C. D. Carstarph, jr., and Bill Peel left Saturday night for Atlantic City, where they will attend the annual national Shrine convention.

Miss Carrie Lee Peel left yesterday afternoon for Greenville, where she will attend the summer sessions of the East Carolina Teachers College. She was accompanied by Misses Margozet and Ruth Manning and Rev. C. O. Pardo.

Bishop Thomas C. Darst, of Wilmington, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Pardo during his stay in the city over the week end.

Bryant Carstarphen has arrived from Duke University to spend the summer at home.

Mrs. W. C. Manning and daughter, Miss Margaret and Elbert Peel, jr., spent the week end in Wilson with Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Lawrence.

Miss Frances Williams is in Norfolk visiting her mother, Mrs. Carrie Biggs Williams, who is convalescing from her recent operation as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Perry spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Vance Bunting in Bethel. They carried little Miss Sallie Wilson Bunting home after a week's visit with her people here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mobley and little daughter, Della Jane, spent Sunday in Wilson visiting relatives.

Rev. T. W. Lee is attending a minister's training school being held at Duke University last week and this week. He came home from Durham to fill his regular appointment at Hamilton Sunday.

Mrs. Acca Hearn, of Greenville, is visiting her brother, Dr. W. E. Warren, this week.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Biggs returned Sunday from Memphis, Tenn., where they attended the annual meeting of Kiwanis International.

Miss Bill Purvis, of Kittrell, and Miss Chloe Lanier, of Henderson, visited relatives and friends here last week.

Mrs. Grover Godwin and son, Grover, jr., of Asheville, are visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mr. H. T. Warren returned to Durham yesterday after visiting friends here during the week end.

Leads Class at McCallie School

John Thompson

John Thompson, above, who graduates from the McCallie School, Chattanooga, Tenn., at the close of the present term, had led the senior class with his scholastic grades this year, his name appearing consistently on the McCallie honor roll for high averages.

With sixty-five boys, a number of whom are Mississippians, in the graduating class at McCallie, John's record is most significant. He would have been named Valedictorian of his class but for the fact that he is ineligible, having been at McCallie during his senior year only.

William E. Cox, Jr., of Robinsonville, Miss., won first honor for the year and will deliver the Valedictory address.

These two youths have been outstanding leaders at McCallie, where a number of Mississippi boys enroll each year.

John Thompson is the son of Mrs. J. A. Dorrah of University, Mississippi.

Mr. Pete Leighton, of Edenton, was a business visitor here yesterday.

Mrs. Lavenia Mings and Miss Mary Davis Hardison, of Petersburg, arrived here Friday to visit relatives for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover W. Hardison, are on a motor trip through the Shenandoah Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biggs, of Raleigh, spent the week end here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pope and Dr. J. H. Rhodes visited in Washington Sunday afternoon.

Boyd Hight and Gaylord Harrison motored to Laurinburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frizelle, of Snow Hill, were visitors here Sunday afternoon. Mr. Frizelle is defending Frank Bazemore, alleged murderer of Gordon Yelverton.

Mr. S. W. Baker returned to his home in Washington, D. C., yesterday after visiting friends here during the past few days.

The first run to the beaches came during the past week end, when many local people spent part of Saturday and Sunday at Eden House and Pamlico.

Messrs. Will Hardison and Herbert Manning, of Griffins, were business visitors here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robertson and family, of Ahsokie, spent Sunday with Mr. Robertson's mother, Mrs. J. L. Robertson.

Miss Emma Robertson has returned from Greensboro, where she taught in the schools during the past session.

Miss Estelle Crawford has returned from Belhaven to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Fannie Crawford.

Miss Minnie Robertson is home after teaching the past year in the Winston-Salem schools.

Mrs. W. H. Booker returned home Saturday after visiting in Greensboro, Winston-Salem, and Dunn.

IT'S A KNEE AGE
Shapely or ill formed, thin or plump, nicely rounded or knobby, knees are IT. This is the "Knee Age," as anyone, who is not blind, can readily see. Buy your Hot Rolls from the Sally Ann Bakery—they're good. Maybe Ann Pennington, whose knees are her fortune, started it. Perhaps it was the logical development of the short skirt, but regardless of the impulse, the modern young

MISS HELEN GRAY JONES ENTERTAINS
Greenville, June 10.—The home of Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Jones was the scene of a pretty tea on Wednesday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Helen Gray Jones, entertained in honor of Miss Annie Ruth Jones, the daughter of the late Dr. C. M. Jones and Mrs. Jones, of Grimesland, whose wedding to Milton Moye, of Williamston, will take place on June 22nd.

The lower floor of the home was used on suite and was profusely decorated with varicolored garden flowers in which yellow predominated, and numerous yellow tapers were effectively used. The color scheme in the dining room was pink and white, being emphasized with sweet peas, larkspur and lighted tapers. Sweet peas formed the center piece on the table.

As the guests arrived, they were cordially greeted by Mrs. H. F. Jones and Miss Ernestine Forbes and introduced to the receiving line. In the receiving line with the hostess were Miss Annie Ruth Jones, bride-elect, Miss Mary Jones, and Mrs. Norman Edwards, of Grimesland, Miss Lillian Hooker, another summer bride-elect, and Miss Lucille Winn, of Clarksville, Va., home guest of the hostess.

From the receiving room, Miss Margaret Fleming showed the guests to the punch room, where Mrs. W. W. Lee and Mrs. Guilford Smith served delicious punch. In the rear hall, Miss Margaret Cone Tucker had charge of the register.

Miss Ada Jones showed the guests to the dining room. Here Mrs. H. A. White and Mrs. Loula Fleming were seated at the table serving cream from large silver platters. Misses Virginia Jones and Elizabeth Moore, of Grimesland, and Miss Rose May Jones assisted in passing ice cream, cakes, and salted nuts.

Mrs. Lee Hannah bade the guests "adieu." The occasion was very enjoyable and a large number of guests called.

woman, and a big percentage of those not so young, are showing their knees for the whole wide world to admire—or laugh at.

Fresh bread at the Sally Ann Bakery—the best baked.

When skirts first peeped above the ankle line, ankles came in for adornment. That was what started the craze for silk hosiery in the first place. Gradually skirts grew shorter, and the silk part of stockings grew longer, to keep pace with the skirts. Last year the cry in hosiery was silk to the knee. Already that slogan has gone into limbo. The cry now is "silk all the way up," and many merchants are wondering how far is "up."

The Sally Ann Bakery cooks the best pies, tiber shure.

It was Sir Thomas Lipton, that wind-bronzed, salty sportsman, who knows tea as a business, yachting as a sport, and, apparently, pretty women as a recreation, who remarked not so long ago that "when women pay 30 shillings for a pair of stockings, I think they are entitled to show at least 29 shillings and 6 pence worth."

Whether by deliberate intent or typographical error, one New York tabloid quoted the noble old sportsman as saying the women are entitled to worth.

show "30 shillings and 6 pence Just try the Sally Ann products and you say they are delicious.

At any rate, hosiery is now a good third of a woman's costume, and the most conspicuous third, at that. Small wonder, then, that astute merchants are capitalizing this fact. References to the silky sheen of knees to the perfect fit, to the alluring attractiveness of the silken knee have all found their way into good advertising copy. "Colorful Knees," "Beautiful Knees," "Flattering to the knee" are a few of the fine-turned phrases that have dripped from the pens of the ad writers. If you want to sell hosiery, don't use up all your adjectives on the ankles. Give the knees a chance.

The Sally Ann Bakery can justly use adjectives to describe its products for it puts those ingredients in them that make the adjectives stand—adv.
