dining room were all thrown en suite. The music room and dining room were decorated with lovely bowls and cases of pink and crimson dahlias, and in the living room tall vases of yellow chrysanthemums, and bowls of marigolds were used.

The high-score prize, which went to Miss Margaret Everett, was a lovely piece of lingerie, and Mrs. Robert Everett was presented, for consolation prize, a perpetual score card.

Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Brandon, assisted by Miss Carrie Dell White, and Mesdames C. A. Harrison and J. D. Woolard, served delicious ice cream and cakes, carrying out the Halloween idea in the colors with little Halloween baskets filled with salted nuts.

Among those present were members of the school faculty and wives of the tobaccoists here for the season. Mrs. W. C. Manning jr. played several piano solos, and Mrs. Harper Holliday sang, these selections adding much to the attractiveness of the occasion.
