Jamesville School News

Jamesville, Jan. 20.—(Special to The Enterprise).—The Parent-Teacher Association of the Jamesville School met last Tuesday night in the auditorium of the school and after the business meeting had been finished a good program was enjoyed on the subject, "The Child."

Miss Essie Jordan read a paper on "The Relation of the Parents to the Child." Mr. J. L. Jones spoke on the need of cooperation between the parents and the school for the good of the children. Then the most important part of the program came when Dr. Warren, county physician, read a paper on "Guarding the Child's Health." Dr. Smithwick also spoke some very helpful words.

Misses Ocie Walters and Mildred Hedrick rendered a very pretty piano duet.

The association is young, and it is hoped that every patron of the school will lend a helping hand in making it a very successful part of the school and community life. Mrs. J. L. Jones was unable to serve as president and offered her resignation, which was accepted and Mrs. C. A. Askew was unanimously elected to fill the place.

The association is planning to do some real work and try to benefit both home and school.

TOBACCO GROWING

You can talk about tobacco
Just all you may
But it's the biggest item
When you come to pay
The man who fed and clothed you
While you tended your crop
Now you raise the devil
Just because of a drop.

I tell you, if you're lazy,
Don't you plant the stuff;
For she'll surely make you hustle.
Be it fair or rough.
But if you pay attention,
Keep it clean and pure,
She'll turn you out the greenbacks
You may well be sure.

But if you are neglectful
And don't top it right;
And let the suckers linger
Till their blooms are bright,
You'll surely be discouraged
When you reach the sale;
And go home disappointed
As you weep and wail.

You'll cuss the warehouse captain
And the buyers, too,
Because they all condemned it,
When the blame's on you.
Now, if you plant tobacco
For a money crop,
Be sure you watch the suckers
And the blooming top.

—W. C. Gardner.
