The Work of the Women's Clubs

That the women of the State of North Carolina are playing no small part in the politics of our State is seen by the inquiries made to senators and members of the House. These inquiries were made through the women's clubs throughout the State. Earnest in their efforts and ever striving to better the conditions of our State, the various women's clubs are not limiting their work to local communities, but are combining their efforts to effect a greater work for all.

Opinions have been a keel of the senators and representatives who are now at work in Raleigh relative to certain matters of vital interest to the people of the State. The work is being handled in a systematic way, and while the efforts of the ladies may not bring about astounding results, it is safe to say they will not be ignored.

Praise in full measure is due the members of these clubs; for since the legislatures all over the country began to function there have been lobbyists and agents in the capitals asking for favorable bills.

The women are asking for that legislation that will reduce the need of the divorce laws, legislation that will affect the well being of the people as a whole.

Surely their attempts are worthy ones and they are made with all sincerity; we trust that law makers of our State will give them deserved attention.

The New Year

The New Year comes and brings with it bright hopes, brighter ones than those furnished by 1926.

The old year went out leaving things better than it found them, and when it did go it handed over to its young successor peace and good will and stores of plenty.

We believe the moral standard is just a little higher and the social fabric just a little stronger than a year ago.

Financially, 1926 was a great year for all the big folks. The railroads and other big interests made as much if not more money than the law allows in most cases. Labor was on a favorable shelf. It bids to occupy an even more favorable position before the year is over. Railroad labor has just been granted a raise by the court of arbitration. The raise amounts to seen and a half per cent over the 1926 scale, which means good times for railroad workers. They, of course, received this raise by demanding it.

Now comes the farmer, one-third of the American population. He is not quite so well off. He has suffered low prices and depressed business prevails in his line. The farmers have made good crops. God has abundantly blessed them, but the price fixers and the money folks have not been so generous. They have given them the lowest prices for what they have contributed than to any other class of people. So the farmer complains, and justly does he do so. Yet there is hope for him with a better diversity of crop and a small cut in the high cost crops such as cotton and tobacco.

WILLIAMSTON AND THE EXPOSITION

The exposition at Windsor propounding the greatness of the lowly goober is over, and as for Williamston it would have been just as well if the show had never been held. Sure, we were there, had a glorious time and thought the exposition was fine. But there was not one thing other than the presence of our citizens that would have the people know we lived just 12 miles west of Windsor. Our county, divided from great old Bertie by the Roanoke, remained on this side of the river and never even considered sending or preparing an exhibit. And while we proclaimed our greatness direct from hundreds of mouths to the throngs who visited Windsor, we sincerely hope no bad impressions were gained from many of our people's actions.

Martin county missed a good chance to tell about a good county and its towns.

The legislature is at it again. Look out for laws. Pray for the day when they meet and repeal some that are of no value but are doing harm.

UNDERTAKER

Funeral Director and Embalmer
Ambulance Service Day or Night
WILLIAMSTON, N. C.

December 30th, 1926.

To my friends of Martin County:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the many kindnesses shown my family and myself while a citizen of your community. I assure you that it is with sadness that I am leaving the County of Martin, but when duty calls (especially when it is to mother or dad) I feel that I should answer it. I have sold my business here to Mr. B. S. Courtney, whom you all know and who is in a position to meet any competitive price and furnish you with quality and A-1 service. Mr. Courtney will very soon be moved to his new store, where he will run a first-class furniture and funeral establishment. Any kindness that my warm friends of Martin can do for Mr. Courtney I will greatly appreciate. I will stay in close contact with Mr. Courtney, and any service that I can be to him or to any friends of Martin County I assure you that I will do so.

Hoping my friends of Martin a very happy New Year, I remain,

Yours,

F. L. Edwards

WEAK, RESTLESS

Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.

Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here.

"My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent and got a bottle, and seemed like all the time I grew stronger."

"I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female trouble, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep like a top. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles."

"My present health is just fine." Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength. Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs, and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.

Sold everywhere. CARDUI VEGETABLE TONIC
