Good-by Sunday

We are now confronted with a court action to legalize Sunday baseball. Already the fishing reel is used in high places, even though the law says you shall not fish in North Carolina on Sunday. The church is having a struggle to keep enough attendants to take up collections and make up the choir. Collections at church do fairly well, because the people throw in a few shekels rather than make any sacrifice of their personal pleasures.

Do We Need More Population?

Does Eastern North Carolina need half a million new citizens to move in from the other corners of the world? Being strictly an agricultural section by nature, we would have to put them in the fields, which would make them nothing more than market glut have to build up a system of small home-town markets or be run out of the peach field by Georgia, Delaware, and New Jersey. It is admitted that the tobacco supply fills all the mills and a few more acres would glut the market; and of course everybody knows we are raising too much cotton. Then who would we get if a half million new citizens should be rained down among us? Would they be better than the million now here, or would they be worse? It could scarcely be expected to be a better average, which would not strengthen our whether economically or not we are not arguing, but we are now producing double as much per acre as we did 20 years ago. If we had another 500,000 people, we would glut the market. Currituck County is raising about enough sweet potatoes to supply its market field. Wayne, Beaufort, and Pasquotank can supply the early demand for Irish potatoes. Moore and Lee are flooding the markets with peaches to such an extent that economic experts say they will social unit. It may be that the cry for a large influx of immigrants to eastern Carolina is more an American ideal for more and larger things than a real sensible economic need. Our population is steadily growing by an increase of its native stock, where there is found the purest in the Anglo-Saxon race. If we bring another half million foreigners here, there will be no room in the end for our own children to be born. Another thing that can be said of eastern North Carolina: It is fully keeping pace in production of crops;

CHILDREN'S ILLS

Arkansas Lady Says She Has Never Found a Better Laxative Than Theoford's Black-Draught.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—“We use Black-Draught in our family of six children,” says Mrs. C. E. Nutt, of this place, “and we find it a good bowel regulator. I give it to my children for colds and constipation, or any other stomach disorders, and it certainly is very helpful. I have never known it to fail them. Where there are so many children, it is a good idea to keep a laxative on hand, and Black-Draught is what we use.”
“I have taken it myself for indigestion. I would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach. I would also feel a tightness in my chest. I took a good dose of Theoford's Black-Draught when I felt that way and it would relieve me. I would feel better for days.”
“My husband takes Black-Draught for biliousness. He says he has never found its equal. When he has the tired, heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught night and morning for a few days and he doesn't complain any more. I sure do recommend Black-Draught.”
Sold everywhere. Get a package of Black-Draught, today. Costs only one cent a dose.

Our Farmers Say:

The Williamston Tobacco Market is the Best Market on which to Sell Your Tobacco

Because:

- For honest, fair, and four-square dealings it stands at the top.
- It is not so large that the personal atmosphere is lost; yet it is large enough to offer all due advantages.
- Its personnel consists of the county's outstanding tobacco men; among them are such men as Messrs. W. I. Skinner, W. T. Meadows, and others.
- Its equipment has been enlarged, having several acres of floor space, storage facilities, and redrying plants.
- A cordial welcome awaits every one at Williamston. They want you to feel at home, and a trip there will certainly make you feel that way.
