Belhaven and Pantego Left Out Entirely

"Beaufort Cohorts Invade Plymouth on Road Question" was a headline in a recent issue of the Washington Daily News. Under that heading it printed some of the proceedings of a meeting held in Plymouth Monday night, when Washington, Plymouth, and several country sections were heard.

Under the law laying out the State highway system a route, number 97, runs from Plymouth to Pantego. Indications are that a road along this route does not please Washington, and so that town is trying to get hold of the Pantego end of the road and pull it up to or near Washington.

Such a change would operate against the Pantego and Belhaven sections. It would help Washington, and Plymouth seems to be afraid to speak.

It now seems, according to the Daily News, that the change is to be left to the State Highway Commission.

According to the trend of a talk made by Commissioner Kugler on a recent visit to Williamston things looked good for Belhaven and Pantego, as he then said that the waste places and those sections of neglected recognition should be given attention. The present route of No. 97 is through just such a section, although this territory embraces some of the best farm lands in the entire State. But after looking over the present line up, it would seem just as well for Belhaven and Pantego to say "Good-night, No. 97."

State-Wide Game Law Is Needed

The movement for a State-wide game law in North Carolina is worthy of the consideration of our people. Any kind of law that will best preserve the game and at the same time give all the people of the State a fair opportunity to hunt would fill the bill.

In Bertie County it is permissible to kill deer for only a few months in the fall season, which closes December 31; while in Martin County there is no law against killing deer at any time. The Roanoke River is the line between the two counties, which is no barrier to the range of deer, which may feed on one side of the river during the night and sleep on the other side in the day.

Similar laws apply to almost all kinds of game. You can shoot anything you find in one county at your pleasure while the same things are protected in other sections.

What we need is a uniform law and shorter open seasons.

Since the advent of the good roads and the automobile, men are eating breakfast at home, driving 50 miles and killing squirrels when they come out of their nests at sunrise. The same applies to turkeys, deer, birds of all kinds; in fact, to everything.

Unless some protection is given the wild animal and the game bird will soon be gone from this country.

Prostituting Our Natural Resources

America is the only country in the world that has turned her greatest natural resources, the electric force, over to the trusts and fails to manufacture nitrogen.

While there is a great demand for the placing in operation of the Muscle Shoals plant for the purpose of manufacturing for our own consumption we prefer to stand by and see the fertilizer and power trusts take it over.

We have protected the great interests through our patent laws until there is nowhere for the open free man to go. Even the great Mr. Ford found himself blocked and brought to his knees when he was bidding on Muscle Shoals and looked around and found every electrical device in the land owned and controlled by one or two concerns, which are highly protected by our patent laws.

We find that many of our most

NOTICE FOR TAX DEED

To Nathan Harrington, or to any other person or persons interested in the following land:

You will take notice that H. T. Roberson, sheriff and tax collector for Martin County, sold at the courthouse door of Martin County on Monday, the 7th day in June, 1926, "2 acres of Simpson land listed in Jamesville Township by Nathan Harrington," for taxes for the year 1925, and at said sale I was the highest bidder for said land and the said sheriff issued me a certificate of said sale.

You will take further notice hereunder, that unless you redeem said certificate, I shall demand a deed for said land on or after June 7, 1927.

January 21st, 1927.
C. G. GURKIN.

Things I Ought to Think About

By JAMES D. TAYLOR

THE KING OF KINGS

There are those who probably believe they can make their way without the leadership of an unseen power. I have a friend who so expresses himself. It is good to know, however, that the most of us believe in God and know that nothing worth while can be done without Him.

You will find some who claim that the Bible is nothing more than a book of history. But it is good to know that this Book is still the world's "best seller," and that there are thousands and thousands of us who still try to live according to its rules and regulations.

And here and there one will find those who claim that Jesus is not the Divine Son of God; that He did live once, but was no greater than Paul or any other good men of His day. But it is good to know that the most of us believe otherwise.

When ten thousand years have rolled away, the majority of parents and teachers and preachers will teach the young that Jesus has always been; is still, and always will be the King of Kings.

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.—Prov. iii:5.

INDIGESTION

North Carolina Lady Says She Had An Awful Time With Indigestion, Till She Took Black-Draught.

Pilot Mountain, N. C.—"For several years I suffered with a bad case of chronic indigestion," says Mrs. Sam C. Inman, of this place. "I had bad spells with my stomach. At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I was in pretty bad shape."

"My husband had been using Theford's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a chronic case of constipation and, by getting relief from this, I found my general health was much better."

"We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so."

TEXACO FLOWS

But you need not wait for the first cold, snowy night to make sure of your oil. Try it with any other oil—and Texaco—anytime. Place the two bottles in a jar of crushed ice and salt for half an hour. The temperature will drop to about zero, yet Texaco flows freely.

When it begins to freeze, any motor oil not free of paraffin, begins to thicken

Then begins the starting resistance that burdens your battery—when every moving part is wiping its working surface bare of lubrication. One short minute of this action is more destructive than many miles of ordinary driving.

No such condition is necessary—Texaco Motor Oil flows at 32°, at zero—and below. For Texaco is free of paraffin wax, tars and cylinder stock. Be sure that your oil meets the severe test of winter driving. Golden Texaco does.
