Two Good Business Men

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison have more time to wear out Edison are the two best business men in the world. They each want to abolish one of the working days of the week, and run on a five-day schedule. It is perfectly plain that Mr. Ford wants folks to have an extra day to ride, so they will wear out more Fords. And Mr. Edison wants the folks to

Special-Session Talk

All of that talk about a special session of Congress being called by President Coolidge is to be taken lightly. What fooled the Congressmen was the Coolidge smile of delight. The only time he ever smiled being when he told Congress good-by. So the fellows imagined the president was smiling because he loved them so well, and that he would call them back to Washington to spend the summer with him. This shows the president to be more frank than the average woman, who waits until the unwelcome guest says

THE LETTER BOX

AN APPEAL TO THE PARENTS OF WILLIAMSTON

At the last regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association (February 10) I was made president. I appreciate the fact that the nominating committee thought me capable and shall do my best, but a president and the associate officers never made a society of any kind.

We must have cooperation of both teachers and parents for this organization.

The young folks of today need mothers and fathers very much alive to their every interest; their education, recreation, and especially their associates.

Do you know that your child's teacher sees more of your child than you do? Do you know that teacher personality? If you only know what that child tells you, you have a biased opinion, whether good or bad.

One of the aims of the parent-teacher association is to create a better understanding between parents and teacher. If you have been attending, you know this is so, if you have not, come out, meet the teachers. It will help you, help the teacher, and very much help your child.

The hope of Williamston, its churches and schools lies in the future generation. Let each one of us parents do our very best to make them more capable men and women than we are.

I am, yours to serve,
Mrs. W. C. LIVERMAN.

ANOTHER LOYAL MEMBER OF THE EVERETTS TEAM

Dear Editor:—In writing about Alphonso Roebuck's loyalty to his team you failed to mention the loyalty of Wiley Crawford. The boys called Wiley at 7 o'clock and told him to meet them at the depot by train time. Wiley walked the three and one-half miles and arrived there on time. His loyalty was expressed in practically the same manner as the loyalty of Alphonso Roebuck.

A Good Law

The legislature passed one bill at the recent session which is in direct conflict with the liberties of certain classes of people. It may be that it will not stand because it is a blow to the personal liberties of some people, yet we are of the opinion that it is a good law. It prohibits drunken people from driving automobiles on the roads of the State. The penalty prescribed is not less than 30 days in jail.

If all the laws passed by the 1927 session of the legislature were as good as this law, then our State might look on its lawmakers with pride.
