THANKSGIVING PARTY

Mrs. C. A. Harrison entertained last Tuesday evening at her home on Haughton street with one of the largest parties of the season. The house was decorated with lovely baskets of chrysanthemums and green plants. The reception hall, music living room being thrown en suite where there were tables arranged for rook and bridge.

The guests were met at the door by the hostess, assisted by her little daughters, Miss Katherine and Blanche and Miss Carrie Delle White gave them cards to find their places at the tables.

Miss Rebekah Harrison served salted peanuts and fruit punch while the guests enjoyed the card games. Mrs. Tom Brandon made high score in bridge and was given a lovely feather pen and ink stand to match. Miss Clyde Hassell progressed the greatest number of times in rook and was given a brass card tray.

Mrs. Harrison assisted by Miss White and Mrs. C. R. Fleming served an ice course, the ice cream being in the shape of turkeys with iced cakes, fruit cake and bright-colored nuts to help make the plates more attractive. Favorite gaily painted Thanksgiving colors and decorated with turkeys were found to contain a little present, a fortune and a dunce cap for each guest.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Harrison's hospitality were, Mesdames R. G. Harrison, Myrtle Brown, John W. Manning, Charles Mobley, Elbert Peel, A. Anderson, B. W. Hardy, John A. Manning, M. S. Harris, R. A. Pope, G. H. Harrison, A. R. Dunning, J. G. Station, J. W. Andrews, T. B. Brandon, L. C. Bennett, H. M. Stubbs, F. W. Hoyt, C. B. Hassell, W. K. Parker, Oscar Anderson, Roy Gurganus, N. C. Green, Clayton Moore, F. B. Cone, Frank Barnes, E. P. Cunningham, G. W. Hardison, J. S. Rhodes, J. H. Saunders, S. R. Biggs, M. D. and J. W. Watts, Jr., J. D. Woolard, Whit Purvis, Joe Pender, C. H. Godwin, J. G. Godard, C. B. Clark, W. E. Dunn, J. C. Anderson and P. H. Brown and Misses Clyde Hassell and Carrie Delle White.

Randolph-Nissen

The following announcements were issued this week:

"Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stafford Nissen have the honor of announcing the marriage of their daughter, Reby Brown, to Mr. Justus Fitz Randolph, Jr., Saturday, the twentieth of November, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six. Winston-Salem, North Carolina."

Mrs. Randolph is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nissen, and is one of Winston-Salem's most attractive and charming girls. She is a graduate of Salem Academy and also an alumna of Randolph-Macon College at Lynchburg and of Castle-on-the-Hudson at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Mr. Randolph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Justus Randolph, of Washington, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, and is in business with his father in Washington, where the young couple will reside.

The groom is the grandson of the late Thomas B. Haughton, who for 20 years was pastor of the Episcopal Church in Williamston.

His mother, Miss Haughton Randolph, was born and reared here, and has a host of friends who are always interested in her and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph will be at home after December 12 at Washington, N. C.

WILLIAMSTON GIRLS LOSE TO ROBERSONVILLE TEAM, 35-0
Williamston's hopes for even a single score were shattered in the first few minutes of play when the high school girls' basketball team met that of Robersonville there last Tuesday night, and the locals lost by a score of 35 to 0.

Robersonville's points were made with all ease and by a well-coordinating team. The Williamston girls fought nobly for a lone point, but the newness of the game and the size of the players were too much to overcome and they were forced to remain for the greater part of the game on the defense.

While no hope is entertained for handing their Tuesday night's opponents a defeat, the local girls are sure of making a better showing next Friday night when the two teams meet here.
