Raleigh Did the Wise Thing

Raleigh did just as was now owned by the State. No matter how many faults a fair man may have, they are overcome by the good they do. Developing better farming, better stock and poultry raising, better education and better home building.

with clean hands. If the case against him had not been quashed, and the woman whom he had assailed had been permitted to relate her version of the case, Needleman might now be paying an added penalty for his folly. Needleman kindled the fires that burnt him and is in no way entitled to the same sympathy that he would have had had he gone in with clean hands.

Needleman Affair Again in Limelight

Needleman's case in Martin County has a long history that has been a source of the famous Needleman scandal. Those who were overtaken with grief, shame and curiosity, that they ventured to take part in the attack on Needleman, as well as any citizen of this great State, the mistake they made was to take the penalty like men.

Now, Needleman comes into the courts asking damages. He will probably get something. But one lesson he has learned: Men will not permit lecherous curs to haunt the sacred precincts of their home without asserting their wrath, although it is regrettable that the assailant's fell into the grave error of taking the law into their own hands in this case.

Needleman was not behaving in accordance with the law of the land when he provoked the cause that brought about his downfall. He looked much of gain into the game

Now that the stigma has been buried in the past for two years and a half it is very regrettable that the whole matter is to be reheated in Federal court in a damage suit. This will again put the whole matter in the headlines of the newspapers throughout the land, and will give a black county and a good people a good eye in the estimation of the country.

Where Our Money Goes

The question so often asked, "Where does all the money go?" is one of the very easiest questions to answer that I have ever asked today.

An examination of the papers held in the office of register of deeds of Martin County this week showed that there were 17 automobile mortgages, and 7 crop mortgages, the latter given of course, to procure living expenses and farm supplies. There were two land mortgages and three miscellaneous papers, making 29 in all; considerably more than half of them being for automobiles.

ing fabulously rich, because the very same condition exists everywhere. Men are spending all they have for automobiles and mortgaging all their property and promising all they expect to have for their goods. And there is no relief in sight, and little hope of any in a long time to come.

Since self-respect has lost its power over so many people, who seem to care so little for the laws of decency and the laws of the land, heavier punishment is the only corrective force left. The courts will have to function with greater force.

Liberty—A Sadly Overworked Word

Liberty seems to be the most overworked word of the lawbreakers and the bigot.

where and permits its votaries to exercise what they call personal privilege that former generations would not have permitted under any circumstances.

We have a publication in the nation's capital that calls itself "Liberty," and denominates itself as a magazine of religious freedom. Yet it seems to never be so happy as when it is jabbing at religion. It seems to be willing for religion and its influence to reign in heaven, but when it comes to earth and tries to make communities better, then it begins to balk. It is unwilling for the state to make a law that coincides with the principles of religion without calling it religious bigotry.

The demand for liberty has come near overshadowing the church's influence, and the liberty demanded tends in nearly every case to undermine the religion of our fathers. If the broad freedom demanded—that is, let every man do as he pleases—is granted, the church will be more helpless than ever to exalt the name of God, because the liberty demanded undermines rather than exalts God.

Their appeal is for the favor of those who are unwilling to yield a single privilege for the advancement of the community in which they live. It is strange to see many people praise the Pilgrims of old and yet curse the pilgrims of today. It is ignorance to say that religion has ever had greater tolerance than it has today. It stands ready to forgive every-

It is a far-fetched idea—yet apparently strong in the minds of some people—that a churchman should retire and not exercise his governmental rights, but should leave the law making, judging, and execution of the laws to liberty-loving bootleggers, gamblers, Sunday desecrators and their allies, who do not want to conform to the principles of truth and justice taught by the Master.

Heavier Punishment Needed

The Durham husband who found his wife entertaining when he returned home unexpectedly and who proceeded to beat up the gentleman who was being entertained by wearing out a bed slat over him and then beat up his wife with the fragments of the slat should be pensioned by Durham County.

But the Harnett County recorder did not give long enough terms to the Dunn white woman who was entertaining a negro in her bed room while her invalid husband lay sick in another room last Saturday night. The negro got only three years on the Harnett Roads and the woman two years in the Dunn jail. Too

Not Worth the Risk

The risk is greater than the saving and not worth while when the home, eyesight, or maybe life itself, is endangered by "home cleaning" of apparel or fabrics to save a few cents. Let us do your dry cleaning—first because ours are the most modern methods—therefore best; second, because we can do it so much better because we are equipped to do such work; and third, because we can give you prompt service at very lowest prices—and really much more cheaply than you can do it at home. Phone us (58) and give us a trial.

BADLY RUN-DOWN

Kentucky Woman Had "Terrible Time" Doing Her Home Work. Strength Returned After She Took Cardui.

Shelbyville, Ky.—"Several years ago," says Mrs. Alven Jesse, of this place, "my health was very bad. I was very much run-down. I was in such a weak, nervous condition that I was not able to do my housework."

"I struggled to keep up, because I had to, but many a time I spent hours in bed, trying to force enough strength to go through the daily routine."

"This condition went on for some time, until I heard about Cardui, which some one told me was good for such ailments. I gave it an immediate trial, and, I am thankful to say, my improvement was rapid. I soon was able to do my housework with ease and comfort. I felt fine and I looked so much better."

"This spring I was not as well as I had been. I was ill in the winter with colds, which left me weak. So I sent at once to the store for Cardui and began taking it. In just a little while I was feeling much better, my strength returned and I was able to get my work done easier and with less effort."
