N. C. SOLONS TO MOVE REPEAL OF WAR TAX ON CARS

3 Per Cent Levy on Autos Only Excise Tax Remaining on Transportation

WAR-TIME MEASURE

Carolina Motor Club Leading Fight Which Will Mean An Average Saving of $18 Per Car

North Carolina members of Congress will vigorously support the movement to repeal the 3 per cent war excise tax on passenger automobiles and buses, according to expressions received by C. W. Roberts, of Greensboro, vice president of the Carolina Motor Club.

The automobile excise tax is the only war levy remaining on any form of transportation. It was enacted October 4, 1917, under the emergency war revenue act and provided a flat tax of 3 per cent on passenger cars and trucks. In February, 1919, the rate was elevated to 5 per cent and a similar levy made on tires, parts, and accessories. In July, 1924, the accessories tax was cut to 2 1-2 per cent and trucks wholesaling at $1,000 or less were exempted. In February, 1926, the 3 per cent tax on trucks and the 2 1-2 per cent levy on parts and accessories were repealed, and in March of the same year the 5 per cent levy on passenger cars was reduced to 3 per cent.

Out of 45 classifications once burdened with war excise taxes 43 have been granted complete repeal. The levy, enacted nearly 10 years ago as a war measure, remains on automobiles and firearms.

"This obviously discriminatory levy yields about $70,000,000 annually," Mr. Roberts stated, "and on December 31, 1926, the total revenue on automotive equipment had amounted to $1,039,071,746.53. This tax is collected by the government through the manufacturer; but it is added to the price of the automobile passed on to the dealer and ultimately collected from the motorist. Average retail price of cars is $835, and repeal of the tax would mean an average saving of $18 per car. Every manufacturer has agreed to cut prices the amount of the abolished tax on cars.

Senator Lee Overman and Congressmen Chas. M. Stedman, Wm. C. Hammer, A. L. Bulwinkle, Lindsay Warren, and R. L. Doughton have reiterated their opposition to the tax which is being found by the Carolina Motor Club and 907 other clubs comprising the American Automobile Association, as well as a dozen other national organizations."
