people the world and to start all over once more. But it did not seem to succeed very well. For it takes something more than oceans of water to wash away the guilt of sin.

So God starts with a family, and Abraham at its head. Down in the far country where was Ur, there was Abraham in his environment of sin and idolatry. God chose him and set up a family, and from this time on events concern themselves largely with this family which is, eventually, to give the world its Redeemer. The flood could not wash away sin; neither could the blood of bulls and goats, but "the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses from all sin."

Isaac succeeds his noted father. He seemed not to have been an extraordinary man, but most of us are not. And there was a function for him to perform. He was a man of peace—He refused trouble with the Philistines, and digged again the wells of his father. It is the old wells of life which still have the finest currents of life!

Next is Jacob, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; how familiar these names. How much they have meant to the religious history of the world! This Jacob was a supplanter, and secured the birthright which was not his. And in after years, he himself lived to be deceived.

Our chief interest in Jacob lies in the sons which were his. There were a dozen of them. But of these twelve—as we think of them—Joseph soon steps to the front in our imaginations and thoughts, and the future history of the Jewish people is closely involved with him.

Despised of his brethren, he was sold into slavery, from which place he rapidly rose to the Prime Ministership of Egypt. Famine drove the rest of his family to him, and they were settled in Egypt. They both grew, and after a time were a slave nation in that land. But they were still God's people; and one day they would be delivered. One day Moses will go down, under God, and bring them up again, and mighty and stirring events will take place with this chosen family of the Lord.

III. Fine arts.
A. Music. America has the opportunity to become the great musical center of the world if music becomes a part of our lives, not the possession of the high-brow few: (1) Feature community singing in all community activities. (2) Conduct a music memory contest. (3) Observe national music week. (4) Collect folk music in Sunday school and church.

B. Art: (1) In the home. (2) In the school and community; (a) have exhibits of industrial arts; (b) plan to beautify the town; (c) remove signboards from highways; (d) lectures on art.

C. Literature: (1) Study groups. IV. Public Welfare.

A. Child welfare: (1) Study your community with respect to the rights of childhood. (2) Promote child health centers, weighing and measuring children.

B. Public health: (1) Familiarize yourself with the ordinances and actual activities of your health officers.

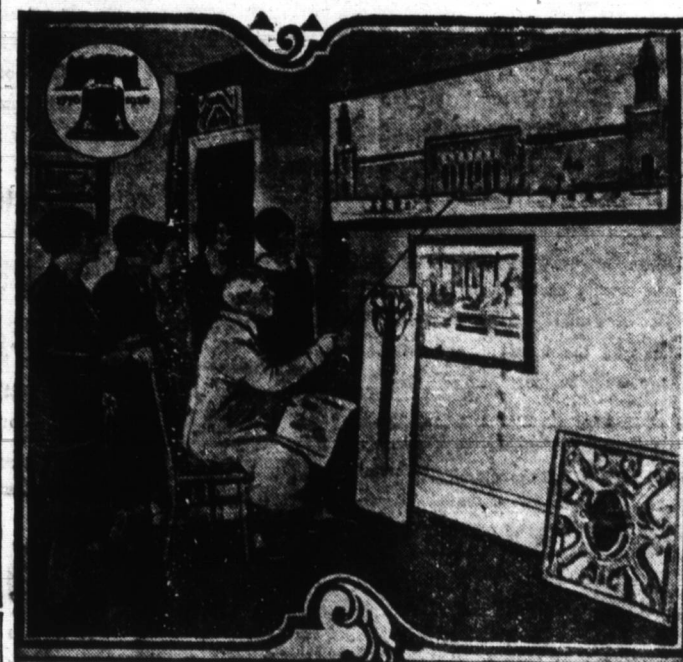

C. Charity.
Standing committees: (1) House; (2) Membership; (3) Social; (4) Finance; (5) Press; (6) Program; (7) Legislative.

These changes will be voted on at the September meeting. The election of officers will also take place at the same time.

A resolution was passed, as follows:

FAMOUS ARTIST INSTRUCTS

William de Leftwich Dodge, famous mural artist, in his studio at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition grounds in Philadelphia, where the 150th anniversary of signing the Declaration of Independence will be celebrated from June, to December, of this year, giving instructions to a group of young artists who are creating the "Rainbow City." Mr. Dodge is the color expert for the exposition, and every bit of color work done must be approved by him.

N. C. Farmers to Meet in July

Many Expected to Attend Conference at State College

The annual farmers and farm women's convention will be held at State College at Raleigh July 27, 28, and 29.

Thousands attended from all over the State last year, and a much larger gathering is expected this year, according to Secretary J. M. Gay, who is arranging the program and plans for the meeting.

Reduced railroad rates may be procured by writing to the secretary. State College will furnish rooms free, and meals may be had in the college dining hall at 25 cents.

It will be a busy convention, where all kinds of information will be given. There will also be time for a little fun and plenty of recreation. Fifty dollars will be paid in prizes to the best hog caller in attendance. First place will get $25; and second and third -15 and $10.

Smith-Whitley

On Wednesday morning at 10:30 at the home of J. L. Hassell Miss Alice Whitley, of Washington, N. C., was married to Mr. Arthur H. Smith, of Virginia, by Elder Sylvester Hassell.

There were quite a number of people from Washington to witness the ceremony.

Miss Whitley is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Bettie J. Whitley and the late Benjamin Whitley, of Washington, N. C., and the young man is a very promising business man of our neighbor State of Virginia.

After the ceremony, amid showers of rice and happy felicitations, the bridal party left by motor for Richmond and other northern points.

Child of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson Died Tuesday

Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 the little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Nicholson died following a week's illness of colitis and meningitis.

Everything was done to save the child that was possible, but nothing availed.

He was buried at the old Nicholson homestead Wednesday afternoon, with Elder Will Grimes conducting the service.

2 Killed Over Garage Dispute Near Greenville

Two Stancill Brothers Shot to Death Last Night

Leland and Wilfred Stancill, brothers, aged 31 and 23, respectively, sons of P. T. Stancill, prominent Pitt county farmer, are dead as the result of a shooting affair which occurred on the former's farm, four miles from Greenville, about 8 o'clock last night. Edward Evans, 23, and Francis Johnson, 12, half-brothers, are held in the county jail without bond on the charge of murder.

According to reports reaching here the double tragedy was the result of a dispute over the parking rights in a garage located on the farm of Leland Stancill, and where Evans and Johnson also live.

The dispute is alleged to have started when Evans and Leland Stancill both tried to obtain parking room under the shed simultaneously. Words followed, and a fist fight resulted. Evans and Johnson are reported to have gone to their home, located not a great distance from the scene of the shooting, procured their firearms, a shot-gun and rifle, and then proceeded to open fire on the two Stancills.

Both Stancills were hit by the first volley. They were rushed to a hospital, but the doctor pronounced both of them dead upon arrival.

The arrest of Evans and Johnson followed, and both are held pending an investigation by District Attorney Davis and Coroner Wilkerson.

Otis Briley, a youth in company with the Stancills, was also slightly wounded in the shooting.

All of the parties are well connected and prominent in Pitt county.

Leland Stancill leaves a wife and children.

Edward Evans was a traveling salesman, representing the Greenville Produce company. He has been coming to Williamston on Wednesday of each week for some time and was here last Wednesday.

The coroner's inquest will not be completed before tomorrow.

Wynne-Andrews

A marriage which came as a surprise to their friends and one of interest to friends here and in the surrounding counties was that of Miss Vella Andrews and Mr. Frank Earl Wynne, which took place Thursday morning, June 24, at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Advent, Rev. Stephen Gardner, rector of St. Peters Church, Washington, officiated in the absence of the bride's pastor, Rev. Pardo.

Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present. Mrs. W. B. Watts rendered the wedding music, using the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as a professional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

Mrs. Titus Critcher, twin sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Mr. Bruce Wynne was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a becoming gown of grey crepe-Elizabeth with a black picture hat and carried pink roses.

Mrs. Wynne, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Andrews, is a very fine young woman, and her many friends welcome her home again, she having spent the past 18 months in Norfolk, Va. She graduated from the Williamston High School with honors.

Mr. Wynne is the son of Mrs. Lamb B. Wynne and the late Mr. Wynne. He is chief clerk in the local post office and one of the town's most promising young men, being held in high esteem by all those whom he serves in his public office. They are both descendants of old families of this section.

They left by motor immediately after the ceremony for Asheville and other western North Carolina points. They will return about July first.

Carolina Telephone Co. Meeting at Morehead

Misses Mary Clyde Leggett and Geneva Cook, operators, John W. Manning, resident manager, Mr. L. H. Miller, engineer, of Rocky Mount, and Knox Porter, of Tarboro, left this morning for Morehead City, where the Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Co. is having a three-day conference.

The company has chartered the Ocean Beach Hotel, and the employees will be entertained there.

Leaders in all phases of telephone work will lecture and lead the conferences. Various entertainments have been planned for the guests and a great time is looked forward to by them.

Drunken Negro Walks Into Car

A colored man walked into a car driven by Wiley Sanders, who lives about half way between here and Windsor, as Mr. Sanders was en route to Windsor yesterday. The man was so intoxicated that he got into the trouble, but he was also so intoxicated that he did not suffer any serious injuries. At first it was thought he was dead, but when he rallied it was found he was practically O. K., except for a bad headache, which the collision did not give him.

Cold Weather Hurts Weevil

County Agent Says Season Has Been Against Boll Weevils

We passed by the county agent today and asked for news. He said there was none, except he thought everything was safe; that crops were a little late but were apparently all right.

We made special inquiry about the boll weevil. He said he had seen none, that owing to the long cold spell and late spring he hardly thought they would be so bad this year.

Asked about tobacco worms, he said they were worse than ever, both the bud worm and horn worm.

Speaking of hog cholera he said there was less than at any time since he had been in the county, yet he was treating more hogs than he had treated during any other season. He thinks the farmers have learned that it is safer to guard against cholera before it strikes than it is to wait and try to cure it after the hogs begin to die.

Everetts Woodmen To Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the M. W. of A. will be held in the hall at Everetts, Monday night June 28. All members are urged to be present as there is some important business to come up at this meeting. The new semi-annual pass word is to be given at this meeting and all members should be present to get this in order to attend any meeting they have opportunity to attend in some other camp.

CARRIES HAMMER IN A PAPER SACK

"What you got in your sack" was the question asked "Sallie" Gurkin as he ambled from lunk back to his work. "A hammer" was the reply. A hammer was right, but the answer had to be affirmed, before it could be taken at face value.

A thing with a handle and not so troublesome to carry needs not to be wrapped up, in our estimation. No explanation was to be had for the peculiarity; so we thought of the lady who was so bashful that she put stockings on the table legs when her fella came to see her, and it was after thinking of this that we changed the conversation.
